BOMBED "SUB" FROM AIR

A FORMER WESTMINSTER BOY TELLS OF PROBABLE SINKING OF UNDERSEAS BOAT.

AVIATOR CHAS. J. BOYLAN

To encounter a hostile submarine while in an airplane was a broken dream of a young man, and getting a good shot at a "sub," which is thought to have finished the career of the undersea pirate, was one of the thrilling experiences of Charles J. Boylan, a Baltimorean, formerly of this city, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boylan, now a member of the Navy Flying Corps on duty "over there."

The thrills of the submarine fight, in which Boylan thinks he finished the career of the sea raider and her "murdering crew," are described by him in a letter received in Baltimore by a friend. The letter is written on the stationery of the Hotel de l'Espece, Quimper, France, is dated August 9, and follows:

"Just a few lines to let you know I am still among the living. I've been flying in fog, rain and all sorts of weather here of late. I've done a good bit of flying so I am here at this place for a little rest.

"We had the pleasure of getting a good shot at a submarine last Saturday and I really believe we finished it. We left the station alone, as the other plane I was certain had some motor trouble and landed at sea. I came back to give his location, when we got the signal that a submarine was in our sector. Oh, Boy! We were out for big game and we got it. I had a broken propeller, but out I went in a very hard rain, taking a chance of being left out in the sea myself. But I've been working this coast for over a year to get a shot at one of the 'and here was my chance, so I should let that step me off, no."

"When we had come up to the place where he was last seen I saw a spot of oil, and while watching this spot I saw his periscope come to the surface and immediately disappear. I headed the old plane for the spot out de suite. Coming directly over the spot, we saw two converging wakes coming from deep water. We dropped a smoke hang and I made a quick turn into the wind, coming in line with the target. We let our first bomb go, which landed on top of the wake, doing but little damage, as the wake continued on its course. I made a quick turn again, bringing my plane in perfect line. We let the second bomb drop, which fell about 150 feet in front of the wake, finishing it."

"After the second bomb was dropped we saw a lot of oil bubbles coming out of the water and a lot of other debris. I am certain our second bomb finished him, and so do the French. I hope some day to be able to write that I am the proud owner of the Croix de Guerre."

"The boys at the station have nicknamed me Gusperey, but they have changed it to 'submarine.'"

"P. S.—I have the best observer in the country, and he comes from N. J."

SAW GERMAN PLANE FALL

Private Alfred G. Larrimore Has Been in the Front Line—Has Been Kept on the Move.

Miss Margie Mann has received the following letter from her cousin, Private Alfred G. Larrimore, of Westminster:

"My dear cousin Margie: Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and happy and hope when this reaches you it will find you all the same. We are having beautiful weather over here. How is the weather over there? I guess it is beginning to look like fall now. I would have written to you sooner but we have been moving around so much that I have no time to write. The country over here is just beautiful and the French people treat us just like their sons. Was up at the front for five days and there was a little excitement there. We are getting ready to go up to the front again, I will write to you while I am up there. Margie write real often for I love to hear from you. How is Edward getting along at Camp Meade? Tell him to write me once in a while for I would like to hear from him. I am going to write to him a little letter and you give it to him. Charles Chew sends his love to you and said for you to write real often. When we get mail from the people back home we are always anxious to hear from them and it makes us feel lots better. Just as soon as I can get where I can have my picture taken I am going to have some taken and send you one of them. I would send you some postals from over here but I don't think we are allowed to. We see air battles every day. Two German planes and two American planes had a battle this week and one of the Americans shot down one German plane and the other American drove the other German off. It is real exciting to see the planes battle up in the air. I have been over here for two months and it doesn't seem like one month. We drill every day and sometimes we hike at night. Well Margie I have to stop for this time. Give my love to all. Tell Aunt Minnie and Uncle William and all to take care of themselves. Will close with lots of love to you.

Your loving cousin,
GORMAN.

Carroll County Boy Gets War Cross For Bravery.

Gerald C. Smith, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre for bravery in action, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith, 2025 Maryland avenue, Baltimore, formerly of this city. Mr. Smith is a lieutenant in the Royal British Flying Corps, and it was in an aerial flight that he gained the honor.

He is a St. John's graduate, and gained a commission in May, 1917, at Plattsburg. He has been attached to the British Flying Corps in France since last March.

