WOMAN'S SHORT COURSE

SESSIONS WELL ATTENDED—MADE OVER CLOTHING BIG ATTRACTION—INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES.

The Woman's Short Course held in Westminster, April 8 and 9 under the auspices of the Woman's Advisory Council, directed by Miss Rachel Everett, was a decided success, and much appreciated by the women of the county.

Many of the women came in the morning and stayed all day, delightful luncheon being served by the ladies of the Lutheran church, in Mr. Mitchell's office. Both Mr. Mitchell and the Dollings Company offered their offices for the occasion. As these were both in the Times Building they were much appreciated.

The morning sessions were well attended, from 45 to 50 women were present each morning to see and hear Miss Day's unique and instructive demonstration on made-over clothes and millinery. A "Fashion Show" of made-over clothes arranged in the County Agent's office added to the interest of the occasion.

Dr. E. G. Oppenheimer of the Children's Bureau, and Miss Day gave another of her popular lectures on "Three Meals a Day."

Thursday afternoon the room was crowded with over 100 women, the program being carried out as planned. Miss Venia Kellar, State Home Demonstration Agent of College Park, gave the opening talk on Right Living from a Home-Maker's Standpoint.

Child-welfare was discussed by Dr. E. G. Oppenheimer of the Children's Bureau, and Miss Day gave another of her popular lectures on "Three Meals a Day."

Thursday night, Community Welfare was the subject. The Boy Scout Band, under the leadership of Mr. Peltz, gave us a fine concert and everybody enjoyed the Seminary Quartet.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Venia Kellar. The speakers of the evening were Miss Edna Meeker, of the War Camp Community Service; Mrs. Lantierum, Home Demonstration Agent of Anne Arundel county, and Miss Worthington, of the Red Cross. Miss Meeker talked on the Community Building as a war memorial, and gave illustrations of what had been accomplished in that line.

A community building or even a community room could be of such service to Westminster. Mrs. Lantierum told the women in Anne Arundel county, how their county organization had secured a suite of rooms to be used as a rest room, exchange, and general community purposes. Miss Worthington told of the peace time work of the Red Cross.

The Friday program was equal to Thursday. The women were so interested in trimming hats that one session blended into the other, some not even stopping for lunch.

The subject of conversation was discussed by Miss Day under the topic of "Budgets," by Dr. Stone under Conservation of Health, and a delightful reading was given by Miss Grace Lippey.

One evening program was opened by Keefer's Orchestra. The subject of Art in the Home was discussed by Mr. Carroll Sax, formerly of the Maryland Art Institute. Miss Elizabeth Swick, of Western High School, Baltimore, gave a talk on "Dress." This was illustrated by living models which created a great deal of amusement as both good and bad types were shown.

Both Mr. Sax and Miss Swick are busy people and we appreciated the giving of their time and assistance to this work. Miss Ethel Webb, of the Y. W. C. A. told of the work abroad and at home. As Miss Webb did not work over there she had many interesting experiences to tell.

The whole two days' program was much enjoyed. Everybody was enthusiastic and voted to have another next year.

The committees in charge of the Women's Short Course wish to thank all individuals and agencies who assisted in making our meetings a success.

The speakers were furnished by the State Agricultural College, the War Camp Community Service, the State Board of Health, the Y. W. C. A., and the Children's Bureau. The music and entertainment was furnished by the Boy Scout Band, Keefer's Orchestra, the Seminary Quartet, Miss Marjorie Yingling, Mr. Gilbert Martin and Miss Grace Lippey. To them all we extend our thanks. Also to Mr. Wampler, Mather and Sons, and Stonesifer's for materials, and to Mr. Mitchell and the Dollings Company for the loan of their offices.

Marriage Licenses. Charles David Spangler, of Benderville, Pa., and Dora Bender, of Lemoyne, Pa.

Charles Edward Koerner, of Alesia, and Sadie May Shaffer, of Hampstead. Hugh L. May, of Baltimore, and Sarah Kemper, of Westminster.

Miss Spielman's Body Not Recovered. Although large searching parties have been operating for the past week in an effort to find the body of Miss Spielman, Detroit, who was drowned in Double Pipe Creek, they have been unsuccessful. A reward of $200 has been offered for the recovery of the body by the County Commissioners of Carroll and Frederick counties.

Friday night, eight boats, linked by chains, were floated down the stream to the Monocacy, with searchlights thrown into the water, and a brother of Miss Spielman, Charles Deberry, wading the stream about a mile below the bridge, found the girl's sweater, which she wore at the time of the drowning. It was under water, wedged between two rocks, and had been washed or dragged from her body without turning the sleeves inside out or loosening the belt, which was buckled.
