

THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER

FOUNDED 1838.

$1.00 PER ANNUM.

WESTMINSTER, MD., FRIDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 5, 1919.

VOL. 56.—NO. 11.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE, ORPHANS' COURT, MARRIAGE LICENSES, ETC.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Susie E. Stewart et al. to Joseph A. Eyer and wife, 1 1/4 acres, for $400.00.

George A. Hostelt to Henry L. Hostelt and wife, 37 acres, 3 roads and 33 square perches, for $2500.00.

John W. Schaeffer, Jr., and wife, to Hanover Creamery Co., 1/4 acre, for $150.00.

Charles F. Stick and wife to Raymond W. Taylor, 1/4 acre, for $125.00.

George W. Rupp and wife to Raymond W. Taylor, 2 lots, for $5.00.

Charles E. Teague to Julia C. Teague, et al. 2 lots, for $10.00.

Paul E. Rutzmann and wife to Vernon Clifton Dell, 5 acres, for $1200.00.

Walter C. Graft and wife to Joseph M. Graft, 3 lots, for $5.00.

B. Frank Dorsey and wife to Stanley Dorsey and wife, one acre, for $2150.00.

Daniel Frankforter and wife to Shelman F. Frankforter, 2 1/2 acres, for $77.00.

Walter J. Wolbert and wife et al. to J. Frank Algire and wife, lot for $10.00.

Josiah D. Crowl and wife to Harry T. Robertson and wife, 6 acres, for $97.50.

William E. Williams and wife to Mollie Brauning, 7 acres, for $2303.00.

William E. Frederick and wife to Benjamin C. Rieley et al. 227 acres, 3 roads and 11 square perches, for $12,000.

Howard Diehl et al. executors, to Annie C. Diehl, 143 acres, 2 roads and 15 square perches, for $980.00.

Annie C. Diehl to Mervin R. Diehl et al., 143 acres, 2 roads and 15 square perches, for $10.00.

L. Grace Fleagle et al. to William L. Seabrook, 11 3/4 acres and 32 square perches, for $5.00.

William L. Seabrook and wife to Martin Koons et al., 11 3/4 acres and 32 square perches, for $5.00.

Thomas N. Rickell and wife to William P. Johnson, 4065 square feet, for $10.00.

Marriage Licenses.

Charles Grant Duval, of Sykesville and India Beatrice Norwood, of Hyattstown, Frederick county.

Walter C. Seitz, of Washington, D. C., and Ira J. Vans, of York, Pa.

George Clarence Abrahamson, of Las Animas, Colorado, and Mary Price, of Middleburg, Md.

Johney Allen Price and Ella Gertrude Elder, both of Middleburg.

Charles Reuben Henry Schaeffer and Kate Rosalie Hahn, both of Baltimore city.

Howard Raymond Dickensheets, of Westminster, and Nora L. Hahn, of Detour.

Harry E. Hyson, of Freehold, Baltimore county, and Emma K. Crowther, of Baltimore.

Willie F. Sterner, and Pauline V. Pink, both of Harney, Md.

Star Theatre

Monday, September 15
11c

It's a First National
Olga Petrova

"THE LIGHT WITHIN"

Tuesday, September 16
11c

It's a Goldwyn
Pauline Frederick

"ONE WEEK OF LIFE"

Wednesday, September 17
Afternoon 6c
Night 11c

It's a Select
Norma Talmadge

"THE WAY OF A WOMAN"

Thursday, September 18
11c and 17c

It's a Select Special
All Star Cast

"BREAK THE NEWS TO MOTHER"

Friday, September 19
11c

It's a Vitagraph
Harry Morey

"FIGHTING DESTINY"

Saturday, September 20

"THE TIGER'S TRAIL"

Paramount Mack Sennett
Comedy

"HIS HIDDEN PURPOSE"

Next Saturday, September 27, there will be some show at the OPERA HOUSE.

DEATHS.

Sullivan.

Noah Sullivan died Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock at the family residence, Hanover, Pa., after an illness of a few days from valvular heart trouble. He was aged 71 years and 1 day.

He deceased was born and reared in Bachman's Valley, Md. He was married to Miss Mary E. Warehime, of Bachman's Valley, who survives him with the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Cora M. Zepp, of Millers; Charles M. Sullivan, at home; Haldie C. Sullivan, of Manchester; Milton P. Sullivan, of Milton, Pa.; and Paul T. Sullivan, Hanover, Pa.; seven grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. John Gelman and Mrs. Henry Yingling, both of Carroll county, also survive.

