ROBINSON THE LEADER

SENATOR SMITH MAKING PUBLIC CAMPAIGN AND IS MEETING WITH SUCCESS—CITY REPUBLICANS AGAINST WELLES.

Ex-Senator Thomas H. Robinson, of Belair, has accepted the Chairmanship of the Democratic State Executive Committee, has opened his headquarters, at Rennett's and hereafter will have full charge of the campaign in Maryland.

Mr. Robinson is one of the ablest and most capable men in the State, and what is of equally great importance, he is the personification of activity and industry. The very mention of his name in connection with the real management of the contest inspired confidence and hope in the minds of everybody interested in the success of the Democratic ticket, in the City and State and the work will now go on in such a manner as to insure in the general opinion a decided victory here, not only for Cox and Roosevelt, but for Senator Smith and a majority of the Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives.

Senator Robinson is especially well qualified, in other respects, to manage a campaign at the present time. He has a very large acquaintance not only throughout the Counties, but he is also a friend of many years standing of the City leaders of both factions, and he is particularly well liked by certain of the influential City leaders, whose active assistance he will no doubt receive to a much greater extent than any other public man available for the Chairman. He was the spokesman for the member of the Maryland delegation at the San Francisco Convention, and aided materially in gaining the Presidential nomination for Cox and Roosevelt, and was one of the original supporters of the Ohio Governor. There is no doubt but that the Democratic campaign will move forward with great force and vigor and that the "which has been apparent, will disappear.

Senator Smith is campaigning this week on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Welles, his Republican opponent, is making a mysterious, dark lantern sort of a campaign in the slums and among the negroes, for he barely appears in the day time, and is seldom seen by really reputable white people, either in Baltimore or elsewhere. No one admitted to his presence except those who know the mystic passwords, and his campaign up to the present time, has been largely devoted to conference with negro preachers and back alley leaders, in the black belt in Baltimore. In fact the whole Republican campaign here has been of the same mysterious, dark lantern variety. The real old time Republicans, such as Ex-Governor Goldsborough, Ex-Congressman Thomas Parran, Mr. William Warburton and men of the class who have giving tone and character to the Republican party in years past, are not in favor with Mr. Welles as his satellites, and are apparently taking no part in the campaign. They are gentlemen, and not gutter snipe, dark lantern and have no part and parcel in the present Republican regime.

Senator Smith, on the other hand, is making an open and thoroughly public campaign. He is not ashamed of his long and honorable public record in his home State, and among his home people. His life from his birth to the present time, is known to the people of Maryland, and he has held in turn offices from the lowest to the highest, and no one has ever questioned his personal honesty and integrity in anything that he has ever done, either public or private. He has been loyal and unswerving Democrat of the old regular style, and has never been in politics for profit—no one ever accused him of taking a corrupt or dirty dollar. His campaign is like himself—out in the open. He is placing his personality and his record before the people, and he has nothing to defend or explain for he knows and his friends know, that his personality and his public and private record contain nothing which requires explanation of which he or his people need be ashamed, and his closest friends are more than his personality—and, public services will rank him in days to come among the noblest and best in the history of the State.

Governor Ritchie and his road commission unlike their predecessors, are viciously pushing the work entrusted to them in a way most to the public. In selecting this most important of his commissions, especially the commission which has charge of the expenditure of the largest sum of money, the Governor made no mistake. He appointed men in whom he had implicit confidence himself, and in whom he knew the public had confidence. The members of the board take great interest in the work. Messrs. Winebrenner and Crothers, together with the Governor, attend all meetings and nothing is determined except at the meetings. Mr. Mackall, chairman, is what the head of such a board should be, a thoroughly competent and capable Road Engineer, and he knows the State thoroughly from end to end. He is not an importation, but a Maryland born and bred, and his skill and success in his work are evidence that there is no necessity to go elsewhere to get men to head local enterprises, as seems to have been the

Mr. Mackall's success has given the lie to all such foolish claims, and Maryland is fortunate in being able to find him out and use him where he belongs.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

VELNOSKEY'S SHOP SHOP DAMAGED—AUTO TRUCK BURNS—CHARLES ST. RESIDENCE PARTLY DESTROYED—BARN, OUTBUILDINGS, CROPS, ETC., OF JONATHAN DORSEY A TOTAL LOSS

What might have been a disastrous fire at the residence of Dr. S. Luther Bare, West Main street, Friday night, was discovered by the doctor on his return from a call. A lamp had ignited a table and burned itself out without being noticed by any of the family. The table was badly burned.

