GOT THE CHICKENS.

Charles E. Kimmy and Son, Andrew Arrested for Stealing Mr. Shery's Setting Hens.

Those at the hearing of Charles E. Kimmy and his son, Andrew, before Police Justice Dinst, yesterday afternoon, were reminded of the Mother Goose rhyme.

Three blind mice, see how they run, They all run after the farmer's wife, She cut off their tails with a carving knife.

Only in this case they were not mice, but chickens, and they did not run after the farmer's wife, but locked themselves up in Kimmy's shed, until Mrs. Kimmy opened the door and let them out.

Some of the chickens were setting hens, that further proved their intelligence by going back to their nests, when carried back to the Shery's. Edward O. Weant, Esq., appeared for Andrew, and Ivan L. Hoff, Esq., for the father.

The father sat mute, but Andrew swore that he did not steal the chickens, and both Andrew and Mrs. Kimmy swore that the father stole them. The evidence developed the following: Kimmy and Andrew have the same job as bridge tenders at Spring Garden on the Western Maryland Railway.

Kimmy, Sr., works from ten at night until six in the morning. Kimmy, Jr., from two to five in the afternoon until 10 at night. Young Kimmy testified that last Sunday, his father offered to work the double shift, if he would go home and steal Shery's chickens.

He said that he refused. His father then asked him to work double, so that he could steal them. He agreed to work for him, and did so on Sunday night. On Monday his father got on the bridge job and paid him back by working the straight 16 hours, and Andrew came home. Mrs. Kimmy swore that Andrew was not home Sunday night, but that her husband was. She swore that Andrew was home Monday night and went to bed and did not leave the house.

She further testified that her husband got in about 2 o'clock Monday morning, muddied and sweating and that he told her that he stole the chickens and she saw them next morning. The Shery's missed 31 chickens. Tuesday morning and reported to State's Attorney Brown, who with the sheriff went out to investigate. While questioning Andrew, the mother slipped up to the shed where the chickens were penned and opened the door so that they could go out. The Shery's identified 19 of them, though they had their tails cut off.

Mr. Dinst looked very wise as he heard the amazing testimony, but concluded that he could not solve the mystery, and "passed the buck" to the Circuit Court holding both father and son for the action of the grand jury.

IN MEMORIAM. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife and our dear mother, Harriet A. Miller, who died two years ago, April 23, 1918.

Death has robbed me of my dear wife. Of one I loved so well. Taken from this world of sorrow, Safely home, with him to dwell.

Who the evening shades are gathering, And I sit all alone, In my heart there comes a longing, But she only would come home.

By her loving husband, T. J. Miller. The memory of our mother. While we live will be, A monument of endless love, A heavenward guide for me.

Sad and sudden was the call, Two years ago today, Called from this world to a peaceful rest, Called by our Lord, who knoweth best.

Whose love can equal the love of a mother, Whose devotion, so loyal and true, Who suffers so much with joy for another, Who waits with such pleasure as mother for you?

You hall with delight the friendship of others, You reveal in love of the sweetheart you've won, Yet when do you find a friendship like mother's, Unbroken till death calls and life's work is done.

By her loving daughter, Ada. Into sweet rest mother has entered, No more to grieve or to weep, She is smiling upon us from Heaven, Our dear mother has fallen asleep.

She has gone to Heaven before us, But she turns and waves her hand, Pointing to the glories o'er us, In the happy spirit land.

It is sweet to know we will meet again, Where parting is no more, And that the ones we love so dearly, Have only gone before.

And oh, the hope, the blessed hope, That cheers our weary hearts, That when our day of life has fled, We shall meet no more to part.

By her loving daughter, Millie. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, Willie A. Williams, who departed this life one year ago today, April 23, 1919.

A year ago you left me, And I oft have wondered why, In the strength of youth and beauty, Then were called so soon to die.

Grothe. Mammie B., wife of Elisha Grothe, died at her home at Boring on Tuesday afternoon, aged 20 years. Besides her husband and an infant child, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos B. Utz; three sisters and three brothers. Her funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. J. A. Howe in charge, assisted by Rev. S. J. Dr. The pallbearers were Fred Hundermark, Howard Shaffer, L.R. Upperco, Walter Myers, Harry Markland and Raymond Bossom. Tipton and son funeral directors.
