According to the "Sykesville Herald" the town of Sykesville is to have a new industry. A proposition was made by a large Baltimore concern to establish a branch hat factory providing the necessary labor could be had. All conditions were satisfactory and it was decided to accept the offer of the company. The factory will employ twenty-five women or girls.

Run down by his own automobile, Albert L. Leutterding, 52 years old, of Owings Mills, was taken to the Mercy Hospital Tuesday suffering from a laceration of the scalp and a sprained ankle. Leutterding was driving his car when a car of the United Rail Road was passing from behind and struck the automobile, throwing Leutterding backward.

The Carroll County Chapter American Red Cross has been requested to furnish an "Emergency Cot Outfit" consisting of a folding canvas cot with a mosquito net and bar; wool blankets, rubber blanket, pillows, pajamas and other articles. Each branch in the county has been asked to furnish some part of the outfit and all will be ready for shipment in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sellers received word from their son, Robert Sellers, of Emmitsburg, a member of the Railway Engineers Expeditionary Force, telling of his safe arrival, somewhere in France. Mr. Sellers stated that he was well and had made lots of friends. It is believed by Mr. Sellers' parents that he is the first Emmitsburgian to reach the other side.

Many persons in ordinary circumstances who subscribed for Liberty Bonds in the enthusiasm of the campaign and now find themselves in need of money are being victimized into selling their bonds at a much lower price than the market quotation, according to a statement issued at New York by John Muir, a New York stock broker, who took an active part in the last Liberty Loan Campaign.

An action on all the capital stock of the Waynesboro Foundry and Machine Company has been obtained by New York parties, and the transfer will be effected with the next 10 days, it is reported. The company was organized about five years ago, the controlling interest being held by residents of Westminster. It proved unsuccessful, and a receiver sold the plant two years ago to Waynesboro, and the business has thrived since.

An inter-urban car of the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company was pushed off a trestle at Lewisport on a trestle after about 5 o'clock when the seven-passenger automobile of Vernon T. Uncle John Trout's successful campaign in the press for a wife still lives. Another Frederick countian comes for a quest in this quest and places his hopes in the Frederick papers to find him a helpmate. This latest recruit to the ranks of the wife-seekers is Geo. Keith, of Point of Rocks. He is a trackman on the B. & O. railroad and makes his home at Point of Rocks. He says he is 41 years of age, owns his own property. No other qualifications are given by Mr. Keith as to the kind of wife wanted. He will tell them that when they write, he says.

John Westenkamp had a narrow escape from a horrible death on Monday evening at his farm near Henrytown. He has a saw mill at work on the place and while inspecting some of the cut timber he tripped over a board and was thrown against the rapidly revolving saw. An employe caught him almost instantly, but not before the saw had ripped a deep cut in the back of his neck to the point of the shoulder. Fortunately the saw did not penetrate deep enough to pierce the lungs. It required fifteen stitches to close the wound and Mr. Westenkamp is doing quite well.

A lunatic held up Fred Jenkins on Route 8, near Warfieldsburg one day last week. Mr. Jenkins was in his automobile when he was stopped. He got out and as he did so the man fired a shot at his head, which he ducked. He then gave the man a punch in the jaw that sent him sprawling to the ground. He jumped up and was about to let go another stone when Mr. Jenkins caught him by the neck and took the fight out of him. Mr. Jenkins immediately telephoned Sheriff Stoenor to the hold-up, who went to the scene and arrested the man. He is now in jail but will not talk. He is a Canadian.

When a mule meets a Ford: Growing tired of the inactivity of a dull Sunday afternoon, a mule belonging to J. E. Reid, who lives on the Berlin road near Snow Hill, walked out into the middle of the road and challenged the first tin lizzie that have in sight, which happened to belong to S. T. Marshall, of Temperance, Va. According to Mr. Marshall the mule stood on her front feet, very Maudie-like, and let go with both feet just at the proper time to catch the radiator of his car in the solar plexus, making two large holes in the radiator and tearing it nearly off. A new one was necessary before he could continue to his home.—Crisfield Times.
The Emmitsburg Chronicle tells what is probably a true story from Maine about the boy who hung his hat on the top of a cornstalk. The corn grew so fast in the night that the boy couldn't reach his hat in the morning. "That's pretty good for Maine; but Emmitsburg corn can go it one better. We know a man who, when he went swimming, hung his hat-pint on a corn stalk. When he came out of the creek the bottle was 10 feet beyond his reach. Sabe started to hack the stalk down, but the blamed thing grew so fast his knife wouldn't cut twice in the same place, and the only way he could recover his flask was by hanging on to an adjoining stalk which grew fast enough to catch up with the other.

The September meeting of the New Windsor Parent Leader Association was held today at 3:00 p. m. in the Methodist Sunday School room, owing to the changes being made in the school building. At that meeting arrangements were perfected for the health examination of the school children. The examination is being arranged by the Association with the voluntary assistance of the three physicians and two dentists of the town. DEATHS.
Albaugh.
Mrs. Miriam Albaugh, died at her residence, Linwood, this county, on September 17. Funeral services were held on Thursday at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. E. M. Riddle, and assisted by a former pastor, Rev. J. M. Tombaugh.
The pallbearers were J. W. Messler, J. R. Etzler, R. Lee Myers, C. J. Spillman, S. C. Brandenburg and W. H. Stem.
Mrs. Miriam Albaugh was born Jan. 28, 1840, and answered the last summons to the flesh September 17, 1917, at her home, in Linwood, Md., having reached the ripe old age of 77 years, 10 months and 19 days.
She was married to David Fowble Albaugh, October, 1872, who was called by the same messenger June 29, 1884. To this union two children were born, namely, Edgar Clinton born May 20, 1874, and passed to his reward after a brief life of 12 years. Pierce was born November 21, 1875, and died June 8, 1876.
Sister Albaugh has been loved and revered in her home, a home in every respect, by her neighbors, friends and relatives. In this community she has been a resident for about 36 years.
About 14 years ago she united with the Brethren Church and was baptized by Dr. J. M. Tombaugh, who assisted in these services. She became a member of the Sister's Society of the Church and in her quiet and unassuming way, won a host of friends who will long cherish the memory of her life and deeds. Her Christian life was one of devotion to the church which she loved, filled with explicit trust in her creator.
Her pastor for the last three years will long remember the many visits and calls at her home and the pleasant associations with the members of the household.
She will be missed in the home, the church and the community. Our loss is great and hard to bear, but its Heaven's eternal gain.
She leaves a sister, Mrs. Fannie Cover, two nephews, Chas. F. Miller, Westminster and Harry W. Miller, Baltimore, also a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. Written by her pastor, E. M. Riddle.
