WESTMINSTER, MD.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 9, 1916

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For United States Senator, DAVID J. LEWIS, Allegany County.

For Congress, J. FREDERICK C. TALBOTT, Baltimore County.

Meeting of Directors.

The Board of Directors of The Democratic Advocate Company will meet in the Advocate office on at 2 p. m., for the purpose of declaring the semi-annual dividend payable June 30 and to transact such business as may come before them.

J. H. BILLINGSLEA, President.

COUNTY LEVY 800N.

Preparations are now being made for the County Levy for Carroll county. The taxable basis of the county is $23,403,484.

To raise the necessary funds to pay for the county's expenses will accordingly mean a considerable tax rate.

The two matters that absorb much of the county levy are the public roads and public schools.

The school board has asked the Commissioners for an amount necessary to support the school system next year, which is $80,000. In recent years the public schools have cost much more than formerly and the legal requirements demand the expense.

It is true that a high tax rate is far from an inviting suggestion. Loading a county with debt helps to load the individual also and his own burdens are thus increased.

The County Commissioners are thorough business men and do the correct thing. In their burden of stating a public account they have our sympathy.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE IN SCHOOLS.

The increasing acceptance of the idea of compulsory attendance in schools is one of the most gratifying signs of progress in the South at this time.

The South is today about the only considerable portion of the civilized earth in which it is thought fit and proper for a careless and ignorant parent to bind his children for life in the bonds of ignorance, blind them for life to the light of knowledge, and cripple them for life in the struggle for existence; and this fact is a blot upon our boasted civilization, a blot we should like to enlist every man, woman and child in our Progressive Farmer family in helping wipe out.

The argument of "personal liberty," "the rights of the parent," etc., which have been so long invoked in this matter cannot stand the light of reason. What about the "rights of the child" and his own God-given right to "liberty" of mind through the emancipating power of knowledge. And as for the parent, we may well say in the language of the great philosopher Huxley "I have liberty to do right; I will thank any man to take away my right to do wrong." The right to keep a child in ignorance is "a right to do wrong," and it should be taken away from every careless parent in the South, as it has already been taken away from such parents nearly everywhere else outside of heathendom.—The Progressive Farmer.

ACCUSE U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE OF SWINDLE.

A pretty row in regard to the King road drag is described in Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio. It has to do with a road drag alleged to have been invented by D. Ward King, of Mattland, Missouri, and appropriated by the Federal Department.

King split a log in two and made a drag of it for work on dirt roads, we are told. It cost from fifty cents to three dollars and it revolutionized the method of working that type of road. If King could have patented it and collected royalties his fortune would have been made.

Then, the Department of Agriculture discovered King and his drag. A bulletin was prepared which told how to build and work the drag and what a good thing it was.

Then the high brows of the Office of Public Roads in the Federal Department got hold of the thing. They seem to have been peevish over the simplicity of the drag. There was nothing to hang any long words or technical phraseology on.

"But the dint of high-browed the drag up to $18 or $20, giving elaborate drawings and scaring a man to death over the complexity and expense of it, the Office of Roads managed to provide itself with an excuse for omitting the name of King, and labeling the contraption as a department device. The friends of King rose up in protest. They charge that the Department stole King's idea, and then distorted it out of all chance to retain its popularity; tried to make it so expensive that people would avoid it; and, further, told things about it and its work that were positively untrue and unjust.

"Here is a case of department high-browing that really seems to require attention. In the first place, the department people practically stole the idea and theory of the drag from Mr. King without giving him credit. In the second place, they undertook to convince the public that an expensive method of construction was necessary in order to build the drag. In the third place, they alleged that the drag would not do the particular things that it is particularly intended to do and does do.

"The Missouri Board of Agriculture have taken the matter up. A spicy correspondence has taken place."

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad and loving remembrance of our dear mother, Rebecca L. Spencer, who departed this life one year ago, today, June 15, 1915. When we see her vacant chair, And how sad the room without her, For there is no mother there.

Our home is sad, and oh how dreary, Lonesome, lonely every spot, Listening for her voice till weary, Weary for we hear it not. Her busy hands are folded, Her toils on earth are done, Her troubles are all ended, Her heavy crown she's won.

But one thought comes to me in my sadness, She is free from all sickness and pain, And I treat when my journey is ended, I will meet my dear mother again.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, Ernest B. Dell, who departed this life one year ago, June 10, 1915. By the beautiful gates he stands and waits, My dear son from a broken heart set free; I shall clasp his hand in the beautiful land, When the hinges turn for me.

By her loving daughter, EMMA.

By her mother.

HIGHT.

Rev. J. A. Rood, pastor of Freedom Circuit, will give a lecture entertainment at New Oakland, on Tuesday night, June 13, beginning at 8 p. m.

Mrs. William R. Shipley, assisted by her Sunday school class, will hold a lawn fete at her home, on June 15, in the evening.

This section was visited by a splendid rain on Monday night. So far it has been very reasonable this spring, but perhaps a little cooler than usual. Crops generally are looking well, especially grass, which promises a big crop.

Potato bugs are more numerous than for years, which means a continuous fight in order to save the potatoes.

Measles have again made their appearance in this section, and are fast spreading. Several children who were to have taken part in the Children's Day service on Sunday at New Oakland, will be unable to do so on account of the disease.

Charles and Joseph Nichols had a barrack frame sawed this week. Henry Nichols, of Gamber, did the work. They expect to build at once in order to store their grain and hay.

There are marked improvements in the condition of the hills we are being made at Oakland Mills we are glad to state, and all the hands seem glad to be happy socially. We notice the pleased expression on the weavers' faces, as they are making more money than any time since they began operations. This is encouraging and we hope the plant will enjoy unusual amount of reports from all over the country of the unusual prosperity along all lines, and this under a Democratic administration, and we do not believe it matters who the Republicans nominate at Chicago, the people are desirous of any change.
