WOMAN 100, TELLS OF SEEING CHRIST.

"YOU WILL LIVE TO SEE ME COME AGAIN AS I WENT," A VOICE TOLD HER.

Elton City, Ill.—"Grandma" Delilah King, the oldest woman in Lake County, who only has just celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary, but she makes the startling statement that she has seen her Saviour face to face in her wakening hours and while in possession of her fullest faculties. She related her strange experience as follows:

Following a morning just before daybreak I lay in bed sick and discouraged. I thought it would be a good thing if the Lord could take me home to be with Him.

"While I lay there Christ appeared to me at my bedside. He was dressed in a robe and was so near me that I could see the fingernails on His fingers. As He looked down on me He smiled. Then He drew His skirts aside as much as to say: 'Don't touch me!' A moment later He vanished. He said to me: 'I will be with you in spirit and kneeling down, asked the Lord to take me home. A voice said to me quite distinctly: 'You shall live to see me come again as I went.'"

Mrs. King has a wonderful memory. She reads her Bible, converses intelligently and has the Saviour again in His abode among the billions of the world.

Last Sunday this wonderfully preserved centenarian mounted the platform at the tabernacle here and delivered an address to the people of Elton City.

Mrs. King never is idle, and her fingers ago. She is usually busy making patchwork quilts. She makes her bed and sears the idea of anybody else taking care of her room.

Her appetite would arouse the envy of some much younger than she, for Mrs. King eats the hearty meals a day. She uses the elevators and climbs the stairs unassisted in the hotel where she makes her home. On Lord's day she takes part in the procession at the tabernacle, and she rarely misses a meeting.

MANCHESTER.

The play "Topsy's Twins" was played at the tabernacle March 14 to a crowded house. Each character was especially adapted to the part. The music furnished by the Westminster orchestra was enjoyed by all lovers of music and added much to the entertainment. $71.00 was the gross receipts.

GIRL SOLD AS BRIDE BY MOTHER FOR $1300.

WEDDING OF PROSPECTIVE SON-IN-LAW SUES.

Evidence produced before Judge Berger showed that Ella Bubbess, a pretty 16-year-old girl, was given as a bride to Elko Hochstetler, a young man of Pottsville, Pa., for $1300.

The prospective bridegroom paid the money to them and a marriage license was procured, but the wedding did not take place, and now Elko is without his bride and his money.

The parents and their prospective son-in-law brought suits against each other and the jury on the cases asked Judge Berger if the matter could be settled by having the money paid back to Elko. Judge Berger said the court could not be a party to a bargain and the jury then convicted the girl's mother of larceny in getting the money from Elko and also convicted Elko on a charge made by the girl. Sentence has not yet been imposed.

Dilworth-Delworth.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the officiating minister, Brookside Place, near this city, at 4 p. m., Saturday, March 15, the contracting parties being Mr. Raymond Dilworth, a popular young farmer of Baltimore county, and Mrs. Mabel Delworth, an expert stenographer and a valuable saleslady of one of the most prosperous automobile houses, in Govans, Md.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Breidenbaugh, of Govans. The ceremony was briefly but impressively performed by Elder William R. Groop. Mrs. Dilworth was handsomely attired in traveling gown while the groom was becomingly attired in a going away suit. After the ceremony the happy couple were entertained at a wedding supper by the hospitable wife and daughters of the clergyman who had officiated at the nuptials.

Those present besides the host and hostess and bride and groom attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Warehime, Misses Lavenia and Ethel Roop, teachers in the Baltimore county schools, Martha Fogle, Helen and Ruth Roop. After spending their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Dilworth will be at home April 1st, Woodbourne avenue, Govans, Md. They have the best wishes of their friends for a happy and prosperous life.

Notice To The Next Of Kin.

The ladies of the Civic League of Westminster have planted a row of Shade Trees extending from Liberty Heights to the first Toll Gate on the Baltimore Road.

Recognizing the peculiar fitness for memorial purposes of a young tree which will increase in strength and beauty with the passing years, and, in a particularly pleasing manner, transmit the message entrusted to it to succeeding generations, we wish to set apart the requisite number of these trees as Memorials to the men of Carroll county who lost their lives while in their country's service.

A patriotic and public-spirited citizen has generously offered to furnish Brass Tablets upon which the names of the men who have made "the supreme sacrifice" shall be engraved—each Tablet to be then attached to its corresponding Tree.

We are hereby asking the Next of Kin, who are willing for the name of the deceased member of their family to be placed upon one of the Trees to communicate with us immediately, giving the name to be inscribed.

We are also hereby requesting an expression of willingness to send some representative or representatives of the family to attend a Dedication and Memorial Service to be held in Westminster on April 1st—May the definite date to be published later. A prompt reply will be very much appreciated as it will greatly assist the Committee of Arrangements to complete its work.

Address all communications to Mrs. H. L. Elderidge, Secretary of Forestry Committee, Woman's Civic League, Westminster, Maryland.

GO-GET 'EM!

