LOCAL AFFAIRS

Sunday was a beautiful day and the automobilists took advantage of it by taking tours.

S. L. Fisher, optician and optometrist, will be at Boyle's Drug Store, Friday and Saturday, May 4th and 5th.

Claude W. Ryland, this city, as operator and clerk, has gone to Havre de Grace, as an extra operator for the next ten days.

By the driver losing control of his machine on Sunday evening about 10 o'clock he struck a tree on Bond street in front of Mr. E. P. Brundage's residence, and smashed a fender.

The lawyers tell us that ignorance of the law excuses no man. And then we are solemnly informed that the law-making bodies of the country, State and national, in the past five years have passed no less than 62,550 laws.

The Gettysburg Council sat down hard on Burgess Eicholtz, Monday evening of last week when in adjourned session, with eight members present it unanimously passed over his veto the ordinance granting an entrance to that city by the Washington and Annapolis Railroad.

Struck by a fast passenger train of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Bloomingville, Md., early Sunday morning, William H. Hill, 30 years old, a member of Company M, Fourth Regiment, Maryland National Guard, was instantly killed.

On Monday morning about 10:30 o'clock, as Mr. Edward Geiman, Pennsylvania avenue, was turning the curve at Mr. George Brown's, on the Manchester road, the motorcycle on which he was riding turned over, injuring him. His two ribs were broken and his face bruised somewhat. The machine was not damaged.

A suggestion has been made that an act be passed by the next Legislature giving the farmers the privilege of working on Sundays during the harvest season, July and August. This is said to be the practice throughout the West. Such an act would increase the working days 10 per cent, which would be a big help in saving the crops, especially should there be a wet season.

A freight wreck at Rockland Station, Green Spring Valley Branch of the Northern Central Railway, delayed passenger traffic Monday morning until the passengers could be transferred. The wreck was caused by a loose wheel and 11 cars, carrying coal and merchandise, were derailed. The train belonged to the Western Maryland Railway Company and was on its way to Baltimore.

Under the direction of Mrs. Harry Kimmey forty of our young people have been hard at work for the past two months getting a musical comedy, called "Our Gimmie's Honeycomb," in shape to be presented tonight at the Opera House, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the Civic League. The music is catchy, the songs well sung, the dialogue bright and the girls pretty. Those that see it will certainly fall well repaid.

Reese & Samlos, proprietors of the Opera House, have engaged the services of the Lyric Symphony Orchestra of New York, to play permanently at the Opera. Before the show opens an overture is rendered each night. Prof. del Pazo has signified his intention of pleasing their patrons to the extent of accepting suggestions as to the subjects which he will render each night. The management of the Opera would appreciate it if the patrons would notify them of what selections they would care to hear. It is their desire to please, and they are sparing no expense in doing so.

With elaborate ceremony Rev. Joseph H. Mallon, formerly of this city, was installed by Cardinal Gibbons Sunday as pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Baltimore, to succeed Rev. C. F. Thomas, who has been appointed pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Washington. The visit of the Cardinal to present the new priest and to pay a tribute to the pastor who went on to a more important work, made it a day long to be remembered by the people of the parish. As a token of gratitude for his years of service members of the congregation presented Father Thomas a check for $1200 at a dinner in the rectory after the high mass.

Struck by a train of the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Line as he was walking through the tunnel Westport late Saturday afternoon, John P. Cooper, 36 years old, of Woodbine, Md., was killed. He was discovered lying between the tracks in the tunnel. At that time the man was still alive. Coroner Kieffer was notified and he said that Cooper evidently was killed while walking along the tracks in the tunnel. Papers found in the man's clothing gave the police a clue as to his identity and early Saturday night the body was identified by Nelson C. Cooper. Cooper was a meatcutter and was employed in a store at Woodbine.

