KAISER'S WIFE OUT SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

HE HATED HIS OWN MOTHER— WITHERED ARM HIS REASON FOR THAT AND WILHELM II PRIDES HIMSELF ON RULING OWN FAMILY.

The most lonely woman in Europe, that's the picture of the Kaiserin as drawn by Ed. F. Trefts, now of the Hoover food staff, but formerly of the United States Chamber of Commerce and twice a confidential representative of President Wilson on missions to Europe.

"She is an exemplar of the German housewife of all the virtues the housewife should show," he says. "The position of the German woman is that of child-bearer and servile minister to her husband's wants.

"That is the Kaiserin in her home. She has no part in the plans of the Kaiser for world domination, says the bearing of his sons. She is not allowed a part. She has no sympathy with his plans, neither does she oppose them. She is not allowed to. In fact she knows nothing of them.

"She is probably the most ignorant person at court on matters connected with diplomacy and the war.

"The German peasant woman waits on her husband, doing him service. The Kaiserin, in another sense, waits on the Kaiser, and his decision is her law.

"Not so in the time of his father. His mother, a daughter of Queen Victoria of England, was a real influence with his father, a rather easy-going, quiet man.

"That mother he learned to hate, and all connected with her.

"Her he blamed for his withered arm, which was set against a wife having humiliations to him and hated handicap to his imperial ambition.

"Hating her, he hated her influence with his father. His youthful battles were fought against her and her influence. So that when he married, his mind was set against a wife having authority to say on any subject outside the management of the home; and even then the man's voice was to be dominant. So it has been in his family life.

"You hear little of the Kaiserin in connection with the war—maybe the story of a kindness to a soldier or his suffering widow at great intervals; no national tradition of a ministering angel to the suffering, such as has grown up of other queens, even about the chilling personality of Queen Mary of England.

"The Kaiser, absolute monarch of all Germany, is also absolute monarch of his home. The Kaiserin, lonely in her isolation, is crowded to one side even there, the most lonely woman in Europe."

Mr. Robert Raver, accompanied by several friends, has returned from a trip to Philadelphia, New York and Long Island.

This fact was emphasized this week in the receipt of a generous collection of hardy perennials, which have already been planted in the triangular plot at the railroad on East Main street. They were given by the Franklin Davis Nursery, of Baltimore.

Members of the Home Garden Committee of the League, of which Mrs. Kootie is chairman, superintended the planting, with Mrs. D. Bare actively in charge, the planting being done by the Western Maryland Railroad.

Mr. Stoner, of the Westminster Nurseries has also kindly offered some flowering stock for other prominent localities, all of which it is certain will be highly appreciated by the public generally, who will, later on, enjoy these spots made beautiful through the generosity of these two firms, as well as by the zeal of the women of the Civic League.

Contrasts. The purpose of this article is to give the readers of this paper—the patrons of Manchester Schools an impartial idea of how our School compares with some of the other schools of Carroll county. Granted that such schools are located in communities of a larger population and where the prosperity of the people show up to better advantage than at Manchester, still the writer believes that it does not take a great deal of wealth as it does COOPERATION to make Manchester Public Schools not the best but to make it just as good as any other school of this county.

The cost per pupil for the last year at the following institutions were: Mt. Airy $35.46 per pupil. Westminster $28.38 per pupil. The Taneytown $29.90 per pupil. Manchester $26.03 per pupil.

While the writer does not think that Carroll county should spend as much as New York City ($72.00 per pupil) (or Chicago who spends $72.28 per pupil) still he believes that Manchester School should be located in giving her pupils the same privileges as the other schools of the county enjoy. Granted that such a thing is impossible, and it is impossible because we do not have the enrollment of pupils as other schools of the county have, still we ought to make their children unlimited advantages to make their children "hold their own" with the other school children of the county.

Patrons of Manchester, are you going to be one of those parents who say, "Well, all that sounds good at other places, but this is Manchester," or are you going to be like the parent who came to me some time ago and said, "Mr. Saeta, my girl is going to get the best kind of an education that I can afford. You have my support in all that you should make for the betterment of my child."

Having been here in Manchester for nearly two months, I am firmly convinced that there isn't a thing that is impossible in Manchester. As soon as you give your consent to the county, you are better off than the task of making our school one of the best for the boy and the girl will be easier than has been the case in the past.

It is not a hard thing to realize at present the unlimited opportunities that will be open for the boy or girl who is PREPARED for life when the great war is over. Are you going to sit still and watch your son or daughter go through life struggling to make both ends meet or will you help them now to turn defeat into victory by meeting the issue at hand. Parent-Teachers Associations were organized at Westminster, Hampstead, New Windsor and Union Bridge while Manchester remains in the background. Now is the time to act if you want to help your child in its growth to make him or her useful to society. A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teachers Association of Manchester will be held on November 23rd, at Manchester School Building, 8 p. m. Don't miss this opportunity of getting acquainted for a common purpose. Mrs. J. Pearre Wantz, President of the Westminster Parent-Teachers Association and others, acquainted with the movement all over the world, will be present.

A gentleman from Biglersville, Pa., left $50 and costs with Justice Dinst on Sunday night for using the Reisterstown pike for a speed-way. He was only going 60 miles an hour, but Officer Wantz went him five better and caught him.

Westminster Boy in France.

Mr. William J. Yingling, son of Mr. William H. Yingling, Honeycreek Hill, left for the France battlefields recently and will probably be one of Westminster's first sons to help win the war of Democracy.

