Distribution of Quail in Carroll County.

Shipment of quail from Texas consigned to H. L. Hobby, reached Westminster last Monday morning and the various committees were notified and practically all of the quail were sent out for distribution the same day they arrived. These quail were distributed on as fair a basis as possible and every district in the county received their allotment. Owing to the fact that 60 were short in the shipment on account of many of them dying enroute, it was impossible to give as many to each district as was planned. These quail seem to be of the same specie as our bluish-white. This is some of the splendid work of the game department of Maryland in doing and the expense is borne by the revenue received from hunting licenses.

It is understood that nearly 6,000 quail have been ordered for this State for distribution. Let the good work continue.

FALLS INTO CREEK AND DROWNS

BODY OF MISS SPIELMAN, 17, DETOUR, NOT RECOVERED.

The body of Miss Lillie Spellman, the 15-year-old daughter of Robert Spellman, who fell from an improvised footwalk over the collapsed bridge over Double Pipe creek, near Detour, Friday morning and was drowned, has not been recovered. The rain Saturday and Sunday caused the stream to run very high and it is feared that the body has been washed into the Monocacy river, about a mile and a half below the bridge. Persons in boats dragged the stream and used dynamite Friday and Saturday without results.

The girl, who is a pupil at the Thurmont high school, crossed the footwalk earlier in the day and later returned safely. Afterward she started from home to mail a package and again attempted to cross. As had frequently been her custom, she crawled on her hands and knees, and when about midway between Carroll county line and first span she fell into the stream. Several small children witnessed the accident and immediately gave an alarm. Guy Warren, who keeps a store nearby, ran a short distance down the stream and plunged into the water. He waded out up to his armpits and when almost in reach of an object thought to have been the body it disappeared under the water. On account of the swiftness of the stream, Warren was nearly washed off his feet.

In a short time a crowd assembled and began searching for the body. The package she intended to mail, which was an Easter gift to her brother in Washington, was found some distance below the bridge and her hat was washed ashore near where the creek intersects the Monocacy river.

The footbridge consisted of two planks, each about a foot wide. The planks rested on parts of the collapsed structure, and have been used by school children and others in the neighborhood since the bridge went down. It is said that the planks slightly dipped under the weight of an ordinary person and it is thought that the girl either fell from this cause or became bewildered and dropped into the water. The stream being swift and high, her body was carried rapidly away, twice it is said, coming to the surface.

Upon hearing that her daughter had been drowned, Mrs. Spellman collapsed and has since been ill. The accident cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood, where the family is well known and where the girl has a wide circle of friends.

Last Sunday, 23 men, forming a human chain, stretched from bank to bank, waded in the stream for a mile in the hope of locating the body. The creek was a torrent and at times the men in the center of the chain were under water.

EASTER DANCE

PEOPLE FROM OVER THE COUNTY ATTEND—WAS A DISTRICT SUCCESS.

The Easter Monday dance under the auspices of Carroll Post No. 31, The American Legion and Molleville Farm Post No. 180, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held at the Army, in Westminster. About 300 people from Carroll and the adjoining counties attended.

It was more or less a novel affair in that there was almost continuous dancing; two local orchestras, having been provided, which furnished splendid music. The dance was given and especially to the committee representing the organizations for the manner in which they handled the affair, which resulted in an extremely pleasant evening for all present. The committee was composed of the following: J. Carbery Boyle, chairman; Chester E. Cassell, J. Leland Jordan, J. Bernard Pink, representing the American Legion and Preston G. Coffman and Paul M. Wimer, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

St. John's Church.

St. John's church was a busy place the last three days of the past week when services were held morning, afternoon and evening. It was remarkable to note the large congregation attending the many services. A unique devotion was the all day and all night Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament during Holy Thursday. The men of the congregation watched the hours from midnight until day light while the women and children were present during the day in answer to the request of the Saviour in his Chosen Apostles: "Could you not watch one hour with me?"

Impressive was the scene on Good Friday afternoon at the hour of our Saviour's death, when a large assembly was seen gathered about the Mt. Calvary Shrine in the cemetery to consider the Sacred Last Words of Our Lord on the Cross.

The solemn mass at 8 o'clock on Easter Morn opened the services of the day. The Rev. John Colligan, S. J., preached the sermon. Father McGuigan was the celebrant. The senior choir won general approval for the impressive rendition of the music of the mass. In the evening at Vespers, the Rev. A. J. Quevedo was celebrant and Father McPadden delivered an instructive sermon. He urged upon his hearers the loyalty of Mary Magdalen toward the risen Christ.

The Easter hymns of the children's choir directed by the music teacher of the school were admirably rendered at a low mass offered at 11 o'clock. The Easter music will be repeated next Sunday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Civic League will be held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Rainey, 22 Green street, April 15th, at 7:30 p. m.

Carroll Crawford, the head salesman and hustling young business man with Crawford Company, this city, has entered into real estate business with James D. Mitchell, the well known life and fire insurance agent. The business will be conducted with headquarters in a room in the Times Building.

All have filed their nominations with the Supervisors of Elections for Carroll County, for the contest in Primary election, May 3.

All three died within five minutes of one another. The case is said to be one of the most unusual in Massachusetts medical history. Mrs. Tapley was 37 years old and a native of Westminster. She was a Miss Darewell.