A prize for you! Do you want it? For the boy and girl bringing in the most flies during March, there is a splendid prize. Girls don't you all want a beautiful sterling silver sport pin? What boy doesn't want a brand new fountain pen all his own? We have the flies to get them. Who ever heard of a fly being any good to any one? But right here is your chance. Let the flies win this wonderful prize for you. We are now paying the rate of one cent for five flies. Get to work Saturday morning boys and girls and bring in as many as you can. Owing to the very mild winter the flies are sure to come early and be very plentiful. Only hearty co-operation will enable us to maintain the advantage we have gained in the past few years over the flies. The Germans couldn't beat us, why allow the flies to do it.

Anyone seeing a dirty unkept looking back yard or alley should feel it their duty to report it to the Fly Committee. We must begin our battle in all possible breeding places.

Julian Williams has received his honorable discharge from the Navy and is now home dressed as a civilian.

Mr. John H. Cunningham, this city has received several packages of garden seed from the Government and will distribute among our citizens.

DRY SENATORS STOCK UP.

EXPRESS RECORDS EXPOSE THE WET-DRYS IN U. S. CONGRESS—MEN WHO VOTED NATION A SAHARA STOCKED UP WITH LIQUOR—NAMES ARE GIVEN.

The Philadelphia Record Saturday exposes ardent drys who received liquor shipments after aiding to vote the nation a Sahara, as follows:

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The unselfish quality of the vote that imposed a prohibitionist constitutional amendment on the United States is illustrated by the records of importations of liquor into the District of Columbia in the weeks preceding the application of the Reed amendment to the capital.

Express office "ardent spirits" shipment receipts, placed on public record today in the District of Columbia License Bureau, indicate that the Senate and House office buildings are sufficiently stocked to dispel congressional thirst for quite a while. Congressmen despite the dry era they have voted upon the country, will be able to "take it or leave it alone," just as they have been in the past.

Among the senators voting "dry" on August 1, 1917, but who received shipments of ardent spirits in the last few weeks before the Reed amendment took effect were Senators Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, and John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi.

The records show two shipments to J. S. Williams, Senate office building, and one to P. C. Knox, at 1527 K street, which is the address of Senator Knox.

Representative Clarence B. Miller, of Minnesota, was among the "dry" voting congressmen on December 17, 1917. The record shows two shipments of ardent spirits during the last rush to C. B. Miller, 1921 S street, which is the address of Representative Clarence B. Miller. Other "dry" receiving shipments included Representative D. R. Anthony, of Kansas, who had three shipments; T. M. Bell, of Georgia; P. Clarke, of Florida; Loren E. Wheeler, of Illinois; Carl Vinson, of Georgia, and J. Shouse, of Mississippi.

The Carrollton L. T. L. will hold an entertainment in Carrollton Hall Thursday evening, March 27. If the evening is unfavorable the first fair evening. Title of play, "Help the Little War Orphans Find Happiness." After the program of cream and confectionery will be for sale.

Molasses will serve as a mouse catcher if you are short of a trap. The decomposition was proven, successfully Tuesday morning, at the postoffice when two dead and two live mice were held fast in some molasses jar that was cracked in shipping by parcel post.

Mrs. James Wheatly gave a very delightful party Friday night in honor of Miss Effie Wheatly's sixteenth birthday. There was a large attendance and all had a delightful time.

MOUNT OLIVE.

Well, springtime is here again with birds singing and frogs keeping time to their sweet refrain, makes everyone feel like being up and on the job, as it is time to make garden and plant potatoes. As they get "the early bird catches the worm."

We are having beautiful weather and some of our farmers are getting ready to make tomato beds.

Mr. Simon Davis, of Watersville, called on his brother, Mr. John E. Davis, of this place Sunday last.

Miss Elsie L. Davis, of Middle Run, visited her mother, Mrs. William Bowers, quite recently.

Mrs. Willard Buckingham visited Mr. Samuel Mathias and family one day last week.

Rev. F. R. Isaac, Mr. Kelso Ecker and Miss Hazel Clary took supper with Mr. Theodore Gosnell and family one evening last week.

Miss Mamie C. Mathias is on the sick list.

Fox hunting seems to be all the sport at this time. Mr. John T. Gosnell and Mr. Frank Thomas Davis had a delightful chase a few days ago and expect to have another in the near future. Let us hope they will catch Sir Reynard.

MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Woman's Club, Westminster, met on Tuesday, March 18th with Mrs. J. D. Warfield, the president, Mrs. Elderidge presiding. Russia was the topic for the day and the roll call, "Some Spirits that have sought the light." The papers showed that the members of the Club had delved into Russian history and current events, and learned much about that puzzling country. Mrs. M. S. H. Unger's able paper on "Her People" gave evidence of deep research into the annals of Russia. Mrs. Charles O. Clemson's paper, "The Causes that Led Up to the Revolution" gave the lack of political efficiency, death of leadership, though having a love of democracy, as one of the principal causes. Mrs. R. S. Cotterill gave a most interesting resume of the history of Poland and her influences on European history.
