

SMALLWOOD.

Mrs. Richard Baker spent the past week in Baltimore visiting relatives and friends.

Last Sunday, October 4, Mrs. Sarah Davis, Mrs. Richard C. Baker, Miss Viola Logue, of Smallwood, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett and son, Mrs. Elizabeth Plack, Misses Mabel Plack, Annie Crooks, Myrtle Cove, all of Baltimore and Mrs. Willie Logue visited Camp Meade. They spent most of the day in viewing the Camp grounds enjoying the eating room and were asked to partake of their hospitality, which they did. They were then told that they were honored, as they were the first visiting guests to eat in the (Camp) hall. Mr. Willie Logue has been at Camp Meade for sometime and Mr. Wm. Snyder and sons, John and Herman are working there.

Some of our farmers are through husking corn.

Mrs. Henry Wardenfelt is in Baltimore visiting Mr. Charles Ramsay and other relatives.

The Christian Endeavor Society held its business meeting at Mrs. Stella Leppo's on last Thursday night.

The Election is now a thing of the past. Some are pleased with the results while others are not, there always has to be a winning side.

Mr. Walter Sayers spent from Sunday until Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sayers, Mrs. Debbie Hoffman of Flohersville was also a guest at the same place.

Mr. Walter Wagner spent the week's end in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sayers and daughter, Minnie visited Camp Meade recently.

The Deer Park Aid Society held its last meeting at Mrs. Fannie Buckingham's on the last Thursday in October. A large number of members were present. The guests were entertained by some fine selections on the Victrola, also music on the organ by Miss Elsie Conaway and others. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Marian Shipley, and the routine of business transacted. The dues and visitors' collection amounted to $14.33. After the meeting a pleasant social time followed. Refreshments of cake, coffee, chocolate, and other good things were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckingham, Mrs. Julia Paynter, Maybelle Arnold, Sarepta Zile, Bertha Shipley, Elizabeth Davis, A. L. Davis, Estella Leppo, Mamie Brown, Kate Lockard, Elizabeth Wardenfelt, Katherine Wagner, Sarepta Zile, Emma Blizard, Effie Barber, Katharine Barber, Elizabeth Lockard, Louisa Baker, Marion Shipley, Rebecca Foutz, Margie Welsh, Florence Owning, Martha Bowers, Sadie Ditman, Nettie McCaffrey, Myrtle Utz, Bertha Sitterling, Misses Elsie Conaway, Viola Logue, Teresa Logue, Rosa Spencer, Louisa Williams, Eliza Shipley, Dorothy Barber, Ruth Foutz, Amanda Williams, Eva Davis, Lillie Davis, Estelle Bowers, Elizabeth Williams, Anna Dreyer, Loretta Utz, Rev. Recital At Manchester.

The first Recital given by the Manchester High School on Friday evening, November 2nd, drew a large and appreciative audience to Odd Fellow's Hall. The lighted stage with ferns and flowers and other decorations presented a distinct background for the evening's entertainment. Along the walls were draped the Red and Blue colors of Manchester High School and the American Flag; while a forty foot banner bearing the words 'Manchester Public Schools' was strung across the upper part of the stage in V shape form. But all this was incidental for what was to follow.

Mr. Hufnagel, of York, rendered violin selections with such ease and grace that he won for himself a part on the program. He was followed by Mr. Benjamin Jay Saeta, who had a sweet lyrical tenor voice. His piece, De Sun Am a-sinkin' favorably impressed his hearers. Miss Miriam Bergman's Esprit du Soir by Charles Danes showed the players' selective ability in giving a light tripping piece that essentially balanced the first part of the program. Mr. Maurice Saeta of Philadelphia gave two choice readings, which were enjoyed by everyone. A realistic touch was given to his Highwaysmen when an accidental sound behind the stage aroused his listeners to the dramatic theme of a hero making a dash for the heroine. A return engagement for Mr. Saeta is expected when a Spring Recital will be given later. The violin duet by Messrs. Hufnagel and Roeder was well rendered. Mr. Loats, trombonist, deserves mention for a Hawaiian piece that proved enjoyable to quite a number in the hall. During the intermission of the first and second part of the program, two well-dressed flower girls, Miss Francis Waganan and Miss Gertrude Abkon sold refreshments that were contributed by the pupils of the schools.

When the program was given, Prof. Saeta with the pupils of the High School joined in singing the new High School Song, much to the surprise of the patrons of Manchester. The honored guests of the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Unger and son Robert; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pearre Wantz; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allender, and Misses Richard and Helen Roeder.

A number of town and out-of-town guests were entertained by Miss Julia Roeder at the home of Miss Fannie Rose just after the program of the recital was rendered.

After refreshments were served, Messrs. Hufnagel and William Roeder played a few violin selections. Mr. Maurice Saeta entertained the guests with Alfred Noyes's "Barrell-Organ" and a humorous reading called, "Lavery's Hens."

Aboard Our Sentinels Of The Deep, Stripped For Action.

In the midst of the Great World War in which we are engaged, so much vital and timely interest attaches to Uncle Sam's new Navy, that the Secretary of the Navy authorized Lyman H. Howe's photographers to join the fleet at the outset of hostilities to make a historic film record of life aboard our sentinels of the deep stripped for action "Somewhere in the Atlantic." It is this notable production that Mr. Howe by special permission of the Navy Department will present at the Opera on November 19, together with many other diversified subjects. It reveals our super-creadnoughts from keel to truck, from ram to sternpost, and shows our monster fighting machines with their tremendous guns in action and so finely balanced that they are swinging with the utmost ease and facility. One portion that is exceptionally interesting shows the firing of torpedoes—costing $7,000 each and seeking their target at a speed of 42 knots. Another phase of the series of absorbing interest shows the house-keeping in the home of a thousand men on these floating fortresses—how they live the full twenty-four hours, their organization and discipline, while alert and aligned for decisive action every instant. How the officers of this fleet are trained will also be shown as exemplified at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. There is something fascinating about the word "Annapolis" yet very intangible and undefined, but this film reveals the alluring glamour as well as the stern realities of the manifold duties and activities that make up the strenuous life and training of the "middles." A very clever "trick" film shows the grim reality of war as seen in London during an imaginary Zeppelin raid. The film is notable for its faithful reproduction of the actual scenes enacted on the bridge of a bounding with thrills, the air-battle forms a weird spectacle.

Still another film that is crowded with action of the liveliest sort, yet which in its way also teems with thrills, shows bronco-breaking contests from our real Wild West which, for skill and daring, have never been equaled. Then, too, there is a railroad ride of surpassing charm over the Continental Divide via the Great Northern Railway, besides a wealth of clean, wholesome humor contributed by entirely new comedy cartoons, freely interspersed throughout the program to enliven the more serious features at just the right intervals.

Heavier Trucks Spend More Gas Hauling Themselves than the Maxwell uses at Peak Load

The lowest priced one-ton truck in the world—$985. And a truck, mind you—not a delivery wagon built for trucking. Truck strength and truck length. We use more brains than metal in its construction—made it right to get it light. Not a superfluous pound—not a missing excellence. You buy lasting power—not bulk. Designed for hard loads and tough roads. Sold with the same guarantee as $5,000 trucks are. 2,400 dogged, spunky, agile pounds, and built to carry more than that 365 days in the year and 24 hours to the day. A work glutton and a tire miser. A 16-mile run with every gallon. 10-foot loading space. The same type of worm drive that $5,000 trucks have hitherto featured as their own. Pays its way from day to day.