While receiving gasoline at C. E. Eckenrode's, dealer in gasoline, auto accessories, etc., West Main street, Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock, the truck of Mr. D. M. Beegle, Spring Mills, caught fire when a lantern exploded the gasoline that overflowed, burning the truck body badly and also ignited the gasoline line to the pump. The machine was pushed back by a crowd of men and the fire company summoned, who extinguished the blaze with chemicals, which was shooting up in the air as high as the buildings. The pants of Robert Ibe, who was in the machine, caught fire and was burned from his person before the fire was put out. He was badly burned and was taken to the office of Dr. Bare, where his burns were treated and later sent to his home, suffering intensely. Mr. Mapp, the Goodyear representative, assisted Mr. Eckenrode in operating a fire extinguisher with good result.

About 11:30, a few hours after the destruction of Mr. D. M. Beegle's truck, Tuesday night, an alarm of fire was sounded for the shoe repair shop of Charles J. Velnoskey, next to C. E. Eckenrode, West Main street. The fire had a good headway, the flames shooting high up into the air when the fire company arrived, but with two lines of water the fire was soon under control. The stock is practically a total loss. The interior of the building is badly charred. George April occupies the rooms over the shop. His furniture was damaged by water and smoke. The windows from the roof to the first floor were all broken by the heavy stream of water. Mr. Velnoskey has a small insurance, but will not near cover his loss. How the fire started or what part of the building seems unknown. Some believe a spark from the truck fire came over the roof and struck in sky-light and caused the fire to start. Stoner & Hobby have the insurance.

The double house of Thomas Summers, colored, Charles street, caught fire Sunday morning about 8:30 o'clock and burned the roof off. The fire started in the attic and as soon as discovered an alarm was given and the furniture moved out. Nearly all was saved. The fire company did good work. Being that the fire started where it did it burned slowly. The fire started in the side of the dwelling occupied by William Summers. Loss is covered by insurance. The colored population was very much excited while the fire was in progress.

Jonathan M. Dorsey's barn and contents, hay, farming implements and machinery, with three large graneries containing about 1,500 bushels of wheat, all outbuildings and straw stacks and one mule, on his farm on the Washington road, near Berrett, were destroyed by fire Monday morning. Flames first seen on the barn floor, swept rapidly through the structure. A large number of laborers at B. F. Shriver Co.'s canning factory, at Sykesville, was sent to the scene of the fire to help protect adjoining property.

Threshing was in progress and it is supposed that the fire was caused by a spark from the engine. Though Mr. Dorsey carried a fire insurance, his loss is said to be very heavy, proximately $30,000.

Tom Goes to St. Mary's Industrial School.
Last year, a young boy by the name of William Thomas Carr, Jr., took Mr. George W. Brown's automobile from the street in Westminster, and drove it to Winfield, where he and the car were located by the late John Stem. He was paroled by Judge Moss, after indictment. Dr. Glenn W. Horner's garage was broken into last week and his automobile taken. Sheriff Bloom, remembering the former experience with Tom, suspected that he was the culprit. He found the machine in a field near Tom's home, and arrested the boy. His father employed former State's Attorney Seabrook, who had prosecuted Tom on the other occasion, to look after the boy's interests. Tom at first denied his guilt, but afterwards admitted it to his father and Mr. Seabrook. With the consent of State's Attorney Brown and Dr. Horner, Mr. Seabrook consented with Brother Paul, Superintendent of St. Mary's Industrial School, and thought that institution is crowded and has been compelled to refuse hundreds of boys, it consented to admit Tom. On information that Tom is incorrigible, Police Justice Walsh, on Wednesday, committed him to St. Mary's and Sheriff Bloom at once took him to the school, where he will remain until he is 21 years old.

MISSOURI WOMEN CLASH AT POLLS

One Candidate Refuses To Leave Ballot Box; Brings Yardful of Negro Women Later.

