The Church of God at Pleasant Hill will hold their Christmas exercises on New Year's morning. Quite an elaborate program will be rendered. The services begin promptly at 7 p. m. The Sunday School will render a program followed by a sacred cantata, entitled "The Christmas Star Shines On." The public is cordially invited.

Dr. L. G. Wetzel, of Union Mills, invited a few of his friends, the latter part of last week, to enjoy a con roast with him. A pleasant evening was spent with Dr. and Mrs. Wetzel. When the guests were ready to leave one of the automobiles refused to assist, and in cranking the machine it back fired, lacerating two fingers and breaking the index finger of his right hand.

On Saturday morning, December 22, at 10 o'clock at Annapolis, Md., Governor Harrington gave a banquet to delegates of the committees appointed in the various counties for the purpose of discussing rates of salaries for teachers throughout the State of Maryland. This conference was attended by Miss Hanna Shunk of New Windsor, Md., the secretary of the committee for Carroll county, and by superintendent of Schools, Mr. M. S. H. Unger.

Monday night, December 24th, the Lutheran Church in Bachman's Valley held their Christmas service. The church was crowded and listened attentively to a splendidly prepared program of carols and recitations. The school was given a fine box of candy and in turn gave a fine offering for Christian education. The decorations and trees were of a high order and the committee in charge deserve great credit.

There will be a large meeting of all the workers of the Women's section of the Maryland Council of Defense in the Academy of Music, Baltimore, on January 4 to which all the district leaders and workers are invited. A large mass meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. at which time Dr. Anna Howard Shaw will speak. Governor Harrington and other people of prominence will attend. It is earnestly hoped that all district leaders will find it possible to attend with their full committee. The event will be full of interest and information.

New Year will be a legal holiday, banks, many stores and the Court House will be closed.

She was the widow of the late Lovelace Gardner, who resided near Klee's Mill, and daughter of the late George Frizzell, one of the defenders of Baltimore, against the attack of the British at North Point in the war of 1812. She is survived by five grandchildren, Mrs. Chas. W. Lockard, Statewood; Mrs. Charles Myers, Deer Park Road; Mamie Gardner, Hampstead; Geo. Gardner, Sykesville, and Carroll, of Baltimore, and four great-grandchildren. Her only son died about three years ago. The funeral was held from the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lockard, in Statewood, Wednesday, December 26, at 11 a. m., with further service at Pleasant Grove Methodist Episcopal Church, conducted by Rev. J. R. Parvew. Interment in Pleasant Grove cemetery. Pallbearers were Geo. B. Knox, Wm. N. Shauck, J. Wm. Barnes, Judge Jordan, Obediah Buckingham and Jos. T. Parrish. General directors, F. C. Sharr, Mrs. Henry Bemiller, a member of Bethesda Methodist Episcopal Church about 85 years. She was born in the vicinity of Salem, Franklin district.—From Statewood correspondent.

LINEBORO.
The Lineboro Lutheran and Reformed Sunday Schools held their Christmas service on December 26th. The large church was filled and an excellent program of Christmas carols were sung, while the well trained children and young people recited the Christmas story with great credit. Pastors Blatt and Leatherman made addresses. The school was handsomely treated and in turn made a splendid offering for Sunday school work. Chorister Wm. H. Wertz and organist Mrs. Carrie Polk Tracy were each given a gold coin, by the president of the Joint Council, Mr. J. Frank Warner, for faithful service.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, Kate A. Farver, who died one year ago December 27, 1916.

Her busy hands are folded, Her work on earth is done, My beautiful life is ended, Her crown in heaven is won.

God called her home it was his will, But in my heart I love her still, Her memory is as dear today, As in the hour she passed away.

Though twelve months have passed away, I have been filled with grief and pain; Cried in hope, I hope of heaven, Where loved ones meet again.

Oh God of love give me some token, From the spirit world above, To tell me how she is getting on, May be healed by heavenly love.

BY HER HUSBAND, REZAIN A. FARVER.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Kate A. Farver, who died one year ago December 27, 1916.

The month of December once more is here, To us the saddest of all the year, Because it is the month our dear mother died, Whom we all loved so dear.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord, When love has bound the heart; 'Tis hard so hard to speak the words, Must we forever part.

We cannot tell who next may fall, Beneath thy chastening rod; One must be first but let all Prepare to meet our God.

She is waiting by the river, In that sweet, peaceful stream, Where sweet flowers are ever blooming, And the banks are always green.

You have gone from us dear mother, To your Saviour and true, You have won the heavenly glory, Which is for us to do.

BY HER CHILDREN.

Clearance Sale!
BEGINS
Saturday, December 29th

There are the same good reasons for holding a Clearance Sale this year as always — odd lots, short lengths, broken sizes, goods mused and soiled during the busy holiday season must all be cleared out and to do this we lower the prices. Regarding our regular stocks, particularly muslins, sheetings, sheets, shirtings, gingham, table damasks, which many people buy during January, the prices, while higher than they were a year ago, are certainly very much lower than they will be in thirty to sixty days from now. We tell you candidly prices on these goods will be higher. Be wise and do some of your Spring Buying now.

Remnants Remnants

Hundreds and hundreds of them—ginghams, calicoes, percales, sheetings, wool dress goods, silks, all in useable lengths, measured, marked and on the center counters at prices far less than usual. You can save money by visiting the Remnant Box.

Best Heavy Shirting 20c

These are the really best brand of heavy Shirtings and are worth 25 cents a yard. We offer what we have in stock at 20 cents a yard.

36 inch Dress Percales 20c