Lieutenant Smith told his parents in recent letters that he has taken part in several bombing expeditions over German cities and has succeeded in doing much damage.

LETTERS FROM PRIVATE GREENE

MEN CAPTURED WILD HOG—SAW SHEEP FOLLOW SHEPHERD—TRACY FENBY LEADS RELIGIOUS SERVICE—LUTHER BARKARD AND MARION TAYLOR IN PRIVATE GREENE'S COMPANY.

Somewhere in France, August 5, 1918.

My dear Sis: Work is over for another day. I have just finished a letter to mother, so shall write to you. You can't imagine how glad I was to receive my first set of letters from the States Saturday evening. Got four in all, among which was yours and one from home. I'm sure I did not rejoice alone, for many of the boys were also just as fortunate, and I believe I am safe to say, just as happy as I can be, with all sitting around talking (for it was late in the evening) when someone announced that the mail had come. There was one mad scamp in the direction of the report with the result the postman was almost swamped when he finally appeared. I imagine there was as much commotion as the mails would cause in the States when they were received—I refer to the time when they were carried only about once a month.

Of course it is needless for me to tell you I enjoyed your letter. It was rather late when I received it, so had to put it away after a hasty reading on account of the darkness, but the next day I took my good old time, and read and read it.

You probably did not know how much you were doing when you enclosed those clippings. No sooner did the Carroll boys find out I had a part of a home paper when they came for it. Well, they went like "hot cakes." It certainly was amusing the way the news flew.

You did a wise thing by guessing my overseas address. I never would have thought of that; Merrill did the same thing.

The boys are all fine and in good spirits. I believe a more cheerful bunch of fellows never left Camp Meade than ours. Yes, Marlon Taylor and Luther Barkard are with us, and we left Frank Walsh in a hospital at Camp Meade.

Yes, I have my Bible with me. Have been reading the New Testament by books. Last Sunday a week I read all of First Corinthians and yesterday how I read the rest of it.

My dear Mother and All: I have a few moments to myself so am going to write you. Am glad to tell you I am feeling just fine and have been all along. That's one of the many things I've been in the army. My health has been the very best. Have not felt sick even one day. The life seems to agree with me. So far it surely has been a beautiful way of living—good food, plenty of exercise, fresh air and sufficient sleep, all kept a person in good trim. Uncle Sam is as good to us as he can be.

I am no longer where I was when I wrote you last week. Like my new riding here we found straw and filled our beds. It was in the evening and we were tired and how we did sleep! I never woke once during the night and when reveille was sounded didn't want to get up then. We get up rather early these days, too. You probably know that the time here is five hours faster than in the States, so when you are eating supper at five I am going to bed; and when I am talking to you folks are still in the "Land Nod."

Last Sunday we had a religious service that was all our own. In the absence of a Y. M. C. A. man, Tracy Fenby was asked to preside and did very ably. It was the first time I had seen him speak since we attended school together. His talk, while brief, was very appropriate and contained many good things. We held our service in the open under some trees, and had a good attendance. Favorite hymns were sung, among which was America, to be sure. Can you imagine how it must feel to sing that song in a foreign land? Rest assured it was sung heartily. I sure do appreciate these little services; they're something so different from our weekly routine.

Saw a pretty sight the other day. You know that in the States we drive our flocks of sheep. Of course that is not the way the real shepherds do. Well, I never saw sheep follow a shepherd till then, and it was an impressive sight to see a flock of about fifty sheep with a young girl leading them. They followed her just as a lot of little chicks would follow their mother. The shepherdess was leading a dog, but the sheep seemed not the least bit afraid. I immediately thought of the tenth chapter of St. John. It has a new meaning to me now.

The people here are still harvesting. I saw something—a McCormick binder. Sometimes the oxen yoked to carts and plows. The draft cattle are very large and I imagine they seem very slow.

There was a stir in Camp yesterday. A crowd of the fellows were out walking.

across some wild hogs. They managed to separate one from the rest and captured him. Brought their trophy back to camp, had a Frenchman to dress him and in the evening, in addition to the regular menu, we had roast pig.

Tell Miss Myrtle Caple I had reason to use the comfort bag this morning and found it not wanting. It sure is a handy affair and quite convenient.

We have been having fine weather ever since we've been here. Has not been hot but rather cool and just the thing for our work.