Funeral Wednesday, September 24 at 1:30 o'clock p. m., from the home of the deceased, Rev. Dr. M. J. Roth of Trinity Reformed church, officiating. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Leatherwood.

Mr. Francis J. Leatherwood died suddenly of heart failure while attending Chautauqua at Mt. Airy on August 27. Mr. Leatherwood was born and raised near Woodbine. About ten years ago he gave up farming, moved to Mt. Airy and retired. He was much beloved and highly respected by all who knew him. He was an active and consistent Christian, being class leader at Morgan Chapel for many years and though we have never ceased to miss him, "We know thou art gone."

Where the weary are blest,
And the mourner looks up,
And is glad."

He leaves a devoted wife, Mrs. Rosa Day Leatherwood and the following children: Herbert, of Woodbine; Bradley, of Mt. Airy; Mrs. Alvin Conway, Mrs. Thos. Harrison and Mrs. Chester Hood; also a brother, Mr. Oliver Leatherwood and several sisters.

Crowmer.

Ruth T. F. Crowmer, aged 5 months and 5 days, infant daughter of Charles Crowmer, Union Bridge, died Monday. Services were held Tuesday at the house. Interment in the Hill cemetery, Uniontown. Rev. Yoder officiated at the services. Besides her parents, eight sisters survive. The pallbearers were young girls, Margaret Saylor, Catherine Saylor, Louise Bankard and Elizabeth Hesson. Harvey Bankard & Son funeral directors.

Sykesville.

Miss Ethel Emmart, of Baltimore, is visiting Miss Ruth Bennett.

Rev. J. Tolly Marah, of Baltimore, a former pastor at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, is a guest of friends here.

Mrs. Babitts, of Ellicott City, visited Mrs. Carrie Gauthier last week.

Miss Ruth Gill, who has just arrived from France, is visiting at the home of Miss Ella Shultz.

Mrs. Wm. H. Bennett and daughter, Louise, are visiting in Baltimore.

Miss Mary Melville, of Annapolis, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Melville.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker and Mr. Bernard Barker, the latter just returned from France, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Wm. H. Bennett.

Rev. Albert Dudley, of Indiana, preached a wonderful sermon at St. Paul's church last Sunday night.

Miss Nettie Yackie is still very ill at the home of her father.

Miss Mary Engle, of Ellicott City, is visiting Mrs. Wm. K. Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hood and family visited Timonium Fair Friday.

Miss Adele Harris, who has been visiting Chaplain and Mrs. Claude Loyfield, at Portsmouth, Va., has returned.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Purdum, Mrs. L. P. Shultz and Miss Lillian Shultz are spending some time at Love Point.

Mrs. Annie Butler, of Piedmont, W. Va., has been visiting her brother, Rev. Frank Fleming.

Mrs. Samuel Shipley left last Tuesday for the New England States, to visit her sister.

Warren S. Seipp, Deputy Grand Marshall of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Maryland, visited Freedom Lodge last Tuesday night.

Mrs. Marguerite Macey and Miss Dora Duerbeck, of Annapolis, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hepler.

Mrs. Kaufman and son, of Gardensville, are visiting at the home of Mr. T. S. Clark.

Misses Eleanor and Julia Dorsey were visitors at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Harry DeVries, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beck have returned from an extended visit to the West.

Rocky Ridge.

Mr. Harvey M. Pittenger spent Wednesday with his sister, Mrs. Clara M. Moser, of Good Intent.

Mrs. Carrie M. Pittenger spent Thursday with Mrs. Ella R. Pittenger, of Johnsville.

Mr. Clarence C. Pittenger and sister, Ada, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Powell, of Jintown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Pittenger spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, of Rocky Ridge, and also visited Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hahn, of Oak Hill.

Those who spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kanokle and family were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Layman, of near Lewistown; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rice and son, Howard and Miss Jennie Tressler, of Mountaineer; Mrs. Fannie Rice and daughter, Mrs. Goldie, and son, Joshua, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice and son, Ralph, of near Bethel.

Mr. Milton Pittenger spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. Washington Pittenger, of Loys.

Twelve Cold Storage Concerns, including Armour's, Indicted.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 30.—Twelve cold-storage concerns, packers and commission houses, including Armour & Co., were indicted by the Marion County Grand Jury today for alleged violation of the Indiana cold storage law and the state health law. The indictments covered 146 counts and followed an investigation of the high cost of living extending over a period of three weeks.

