

Mother's Cook Book

The thing that goes the furthest toward making life worth while, that costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile. The smile that bubbles from the heart that loves its fellow men will drive away the clouds of gloom and coax the sun again. It's full of worth and goodness too, with many kindnesses bent—its worth a million dollars and it doesn't cost a cent.

Seasonable Good Things.

When there are three or more ears of corn left from dinner use them as a luncheon or supper dish. Cut the corn from the cob; add a finely minced or shredded green pepper; put into a saucepan with a little butter or bacon fat, the pepper, and when cooked for five minutes add the corn and stir until well heated through. Serve hot.

Fresh green corn cut from the cob, seasoned and mixed with green pepper, then baked in a casserole is a most dainty dish which is served piping hot from the dish.

Banana Cream Ramekins.

This is a rather unusual hot dessert. Whip two cupsfuls of cream, stiff, and beat five eggs without separating. Have ready one cupful of ripe bananas chopped fine. Stir fruit and cream carefully together without destroying the lightness of the cream; add the eggs with half a cupful of sugar; half fill individual ramekins which have been well buttered, and bake in a moderate oven until puffed and a delicate brown. Serve at once as it will soon fall as it cools.

Chicken a la Terrapin.

Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter; add a tablespoonful of flour; stir until blended; add one pint of finely-minced chicken and a cupful of cream. Let stand over hot water and when the mixture is heated add the yolks of three hard-cooked eggs put through a sieve and rubbed smooth with a little cream. Add the whites chopped fine and let the mixture come to the boiling point. Season and serve.

Grape Catsup.

Put five pounds of grapes through a vegetable press; add two and one-half pounds of brown sugar, two cupfuls of vinegar, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one tablespoonful of pepper, and the same of whole cinnamon, allspice, and whole cloves and two blades of mace. Boil until thick; remove the whole spice and bottle while hot.

Ham Toast.

Scald one-half cupful of cream; add the beaten yolk of one egg, stir until it thickens. Add one cupful of boiled ham chopped fine; when hot, season and serve on toast.

Chestnuts en Casserole.

Remove the shells from three cupfuls of chestnuts, put them into a casserole dish and cover with three cupfuls of highly-seasoned chicken stock. Cover and cook slowly for three hours in a slow oven, then thicken the stock with two tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of flour cooked together. Send to the table in the casserole dish.

THE PUP.

He tore the curtains yesterday, and scratched the paper on the wall; Her rubbers, too, have gone astray. Ma says she left them in the hall. He tugged the table cloth and broke a fancy saucer and a cup; Though Bud and I think it a joke Ma scolds a lot about the pup.

The sofa pillows are a sight, The rugs are looking somewhat frayed; And there is ruin, left and right, That little Boston bull has made. He slept on Buddy's counterpane, Ma found him there when she woke up. I think it needless to explain, She scolds a lot about the pup.

And yet he comes and licks her hand And sometimes climbs into her lap And there, Bud lets me understand, He very often takes his nap. And Bud and I have learned to know "She wouldn't give the rascal up. She's really fond of him although She scolds a lot about the pup."

PRETTY FEET

GOOD shoes cover a multitude of defects in the matter of feet yet every woman wants to have her own feet as naturally pretty as possible. And it is not an easy task to bring feet long disfigured by corns and callouses into the pink and white and perfect form that nature intended.

The first thing to do, however, is to make quite sure that the style of shoe being worn is one that agrees with the foot. If new corns come, if the toes are pushed together, you may be sure that special type of footwear had better be discarded. For one thing, sharp pointed shoes are harmful to any sort of foot. They push over the big toe against the next smaller one to bring the large toe in the center of the foot and the point of the shoe, at one and the same time. This means eventual disfigurement.

Heels more than an inch and a half high are injurious; they throw the balance of the body outside the normal line. It would be an excellent thing if women would adopt the English walking boot style for daytime, if they are on their feet much of the time. These have half heels, and are stylish, and usually extra well made. For evenings Cuban and French heels are all right. Then, the feet should be bathed in hot water and soap every night, unless one gets a hot bath daily. They need more attention than the rest of the body since, being encased in leather two-thirds of the time, they get less ventilation than any other part. People with foot trouble would find comfort if they wore open sandals in the house with stockings over the feet.

Dodge Prices WILL REMAIN
Have Always Given Full Value For The Price Asked

Official confirmation of press dispatches from Detroit, announcing that there would be no reduction in the price of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars, has been received by H. H. Harbaugh, dealer in this city. A telegram from C. W. Matheson, acting general sales manager to the local dealer, reads:

"Dodge Brothers policy has ever been to give full value for the price asked. There will be no reduction in the present prices of Dodge Brothers motor cars. Newspaper reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

"Dodge Brothers announcement was no surprise to us," said H. H. Harbaugh. "In fact, it is only a substantiation of Dodge Brothers business principles. At no time have they ever demanded an excess amount for their product. As in the past, they will continue in the future to demand a fair return for their efforts."

"The mere fact that the demand for Dodge Brothers motor cars is still greater than the supply, despite the great expansion program at the factory, has absolutely nothing to do with the decision to continue the present prices. In marketing their car Dodge Brothers have never made a point of price and will never sacrifice the quality of their product to enter price competition."
