IN MEMORIAM. In sad but loving remembrance of our daughter, Mabel E. Ogg, who departed this life two years ago August 3, 1916.

We watched her breathing through its night. Her breathing soft and low, As in her breast the worry of life, Kept heaving to and fro.

But when the morn came dim and dim, And chilled with early dew Her eyelids were forever closed, In death we knew.

By her mother, Abie E. Flater.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Julia A. Cover, wife of Col. John Cover, who departed this life 8 years ago, August 7, 1912.

It is sweet to know we will meet again, Where parting is no more, And that the one we loved so dearly, Has only gone before.

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory will be, But death has left a loneliness, The world can never fill.

Fondly loved and sadly missed, Our nearest and dearest, our mother, our guide, We missed you ever since, You departed from our side.

Our way would be happy as friends would be true, If only life's path would guide us here, But all to God's calling unreleasing of pain, The time shall be happy when we meet again.

By her loving children.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear brother, H. Augusta Fritzel, who departed this life four years ago August 7, 1914.

You are not forgotten, my dear brother, Nor ever will you be, For as long as life and memory lasts, I will remember thee.

God called him home, 'Twas his will, But in his heart I'll see him still; His memory is as dear to-day, As in the hour he first was born.

By his loving sister, Estella M. Gosnell.

"Blake" was Saturday afternoon and night, to be sure you see the way he does it.
