No. 7, which is the largest and most important mail received at this office each day, is thrown off the Fast Mail, at Middleburg, while running at full speed, and occasionally a pouch will bound back and be caught by the train. This train should be required to slack up sufficiently to handle the mail decently and safely. Sometimes the pouches fall into water and their contents become soaked. In numerous cases, parcel post matter has been crushed and broken, due to the great force with which the pouches come into contact with the ground. Unless protest is made, this practice will likely continue.—Taneytown Record.