The Ladies of the Carroll county Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold their county executive, Thursday, May 3rd, at 10:30 o'clock, in the room in the Times building. All members of that committee are urged to be in their places promptly at 10:30 in the morning. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock in the lecture room of the Methodist Protestant church, the County Institute will be held. Mrs. Detrick, of New York state, National lecturer and organizer for the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Mary R. Haslup, of Baltimore, State President, will be at these meetings. All ladies are especially invited to the afternoon meeting. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock, Mrs. Detrick, Mrs. Haslup and Mrs. Fenby, will be at Trinity Lutheran church, Taneytown. To this meeting the public is most cordially invited.

A heavy thunder gust passed around our city on Saturday afternoon.

The tax for Baltimore county for 1917 will be $1.06 on the $100, the same as last year.

Governor Harrington has postponed his call for the extra session of the Maryland Legislature to May 15.

Our farmers are all busy turning up the earth for their spring crops. Wheat does not look very promising.

Mr. Frederick M. Bitzel, of Taney, who enlisted in the Navy as a plumber, has been sent to Portland, Me., for duty.

Mrs. W. Taylor Stringer, of Glynndon, has organized a Blue Hen Circle of Red Cross with over 100 members.

A marriage license was issued at Elkton City Tuesday to William W. O'Neal, Henrytown, and Bertha A. Pool, Marriottsville.

Two more young men from Carroll county have enlisted in the Navy. They are Howard C. Bond and Kentley B. Pittinger, both of Union Bridge.

On account of the engine breaking down, the 6:34 train Sunday evening was delayed over three hours. It did not arrive in this city until about 10 o'clock.

The special session of the Maryland Legislature to enact emergency war measures is to meet either May 1 or 2 unless Governor Harrington has reason to change his mind.

Fred Florris, of Union Bridge, paid $25 and costs to Justice Dinist, this city, on Monday on the charge of choking Lovey Nugan. Both are Italians. Florris was drunk when he choked Lovey.

Mr. W. F. Shaver, near this city, will move to Jefferson, Md., where he has rented a mill. Mr. Shaver conducted the flour mill near this city that burned down last winter.

Captain John N. Weigle has announced that he has received orders from the War Department that all young men enlisting in Company H at this time will be discharged after the war has been decided.

Mr. J. J. Brady, representative for the Charles William Stores, has moved his office from the Real Estate Company Building, at the railroad, to the store room at 36 West Main street, opposite the Westminster Savings Bank.

A local demon statistician, seizing upon the rare opportunity offered in the $7,000,000 bond issue, has figured that if one man ever had that much funds it would take him until May 15, 7694, splurging at the rate of a dollar a minute, to go broke.

Mr. George O. Benson, this city, has purchased one of the latest model Paige automobiles from David Gelman & Son, West Main street, agents. This is the first car of that make to be placed in this city and the owner is very much pleased with it. The machine carries seven passengers and is handsomely designed.

Discharges from the National Guard will not be granted enlisted men solely because they are married, according to instructions sent out by adjutant generals by the Militia Bureau. Where a soldier has independent means which will prevent his family from becoming a charge upon the Government he will not be mustered out.

J. Hampton Baumgartner, publicity representative of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and formerly from this city, left University Hospital, Baltimore, Wednesday, and will spend a few days recuperating before returning to his desk. Mr. Baumgartner was operated on three weeks ago for internal trouble and the operation was a success.

Seed potatoes are at a premium. Potatoes and eggs command the same quotation, according to one local gardener, as is saying in a supply of seeds for planting. He was told by the grocer potatoes were six cents a pound. For them he traded eggs, bringing six dozen to the store. He received 33 cents a dozen and took potatoes in return.

A colored boy by the name of Dorsey, living on Charles street, was arrested Tuesday afternoon as he came out of the cellar under the store of George N. Hunter, East Main street, with a sack on his back containing two hams and a shoulder. Dorsey was taken to jail, but later was let out on bail for his appearance before the May grand jury.

"Swat the fly, swat the fly" is what you hear just now. Catch the little subjects before they grow big and there won't be many flies to swat. There, now I've started the ball rolling, let the women folk send it further. I've heard it said that this old girl does not harmonize with all the clubs. Don't you believe a word of it. I am interested in everything that pertains to glorification of Westminster, and if there's any glory to be gotten out of the fly crusade, let everybody "swat." Here ends the first head of my discourse.