Yingling enlisted in the regular army during the early summer and has been at three different camps of instruction. He has been promoted to Battalion supply sergeant, which office covers the disbursing of supplies for the unit of which he is a member.

This Battalion of constructing engineers did noble work in the second Liberty Loan, as they subscribed to over $23,000, which is practically two Bonds for each man.

While Sergeant Yingling was stationed in New Jersey, he and six other members of the Battalion were delightedly entertained by prominent residents of Bergen section of New Jersey city, who received high praise for their hospitality by these soldier boys.

Milk Producers Meet.

A very successful meeting of the county Milk Producers Association was held in Westminster Saturday night. Delegates from all the shipping stations on the B. & O. and the main line of the Western Maryland were present but unfortunately none from the Gettysburg line. Matters of interest to all shippers such as "How to Prevent Loss in Shipping," "Which Receivers Want More Customers," "The Cheapest Feeds," etc., were discussed. In fact the meeting was of so much interest to all that it was decided to hold a similar meeting very month. Saturday, December 22, was set as the date of the next meeting. Those branch line shippers better get aboard the "milk train." James W. Beapham, Jr., secretary.

Luther Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Snyder, this city, has his hand operated upon, Monday at the Maryland University Hospital, Baltimore. This is the second operation. Mr. Snyder having mashed his hand in July. He is improving as fast as can be expected.

CORPORAL GOT THREE GERMANS BEFORE BEING HIT—WAKES UP IN HOSPITAL.

WAR. DISPUTE ON EXPORT DUTIES AROSE BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND SERBIA.

With the American Army in France, November 12.—How a young American corporal under fire for the first time in his life, and that only three hours after he had entered the trenches for the first time, battled bravely against five Germans, is told in a detailed report of the recent German trench raid received by a certain general.

The corporal was on duty at a listening post when the Germans began a terrific bombardment, battering the first line. An officer signalled the corporal to retire, but the latter misunderstood the order and remained at his post.

Suddenly the barrage lifted and the Germans swarmed over the parapets, the corporal finding himself surrounded by five Germans, who cut off his retreat. The corporal's story as told at the field hospital where he is now recovering from his wounds follows:

"A Boche made some sign at me as if calling for me to surrender. I answered by turning my rifle upon them and letting them have hell. Three of them went down in a row, wounded and I was just drawing my bead on a fourth when something hit me on the back and I woke up here."

The general's report further showed that severe fighting occurred near a dugout in which Americans were captured.

The dugout was 25 feet deep and the men had taken refuge there from the furious shelling. The Americans had apparently begun pouring from the dugout as the Germans came over the surface immediately attacked them. The trench sides near the entrance to the dugout were splattered with blood and torn bits of uniforms, both American and German, showing that hand-to-hand fighting of the most savage character had taken place there.

The major general congratulated the husky young officer, who is now recovering in the hospital and tucked the citation which was presented to him under his pillow. A preliminary report of the explosion of the same shell, gets a similar citation.

When Germany gets ready to make peace with the world her first terms are not going to be demands for territory and indemnities. Germany's first needs will be food and raw materials. And Germany will have to make concessions and get these things. If the United States and the Allies control the raw materials of the world and have the quickest available supplies of fats, Germany will have to meet their terms, because there is no possibility of Germany improving her present condition without world supplies.

The future food supply of Germany is in the United States and South America. This country is a belligerent, and the Allies control the sea lanes to Latin America. The peace that Germany makes will be dictated by her economic needs, and the longer it lasts the more pressing these needs will become. If we can offer the German people peace on the basis of their political freedom and promise them food we shall win. Peace for the German people means freedom and food.

WAKEFIELD CREAMERY COMPANY APPLIES FOR BENEFIT OF BANKRUPTCY ACT—W. FRANK THOMAS APPOINTED RECEIVER.

A voluntary petition was filed by the Wakefield Creamery Company in the United States District Court in bankruptcy, yesterday and an application of creditors, Judge Rose appointed W. Frank Thomas, this city, receiver and he has qualified by filing the necessary bond and has taken possession of the property and assets of the company. Mr. Thomas will make sale of the perishable goods, at once, Charles O. Clemons, this city, is attorney for the receiver.

This company was organized about four years ago with a capital stock of $20,000 and then purchased the Frook's Mill property and installed a well equipped and expensive plant for the manufacture of ice cream, condensed milk, etc., and had its principal place of business there until recently when the plant closed down. A large number of Carroll and Frederick county farmers are creditors, having shipped milk to the creamery and the bills not having been paid in full and besides there are a number of concerns from which the company purchased goods that remain unpaid. The liabilities of the company as reported in their petition show debts of about $35,000 while the claimed assets total but about $16,000. Of the assets, the real estate is under a mortgage or deed of trust to secure $20,000 of bonds issued and outstanding with interest which is a preferred lien, and which will so much reduce the possible pro rata distribution to the common creditors. It will therefore appear from the information obtainable that the creditors will suffer heavy losses on their claims.

When Germany gets ready to make peace with the world her first terms are not going to be demands for territory and indemnities. Germany's first needs will be food and raw materials. And Germany will have to make concessions and get these things. If the United States and the Allies control the raw materials of the world and have the quickest available supplies of fats, Germany will have to meet their terms, because there is no possibility of Germany improving her present condition without world supplies.