DROWNS AT OCEAN CITY

EDWIN E. MURRAY'S MOTHER, MRS. THOMAS MURRAY A FORMER RESIDENT SEES HIM GO DOWN WHILE ON A RESCUE ERRAND.

Edwin Emory Murray, a student at the Johns Hopkins University and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Murray, 3506 Powhatan avenue, Walbrook, was drowned Tuesday afternoon while bathing at Ocean City, Md., where he went a few days ago with his father, his mother and three sisters.

Mrs. Murray was standing on the shore and saw her son go down. He had gone to the help of another bather in distress and was swept out to sea. The body was not recovered, every effort proving futile. A strong undertow caught four bathers and carried them out. Three managed to reach shore after a severe battle with the waves. Mr. Murray struck out to aid one of the men, apparently in most danger and his strength gave out. He sank and was never seen again.

He was 20 years old and graduated from the Polytechnic Institute before entering the Johns Hopkins. He held a commission as second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery during the war and was stationed at Fortress Monroe. He was one of five out of 400 students who won an appointment from Hopkins to the student officers' training camp.

Mr. Murray was a nephew of Mrs. Frank Z. Miller, this city, and a grandson of the late Dr. J. W. Hering. He was a frequent visitor to relatives in this city.

Rev. E. T. Mowbray is ill at his home on East Main street.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mitchell, East Main street, upon the arrival of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Myers, of Baltimore, were guests of his mother, Mrs. W. Riley Myers, Center street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gorsuch, East Main street, have returned from a short vacation to Ocean City, N. J.

In this issue will be found an advertisement of J. W. Gilt Company, of Hanover, Pa., announcing a clearance sale.

Miss Neva Schorr and Mrs. W. Foss Mohr, of Baltimore are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Starr, West Main street.

Miss Blanche Riffe, Cranberry, is spending the week's end with her uncle and aunt, Prof. and Mrs. Stevens, of Frederick.

Twenty-five cents the price of a ticket to the entertainment on the Stewart grounds next Friday evening will pay for 1 quart of flies. Why not be a good citizen and buy several tickets.

The entertainment on the Stewart's lawn, Friday evening, September 12, for the benefit of the fly campaign will consist of vocal and instrumental music and a series of Indian pantomimes. You can not afford to miss it.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Campbell and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leidy and family, of this city, are spending several days at Atlantic City. To make the trip more enjoyable they went in their automobiles.

There will be a meeting of the Mollerville Farm Post, veterans of Foreign Wars in Odd Fellows Hall, Tuesday evening, September 9. All members requested to be present. All boys who have been overseas are invited to become members.

On Monday a jolly crowd of young folks enjoyed the Star's dam and spent the day in boating, fishing and swimming. They were from Baltimore, Finksburg and Westminster, and were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hobby, Miss Nellie Bixler and William Cline.

All soldiers, sailors and marines who spent any period of time during the war either in France or at home are requested to attend a meeting at the Armory on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a post of American Legion. Send your name to Mr. Peter N. Santos, the post organizer if unable to be present.

The funeral of Charles E. Goodwin held Saturday afternoon at his late home was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Day and Rev. E. T. Read. Interment was made in the Westminster cemetery. Pallbearers were Dr. Lewis K. Woodward, Dr. Henry M. Fitzhugh, Jesse C. Sharret, O. D. Gilbert, Geo. E. Matthews and Charles V. Wentz. F. A. Sharret & Son funeral directors.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Charles E. Goodwin the Consolidated Public Utilities Company of Westminster has lost a valuable director whose painstaking attention to the affairs of the Company, whose wisdom and distinguished counsel in the solution of its many difficult problems; and courage and fairness in determining the conduct of its management gave him a high place in the esteem of the Board of Directors. In addition to his worth as an official, his noble association of the Directors with him for many years makes his death a personal loss to every member of the Board.

Be it Resolved, Therefore, that as an evidence of their respect for the personal qualities and the business ability and integrity of Charles E. Goodwin, the Directors of the Consolidated Public Utilities Company of Westminster spread this resolution on its minutes and cause a copy to be sent to his widow and its publication in the Westminster papers.

THE CONSOLIDATED PUBLIC UTILITIES COMPANY OF WESTMINSTER.

