THE TANEYTOWN FAIR.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR CONGRESSMAN GOULDEN HELD—MANY CANDIDATES ON THE GROUNDS.

With the band playing "The Star-Spangled Banner" the American flag was raised by B. O. Slonaker, master of ceremonies, at Oliver's Grove, near Taneytown, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the eighteenth annual State Grange Fair was underway. The weather was perfect, and about 2,000 persons were on the ground.

The morning exercises were devoted to a memorial service to the late Congressman Joseph A. Goulden, of New York, who owned several farms in that section and who was one of the promoters of the Grange Fair. During the services the flag was at half-mast.
Mr. Slonaker made a short preliminary address and eulogies were delivered by Rev. S. R. Downey, pastor of the Taneytown Presbyterian Church; Dr. C. Birnie, of Taneytown; Michael E. Walsh, Weston Grange; Joseph B. Brooks, Medford Grange; George A. Leister, Snyderburg Grange, and Milton Morelock, Silver Run Grange. Letters of appreciation to Congressman Goulden's services in the House of Representatives were read by a number of his colleagues. The choir of the Taneytown Reformed Church sang several anthems.

The afternoon was given over to politics and politicians, particularly of the Democratic faith. All the Democratic candidates for State offices had been invited to make addresses, but Senator Blair Lee was the only one to appear.
A notable feature of this year's exhibition are tents of the various granges, in which the members will keep open house during the fair.

The amusement concessions are more numerous than formerly. They are grouped on what is known as Gayety lane. Merry-go-rounds, a ferris wheel, darkey minstrels, photograph galleries and various catch-penny devices vie with each other in attracting the nickels of the crowd.

The poultry exhibit is one of the most interesting features of the fair. The entries, while not so numerous as in other years, are well worth seeing. The awards were made Tuesday by Milton Overy, the superintendent, and Jacob Eberly, the judge.

Wednesday was devoted to agriculture. Dr. H. J. Patterson, of the Maryland Agricultural College, presided. Addresses were delivered by B. John Black, master of the Maryland State Grange, and G. M. Alford, State agent in charge of county demonstration work.

Two of a Kind.

In a town many miles from Bath a tramp was brought before the judge for vagrancy and stealing rides on the cars. The case was presented to the court in due form and the judge asking the tramp if he had anything to say in his own behalf.

"Yes, Judge, I have," replied the wayfarer.

"Let's have it, then," replied the judge.

"Your honor," stated the prisoner, "over in Bangor I have a sick wife and a family of small children, and I have a letter from my wife asking me to come home, and that is the reason for my beating my way."

"I believe you are lying," said the court. "I myself have a letter from your wife, telling me that you are a worthless fellow and that she does not wish ever to see you again."

The tramp at this brightened perceptibly.

"Your honor, we're both of us lying for I have no wife," he said.

"Get out of this," ordered the judge, laughing as the tramp hiked away.

SOFT PEDALLING.

EDMUND BREESE AT OPERA

The Story of the Play is as Follows.

Pledging to revenge the execution of his brother, whom the District Attorney caused to be convicted, Richard Allen, a quaint individual who takes delight in concealing his identity by playing the role of a valet to an extravagant young man in New York, plots for the downfall of the prosecutor and educates his cleverest ferret, "Three Arm Fanny" with a view to having her fascinate and marry the District Attorney.

The Master Mind, under various disguises, informs the District Attorney that he will receive the four aces at certain intervals and when he receives the ace of spades, the end will be near.

Richard Allen, known as the Master Mind, conceives many diabolical plots looking forward to the ruin of his enemy, the District Attorney, and finally succeeds in arousing his anger and jealousy, and is about to crush the unsuspecting Attorney when "Three Arm Fanny," who has really fallen in love with her husband, pleads with the Master Mind to withdraw and the Master Mind, who has come to love Fanny, himself, does withdraw through love for her, and disappears, to be seen no more.

The powerful gang of crooks, over which he held formidable leadership, is disbanded and the District Attorney, not knowing that Fanny is a reformed crook, goes on his own way, becomes Governor of the State, and everything ends as it should.

The public should appreciate the shows given at the Opera House by Messrs. Reese & Samlos, the proprietors, as they are all high-class productions with the most famous motion picture stars. Every Tuesday and Saturday will be devoted to the best films that can be produced, and the public should show their interest by attending.

Just Be Sure.

"Gawge Washington Ab'ham Lincoln Christof Columbus Andy Jackson Jefferson Davis! You all come in dis heah house dis minute, fo' I tan you all!"

Mandy was yelling at the top of her voice.

I waited, expectant of a covering, obedient regiment, which I expected to see file past, says a writer in the New York Telegram.

There rushed by one little kinky-haired pickaninny.

"Of course, it is none of my business, but that little fellow seems to be the most obedient child you have."

"Suttenly he am," she replied. "And he's all I has, too."

"But you called a round dozen different names?"

"All the names you done heard me call is his'n. We done give him them names so when he's growed up and his name's called out in co't white folk will sure know he comes from a quality family!"

A Spinster's Warning.

She may have had experience in matrimony from what she said, but to all outward appearances she was a spinster. She had been sitting in the courtroom of a justice of the peace while he was preparing to marry a couple in his private office. There was too much laughing in the office to suit the spinster, and she let everybody know it.

Finally she had stood the laughing of the bride-to-be long enough, she thought, and she squeaked the following in a high-pitched voice:

"Marriage is not to be laughed at. It is a serious thing like going to church."—Indianapolis News.

Slightly Previous.

A colored man who had contracted a debt some years ago with one of our merchants, came to town the other day and called on his old creditor.