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—Two clashes at the polls with one of the candidates for member of the Women's Republican County Committee enlivened the Republican Women's county primary election in Kansas City and Jackson county.

A woman whose home was being used for balloting telephoned Republican headquarters that one of the candidates was sitting beside the ballot box.

"I told her she would have to get out, but she said she wouldn't go. What shall I do?" she asked.

"Get a piece of gas pipe and run her out," suggested the man at Republican headquarters.

An hour later the police called again, saying the candidate was back with a yardful of negro women whom she "brought to vote for her."

Republican headquarters had no remedy for this situation. Finally the negro women were permitted to vote, but a count of returns tonight showed the troublesome candidate had been defeated.

A Dinner.

One of the most notable events of the season in this community was a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fahney, on Labor Day, September 6, at their residence "Oak Spring", near Watersville. The weather was not propitious as it was cloudy and showery, but did not deter the guests from coming or mar the pleasure of the occasion. All felt fully repaid for coming through the rain. It was a time of meeting and greeting of relatives and friends and good cheer and sociability prevailed. The kind host and hostess entertained all in the most hospitable manner. The chief feature being a bountiful dinner, consisting of viands of all kind in season, and delicious ice cream and cakes of different varieties. Mrs. Mary E. Englar, the mother of Mrs. Fahney, was present, and it was a happy time for her, as three generations of her family were there. Her sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, all in due manner, attempted to shed its brightness on the departing guests, who went to their homes with pleasant memories of the day, and the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fahney, and with the wish that other events might come like this through the rolling seasons, and future years. The guests included relatives and friends, who were: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. CHAUTAQUA FINE

BELGIAN BAND MAKES A HIT—ALL SESSIONS LARGER THAN LAST YEAR IN ATTENDANCE.

It is the unanimous opinion of our citizens that the Chautauqua program for 1920 was the best yet presented. This is our ninth annual Chautauqua and will not be our last unless something unforeseen puts in its appearance. The lectures were educational and entertaining by renowned speakers of the country. The Belgian band and other musical features could not have been better. Every session was attended by the largest audiences in the nine years.

The first session opened Saturday afternoon by Mr. O. D. Gilbert, president of Westminster Chautauqua, by making a short address and introducing the Chautauqua Superintendent. The Del Mar Quartette commanded the attention of the crowd at the afternoon and evening sessions, being the feature of the day's program. Alton Packard, cartoonist and humorist, kept the audience in a high glee during his performance.

Sunday evening a union service of the churches of the town was held in the Chautauqua tent. After devotional services the Del Mar Quartet rendered several excellent musical numbers.

Monday afternoon, being a damp and dreary day, caused no damper on the chautauqua tenders. The tent was filled to hear The Oxford Company, classical musical artists; and Dr. Thomas Curtin, lecture on "Behind the Scenes in Europe." In the evening The Oxford Company presented "The Doll."

Tuesday afternoon the Belgian Band was the attraction and made a place in the hearts of the citizens that will never pass out. Donato Coleferina, an Italian tenor, who sang with the Band, was given a rousing reception after each number. It was a treat to hear this young Italian.

Wednesday afternoon Rafael Navas, Spanish pianist, was the attraction. "Physically Fit," a health demonstration was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. Rucker Adams. In the evening the comedy drama, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," was presented with special scenery by Chautauqua players.

The last sessions of the 1920 chautauqua was presented Friday. In the afternoon the Juniors presented "A Mother Goose Party," which was well presented and enjoyed, followed by a concert and entertainment by the Varsity Chautauqua Club. They also entertained at evening.

Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, "The Flying Parson," closed with a lecture entitled, "Motor Troubles of Society."

The boys and girls of Junior town had a big week in the brown chautauqua tent. Nearly two hundred came out every morning and taking a lively part in the Junior program. The officers of Junior Chautauqua were as follows: Charles Foutz, Mayor; Kathryn Waddell, Clerk; Law and Order, Cordelia Myers, Katherine Grumblin, Lewis Woodward; Service, Elizabeth Crumblin; Elizabeth Diefendal, Howard Kooztz; Health, Helen Dorsey; Miriam Myers and Rix Diefenbach; Thrift, Gladys Walck, Katherine Bell and Ned Shriver.