Am going to close now. I hope you are all well and are getting along nicely with your work. Don't worry for everything is all right and we're all getting along fine. All the Carroll county boys are still together.

My love to all, I am,
PVT. ALBERT HARLAND GREENE,
Co. D, 311th M. G. B.

WAR DEPARTMENT WILL TRAIN MILITARY UNITS AT WELL KNOWN INSTITUTION.

The War Department has added another Maryland college to the training units for young men of 18 years. Western Maryland College has not had military training hitherto, but its trustees ordered last June that this should be inaugurated with the opening of the year 1918-19. Then came the decision of the War Department to establish students army training corps at the colleges. President Lewis secured authorization for Western Maryland to be so recognized.

This means that a regular army officer will be detailed as commandant at Western Maryland, and students of proper age will be enlisted in the regular army. They will be taught, boarded, clothed, and equipped at the expense of the government, and will be given regular soldiers' pay. The government will outline their course of study and determine how long they may remain at college.

The corps at Western Maryland will have the same academic and military training as at other college units, and the same privileges. It is understood that the intention of the government to give such training to these young men as will best fit them for active service.

The regular monthly conference of the district leaders with the County Council of Defense, Women's Section, was held at the Times Building, Friday, September 6th, at 11 o'clock, the chairman, Mrs. Robert Sargent Shriver, presiding. The monthly report to the State Chairman was read, and also the reports of the district leaders, which reports showed continued activity along all lines of war work. The district leaders realize how important is the work asked of them.

Adas S. Fulton, Supervisor of Colored Schools, was most interesting and showed splendid work. She gave forty-two demonstrations among the colored people and they put up 5311 jars of fruits and vegetables.

Miss Marjorie Virginia Green, Westminster, Charles O. Clemons, Chairman of the U. S. Student Nurse Reserve Committee, reported the close of the campaign for nurses, with the following eight recruits:

Miss Alice Marie Miller, New Windsor.
Miss Nettie L. Stevens, Sykesville.
Miss Mary Isabelle Spangler, Mayberry.

Miss Margaret Cookson, Myers.
Miss Eliza Roberts Birnie, Taneytown.
Miss Julia Rebecca Smith, Taneytown.

Mrs. J. G. Miller, of Baltimore, made a most interesting address on the coming liberty loan, which will be of great help to those who heard her when they go out to canvass for the next drive. Mr. George H. Gehr, chairman of the liberty loan committee, laid out plans for the coming campaign.

The meeting day was changed from the first to the second Friday in each month, on account of the change in the State meeting. After the meeting adjourned, lunch was served by the members of the County Council to the district leaders and their committees present.

Westminster district has been able to carry out the request of the National Headquarters for a Patriotic Play Week through the help of Chautauqua. Junior Chautauqua, under the leadership of Miss Jacobs, gave the children the benefit of games and contests, and culminated in the Junior Play given by the children of the town Monday afternoon, the play teaching a patriotic lesson.

If you have more fruit or vegetables than you can use, and will notify Mrs. James W. Beacham, Chairman of the Thrift Committee for Westminster, the Thrift Committee will make arrangements for picking and canning same to be used for war work. Nothing should go to waste, and you can help carry out the Nation's program of conservation by aiding in this work.

CARROLL'S TEACHERS

VERY FEW SCHOOLS ARE VACANT—$9,500 PAID FOR STEWART PROPERTY

To the Editor:

As there seems to be some confusion in the public mind concerning the necessity for and the purchase of the Stewart property in Westminster for school property purposes, I take this opportunity to give the public the facts.

1. We all have recognized the fact that the Main Court is a very unsatisfactory place in which to hold school.

2. On account of the crowded conditions of our schools it was the only available place.

3. We had the owner's permission to use it for another year. There is no truth in the statement published in the Advocate last week, that Mr. Hunter had given the Board of Education notice to vacate. On the other hand Mr. Hunter has been very considerate in every respect.

4. As the State law requires that we temise in the annual budget in May all our expenditures for the coming year, and as no provision had been made to purchase this Stewart property, it was not possible for the Board of Education to make the purchase.

5. The Board of Education approved the action of the Superintendent of schools in requesting the County Board of Commissioners to purchase the property.

6. The County Commissioners recognizing the need for further school facilities in this town and knowing that the Board of Education could not provide the necessary funds purchased the property.

7. The price paid was $9500.