"Didn't you splain to me dat if I settled up dat account you would give me a 'lowance,' and the merchant waited for the colored individual to pull out his pocketbook.

"Well, sir, I haven't got de money jus' now, but I thought I'd come in and get de 'lowance; my wife wants to get herself a shawl."—National Monthly.

So Different.

"I always did dislike men who have no ear for music," said one girl, "and now I dislike them more than ever. Charley Nevergo called to see me yesterday evening. At eleven o'clock I went to the piano."

"And played Home, Sweet Home?" asked the other girl.

"Yes. First I played it as a 'ballad. He didn't move. Then I played it as a waltz, a polka and then a ragtime."

"And what did he do?"

"He said, 'Gracious, Miss Jones what a jolly lot of tunes you know! And all so different!'"

Taking Him Down a Little.

An effeminate, self-opinionated young man entered a restaurant the other day, and after he had ordered lunch the waitress, who was well known for her obliging disposition and ready wit, handed him a newspaper so that he might profitably while away the few minutes that would elapse before he was served.

"Thank you, Josephine," he said, familiarly, "but I prefer something funny to look at while I am eating."

The waitress looked at him contemptuously, then replied:

"That need occasion you no inconvenience, Percy; there's a looking-glass straight in front of you!"

SUNDAY'S ATTENDANCE SURPASSED LAST YEAR'S OPENING.

Emory Grove's camp meeting opened last Saturday night with a mobilization of forces under the directorship of Rev. Carlisle L. Hubbard, pastor of Monument Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

Services were held Sunday as follows: Devotional 7.00 a. m., led by J. L. Tucker; experience meeting 8.00 a. m., led by William T. Conn, president of the Association; preaching 11.00 a. m., and 8. p. m., by Rev. Robert Watt, D. D., District Superintendent Easton District, Wilmington Conference; preaching 3.00 p. m., by Rev. W. W. Adams. At 6.50 p. m., the Young People's Meeting was conducted by Rev. S. C. Coale, D. D., Pastor of Oxford Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore.

The attendance was larger than last year's first Sunday. The big tabernacle was comfortably filled at the afternoon and night services.

Next Sunday a record breaking crowd is expected. Rev. Edwin Forrest Hann, D. D., pastor of Cookman Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, will preach at 11.00 a. m., and 8.00 p. m., and Rev. Francis A. McCoy, D. D., pastor of Waugh Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, will preach at 3.00 p. m.

Another drawing card for next Sunday will be Homer Rodeheaver, the great musical director and trombonist, connected with the "Billy Sunday" campaigns.

Mr. Rodeheaver, because of a conflict of dates, was compelled to cancel his engagement at Emory Grove for August 20th, 21st and 22nd, but will be there on next Sunday, the 15th, and Monday, the 16th.

European War.

Petrograd reports that the Germans in the Riga district of Northwest Russia, near Kovno and in the Vjepsz and Bug regions, have been repulsed by the Muscovite forces, near Ostrow and along both roads between Chelm and Vladova, with heavy casualties.

The Germans, on their part, assert that they have occupied Lakow, 40 miles northeast of Ivangorod, and Zambrova, and that the Russians are in retreat along the entire front between the Bug and the Parazew, with Field Marshal Von Mackensen following them. Vienna also adds her claim to continued victories in the Vjepsz and Bug districts.

The Germans, according to Petrograd, made another naval attack in force in the region of Riga, but put to sea when the Russian shore batteries opened upon them.

The Montenegrins again having assumed the offensive against the Austrians, heavy fighting is now in progress in Herzegovina, in Northwest Russia and Poland, in Asiatic Turkey, and probably on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

The British Admiralty announces that destruction of a Turkish gunboat and an empty transport in the Dardanelles by a British submarine and the destruction of the British auxiliary cruiser India in the North Sea by a German submarine.

British aeroplanes and a destroyer bombarded Zagagik, near Smyrna, and French aviators dropped bombs on Zweibrucken and Saint Ingbert, to the northeast of Nancy, in which eight persons were killed by bombs dropped from aeroplanes.

Frequent Austrian attacks on Italian positions in Cadore are reported from Rome, which declares that the Italians have succeeded in holding all their recently taken positions.

Former Premier Venizelos of Greece has returned to Athens, where the pronouncement of his policy, expected to have an important bearing on the Balkan situation, is being awaited.

For Curbstone Market.

One thing needed, among many others for this city, is a curbstone market, where our citizens can go with their market baskets three times a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday—and have it filled with fresh goods and won't have to wait several hours for a wagon to come to the door and possibly not at all.

A number of citizens have suggested this market scheme to our citizens and all have considered it as being a good move in the right direction.

A number of years ago we had a market in this city, but for lack of patronage the market was closed.

A curbstone market costs practically nothing. All parties have to do is to load their various provisions on their wagons and bring it to the city and back up to the curb of a street, which place will be selected and sell their goods to the patrons.

It is said Messrs. Smith & Reifsnider would consent to the use of the curb to their lot on John street, if such a market could be started.

An Embarrassing Question.

The Youngs had dropped in unexpectedly upon the Baerys just as dinner was about to be served. Mother, who was somewhat disturbed, called Helen aside and explained that there would not be oysters enough to go round, and added: "Now, you and I will just have some of the broth. And please not make any fuss about it at the table."

"Little Helen promised to be good and say nothing. But when the oysters were served, Helen discovered a small one that had been accidentally laded up with her broth. She could not remember any instructions that covered this contingency, so, after studying the situation a while she held the oyster up as high as she could on her spoon and piped out:

"Mamma, mamma, shouldn't Mrs. Young have this oyster, too?"