The strike at Hagerstown between the Western Maryland Railroad and its machinists continues. Neither side will give in. It is very costly to the railroad company for its guards and other protection furnished by them to protect their men now working. The strikers have the sympathy of the entire town and are helping the strikers to win their fight, it is said. The heads of the unions were at Hagerstown last week and made arrangements to furnish the strikers with all the money they need to help them out during their fight.

As William Frizell Gibson, of Eldersburg, was driving along the car tracks on the Reisterstown road Saturday night an electric car crashed into the team. Gibson, who previously had engaged in a fight at a Reisterstown hotel, was thrown head-first to the side of the road and received several cuts and bruises, and the team was damaged. He was given medical attention and later was placed under arrest by Patrolman Joseph Sinnott, charged with reckless driving and disturbing the peace. He was arraigned before Magistrate Orlick, who held him under $250 bond on each charge.

Applications are still coming to the Clerk of the Court for exemption from military service under the militia law of Maryland. Most of the claims are on the basis of religious belief, which is good grounds for exemption. Those pleading physical disability are not excused, under this preliminary procedure although it would look on its face as a good ground for being excused. Some rather amusing notes have accompanied the applications, especially when the strange ailments made the applicants are not fit for service in war. Some strange ailments have also been brought forward, and while they may be perfectly good reasons for keeping them from the firing line, yet the Clerk of the Court has no discretion under the law.

Smith-Yingling Company are making some improvements to their canning factory.

Mr. H. G. Dewey and family, Center street, moved to Rochester, N. Y., Wednesday, where he has accepted a position with a large manufacturing corporation.

Mr. Samuel A. Myers, hootyope operator at the Advocate, left on Wednesday with Company H for Baltimore, where he will look after the commissary department.

Mr. William Weagly will attend a business meeting of the executive committee of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, which meets at the Queen City Hotel, Cumberland, on Monday, May 7. Mr. Weagly is secretary of the association and also secretary and treasurer of our local fire company.

The funeral services of Mrs. Anne Virginia Trayer who died last Thursday at her home at Taylorsville, were held Sunday at 2 p. m., in New Mark Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Muller conducting the services. Interment in adjoining cemetery. Pall bearers were Charles W. Barnes, J. D. Hooper, George W. Rigler, R. C. Conaway, George W. Grimes and Harry Koontz. C. M. Waltz funeral director.

Thieves make a haul on the citizens at Frizellburg on Wednesday night between 12 and 1 a. m. Mr. Harry Myers' loss consists of 4 cans of lard and 3 full crates of eggs from his creamery. Mr. Benton Meyer had 3 hams and 2 shoulders taken from his smoke house. The thieves probably had more than they could haul, as they left three cans of lard behind at Mr. Myers', which were with the ones taken. The smoke house of Mr. Jones Lawyer was also visited but they got nothing, as they could not break the door in.

What might have been a disastrous fire occurred at the residence of Mr. David R. Gelman, West Main street, early yesterday morning which was discovered in the kitchen by Dr. S. Luther Bare, when he awoke and saw the reflection on his window and assaulting Brakeman Parrell, on warrant by the railroad company, and were found guilty. Conductor Eckert and Brakeman Parrell were witnesses against the accused. Both of the men were working on the train at the time of the fire. The fire started in the kitchen and spread to the living room and dining room. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The damage was estimated at $500. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

W. A. Sanders and P. McGraw, of Baltimore, were arrested by Officer Stem Wednesday when they arrived in this city on the 5:11 p. m. train for fighting, and were lodged in jail until yesterday, when they were given a hearing before Justice Dinist on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and assaulting Brakeman Parrell, on warrant by the railroad company, and were found guilty. Conductor Eckert and Brakeman Parrell were witnesses against the accused. Both of the men were working on the train at the time of the fire. The fire started in the kitchen and spread to the living room and dining room. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The damage was estimated at $500. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.
