

THE SANDMAN STORY

DAHLIAS AND ASTERS

IT WAS getting to be very cold weather, but the Dahlias and Asters, growing in the garden by the high stone wall did not seem to mind it.

The leaves had fallen from the trees the night before, and as they rustled past they called to the flowers: "You better go to sleep, Jack Frost gave us a terrible fright last night in his white coat."

The sparrows in the tree over the garden wall looked down and chat-

"We have been ASLEEP ALL SUMMER." "You silly flowers! Don't you know it is cold and you will freeze! Go to bed!"

The bare limbs of the trees waved back and forth, crackling in the wind, to warn them that it was getting late, but the Dahlias and the Asters only raised their bright heads and nodded.

"What care we for the chill, crisp air?" they said to each other. "We have been asleep all summer. Why should we hurry away, now that we are here?"

The cold wind came that night and told them that winter was on his way and they better go to sleep, and the rain came down to tell them it might be its last visit, for the snow was getting impatient to fall.

The next morning the sun came out and the Dahlias and Asters laughed as they bobbed about. "Who is afraid of snow? We are not; why, we just love the cold, crisp air."

"You flowers better go to sleep," called a squirrel from the top of the garden wall. "Don't you know we had a frost last night and it is late for flowers to be out?"

"We are not afraid of frost or snow," called back the flowers, "and why shouldn't we stay a long time? Why does everyone tell us to go to sleep?"

But that night old North Wind came down from his cold white home and over the garden wall he flew, grumbling and muttering. "Where are they, where are they?" he asked.

And straight to the Dahlias and Asters he flew in a terrible temper. "What is all this I hear about you?" he asked.

"Don't you know it is time you were in bed and asleep? It is Thanksgiving time and the people want snow, and here you are holding back the seasons. Get to bed, all of you, quick!"

And then how he did blow and bluster about! The poor Dahlias and Asters hustled into bed and when morning came they were fast asleep under a blanket of snow, and never once did they show their heads until the next year.

THE NAILS

IF POSSIBLE every woman should have a professional manicurist go over her nails once in a while, unless she is quite expert at doing them herself. She should also have a professional go over her feet once every few months. The charges for such work are always moderate, and the pain and expense saved later, by the prevention of corns and other troubles is more than worth it. It is like going to a dentist twice a year, to save expensive fillings later.

At home, the nails should receive a little attention each day. The skin should be pushed back with an orange wood stick, to prevent its growth over the nail itself, and any small pieces that collect and harden along the side of the nail should be clipped off. The nails should be kept filed to a small rounded point. Vaseline rubbed into them every night will prevent ridges forming, unless there is a quantity of lime in the blood.

For the regular manure, the nails should be filed to shape and rubbed with cold cream, after the fingers have been held in soapy warm water. Then the loose skin is scraped off with edge of the file, the cuticle cut or pushed back, and all the hard skin cut away from the sides, till the nail appears a perfect oval, set in the finger. Then the bleach is put under the nail, if any is needed, the polish is put on, and the nail is polished with a buffer rubbed with chalk. Then all rouge and powder is washed off gently, and the nail, pink and perfect, receives its final polish by rubbing it against the palm of the hand.
