

DEATHS.

Martin. William H. Martin died on Wednesday evening, November 1st, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William J. Ebert, near Union Bridge, Md. He was born March 16, 1841, near Emmitsburg, Md., and spent his life in Frederick and Carroll counties, having resided near Union Bridge for the last 30 years. His wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Stansbury, died 17 years ago. He is survived by five daughters and two sons—Mrs. Annie Zentz, of Thurmont; Mrs. Nettie Eckard, of Thurmont; Mrs. Emma Ebert, of Charles town; Miss Irene and Mrs. Gertrude Hessler, of Union Bridge. Also one sister, Mrs. Emma Anders, of Medford, and two brothers, John and Joseph, of Douglas, Kansas. The funeral services were held at his late home on November 4 by his pastor, Rev. Paul Yoder. Interment was made in Mountain View cemetery.

Fahrney. Mrs. Rebecca (Hohf), wife of Daniel Fahrney, died Friday morning at 5:37 o'clock at her late home, 331 West Second street, Waynesboro, Pa., from bronchopneumonia, aged 80 years 7 months and 29 days. She had been a semi-invalid for the past several years but on Saturday was taken quite ill. Deceased was born March 8, 1836, near Gettysburg, the daughter of Samuel and Leah Hohf. She was a member of the Church of the Brethren since 12 years of age. For 29 years she taught one of the Sunday school classes. Surviving are her husband and three children: Jacob M., near Mt. Airy, Md.; Mrs. K. B. Moomaw, Waynesboro, Pa.; and Edward S., at home.

Smith. William H. Smith, died at his home, near Union Bridge, Nov. 3, of uremia, aged 55 years, 7 months and 7 days. He was born in Baltimore county but went to that section in early life and became foreman in the W. M. blacksmith shop at that place for many years. The funeral took place on November 6, with services in the M. P. Church and interment in Mountain View cemetery.

How's Pictures at the Opera. How's a part of the world that seems to have an artistic temperament. The types of its people, their customs, the scenery of the land, all are different and very attractively different. American first realized the art in things Hawaiian when its music came to the United States. They will now more fully appreciate the land that inspires such music. The artistic atmosphere of Hawaii cannot be described in words. It impressively explains its beauty. This has been accomplished by Lyman H. How, who brings his new Travel Festival to the Opera on Tuesday, November 21st. The series includes a remarkable travel experience with a visit to the fiery crater of a volcano that adds some thrills to a most pleasing representation of Uncle Sam's new possession.

Miss Hutchins Is Run Down and Killed by Frightened Horse. In an effort to save her sister, Edith Hutchins, 24 years old, Ridgeville, from being run down by a frightened horse while walking from Mount Airy to Ridgeville, Bessie Hutchins, 22 years old, was run down Monday night by a team driven by J. Howard Kain, Ridgeville, and killed. The animal, according to the version given by Kain, was frightened at a passing automobile. He said he was blinded by the glare of the headlights and a dense fog, and was unable to see the two girls ahead of him on the road. The end of the shaft struck the right side of the girl's head, causing concussion of the brain. Kain did not know he had run down the girls until a negro, Roy Shorter, who was in the buggy, said, "I believe we have run down somebody." Kain stopped the animal and investigated.

Former Mt. Airy Boy Star at Snow Hill. Victor Keen, the seventeen-year-old lad of the Snow Hill Tigers, formerly from Mt. Airy, and son of Rev. H. O. Keen, has proven himself to be a star for the Snow Hill boys. He moved down on the Eastern Shore about the first of April and was taken up by his team as soon as the season opened. He also helped his High School team to finish in second place by pitching three of their games, two of which were one-hit games and the other a no-hit affair.

LIFE LINE TURNS TRICK

Clever, Heavy Hopkins Medical Men Beat Western Maryland.

Johns Hopkins removed one of the most dangerous contenders from her path to the Maryland football championship Saturday at Homewood by the victory was not accomplished without the hardest kind of fighting, intermixed with spectacular plays by both teams. It was a rattling game. The life-line crew turned the trick. The new men from the medical school played a tremendously important part in the contest. They resisted attacks, and when the time came for the winning punch, they helped put over Seldom has a game of football in Baltimore been more enjoyed than this was this one. It was all that was predicted. The high tension that rises in such a battle brought every man to the zenith of his ability. The handling of the high punts by the little quarterback, the slashing open-field tactics, the excellent interference, and the clean sportsmanlike conduct of both teams made the battle one long to be remembered.

W. M. C. LEADING IN POINTS

Annapolis Squad May Finish Season Without Victory.

Will St. John's College football eleven register a win this season? That is the question which is causing the followers of the Annapolis team no little amount of unrest these days. St. John's forces have only been able to register six points, whereas the opposition has piled up 53 tallies. Tomorrow Western Maryland will be St. John's opponent, while on Saturday, November 25, St. John's will meet Johns Hopkins at Homewood.

HAIGHT.

Plans are being made to hold an oyster supper at New Oakland on Thanksgiving night. Due notice will be given.

We are glad to know that the Republican slogan, "Anything to beat Wilson," failed. That they did and read everything conceivable is known from Maryland to California decreed otherwise. The defeat of a man of the calibre of David J. Lewis is a blot on the intelligence of the people of Maryland and an irreparable loss to the nation. It is well nigh inconceivable, that any set of men, however debased, should commit such a monstrous crime, for crime it is, pure and simple, and those responsible will surely have a day of reckoning.

FRITZ MAISEL WOUNDS BROTHER

Ball Player Shoots Him Accidentally on Hunting Trip.

On a hunting trip in Carroll county Friday, Fritz Maisel, the ballplayer, who lives on Ingleside avenue, Catonsville, accidentally shot his brother, Ernest Maisel, 36 years old, causing painful wounds in the jaw and near one of his eyes. Maisel had jumped a rabbit and on discharging the second barrel sent the load of buckshot into the face of his relative, who lay about 20 yards away on an incline, which made it almost impossible for him to be seen. They made a hurried trip to Sykesville Hospital, where first aid was rendered. His wounds were dressed, and he was then taken to his home. Surgeons at the University Hospital said that aside from possible infection, the wounds would not be likely to prove more than very painful.