C. RAYMOND MYERS, Secretary.

THREE UNDER AUTO

Joseph Wailes' Car Turns Turtle—Bruises and Cuts were Received by All

While trying to pass another machine on the Liberty road, near Randallstown, Md., Friday forenoon, an automobile was upset and its four occupants painfully injured. Joseph Wailes, of Sykesville, his wife, his mother, aged 85, and Vernon Myers, also of Sykesville, were in the car when it turned turtle, and all but Mr. Wailes were pinned under the body of the automobile. They were released by passing autoists and taken to Pikesville where they received medical aid.

Mr. Wailes fell clear of the machine and escaped with only slight bruises. His wife was cut about the face and hands and bruised about the body, while his mother suffered injuries of the shoulder and the collar bone. Mr. Myers sustained a severe cut on the leg. All were taken to their homes after treatment.

St. James Walloped.

On Sunday afternoon, August 31, a record breaking crowd visited Patapsco to see the Patapsco Base Ball team defeat the strong St. James team of Baltimore 13 to 1.

Every player on the Patapsco team featured with long hits. Tracey made a sensational catch by running to deep second base and putting a fly out of the air with right hand.

There was been playing a fast game at short for Patapsco, likewise robbing the visiting team out of a hit by running to deep short and pulling one out of the clouds and quickly returning same to Tracey and to Spencer at first, making a triple play.

Mr. Wailes was a nephew of Mrs. Frank Z. Miller, this city, and a grandson of the late Dr. J. W. Hering. He was a frequent visitor to relatives in this city.

On July 8th as Mrs. Jacob Myers was walking out in her truck patch she found a toy balloon and investigating it she found a card tied to the string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Altoona, Pa., August 22, 1919.

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mrs. Myers—Was very much surprised yesterday morning to receive my little tag which I had sent up on a balloon on July 4th. It was active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

CHAUTAQUA OVER

WILL RETURN NEXT YEAR—NEW OFFICERS ELECTED—LARGE AUDIENCES EVERY PROGRAM WAS EXCELLENT AND GREATLY APPRECIATED.

The 1919 Chautauqua closed last evening after giving our citizens one of the best programs of delightful entertainment and instruction ever rendered here. This was our eighth annual Chautauqua, a week of pleasure and enjoyment throughout. The lectures, entertaining and educational by eloquent speakers; the musical features given by talented artists the impersonators and all other events were enjoyed by a large attendance at each session.

The first session last Friday afternoon was largely attended when the Chautauqua superintendent, John Mason Wells delivered the first of his series lecture, "The New Day" and the Pietro Mordella Company, Italian musicians, composed of Pietro Mordella, a master musician on the piano-accordion, Miss Golding, an artist with the violin and Miss Buch, entertainer and vocalist rendered a program of delightful musical selections.

In the evening the audience was again entertained by the Pietro Mordella Company and Chancelor Bradford lectured on "Sun-crowned Manhattan."

Saturday afternoon and evening the Overseas Quartette gave delightful concerts of songs of trench and camp. Mr. Wells delivered the second of his series lecture in the afternoon and the lecture at night "Dollars and Cents for Your Town" illustrated by artistic drawings by Ross Crane.

Sunday evening a union service of the churches of the town was held in the Chautauqua tent. After a short devotional service and music by the Overseas Quartette Hoss Crane gave an illustrated lecture. "The World Tomorrow" after a short musical program Carlton Chamberlayne delivered his new lecture, "Tomorrow" and in the evening the American comedy drama, "Polly of the Circus" was given by experienced players before a large crowd of people.

Tuesday afternoon the Chautauqua superintendent gave the last of his series lecture and at night Frederick William Wile, best known American newspaper man in Europe, lectured on "John Bull and Uncle Sam" and musical program, both morning and evening were given by the 1919 Revue Company.

The Brooks Orchestral Club gave a pleasing musical program Wednesday afternoon after which Miss Welthy Homsinger, just returned from France gave active service in the war. I told me, as I really never expected to hear from it again. My father sent up quite a number of balloons that day but yours was the only one that we heard from. My father thought it was worth putting in the paper, string which bore the name of Virginia Kleffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kleffman, of 910 Twenty-fourth street, Altoona, Pa. Mrs. Myers laid the card away but several weeks later she sent it to the girl. It was only a few days until she received an answer, and this is what she said:

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.

Wednesday night the great American opera, "Robin Hood," Chautauqua great musical success. It was told of the reconstruction needs of war torn Europe with special reference to conditions affecting women and children.