Mail Carrier, Joseph S. Stoner, on Route No. 1, this city was injured Monday by his automobile skidding and upsetting on him. Mr. Stoner was going up a steep hill near Morelock's School House, on the Flickinger Mill road, when near the top the car started backward by slipping in the mud, and kept going until it upset. He managed to crawl from under the car with the assistance of his patrons. The car was set on its four wheels again. The top and wind shield were mashed beyond repair, but the mechanical part was not much damaged. Mr. Stoner is bruised up somewhat, but is able to be out.

France has her own Henry Ford but his name is Andre Citroen. Like the famous Detroit citizen, Citroen started life as a mechanic. Burned the midnight oil studying his books while the other fellows held down marble-topped tables at the cafe-concert, as-tounded the local bank manager with the amount of his savings and dreamed about standardization. Today everybody in France knows Citroen. His cars provide the French low comedians with their best jokes just as Mr. Ford's vehicles afford a medium for the witticisms of the Loew and Keith circuits. The "Marie en fer blanc," or "Tin Mary," as the Paris boulevardiers have christened the Citroen car, is cussed and driven just as hard as the more venerable "Tin Lizzie." "Tin Mary" is to be introduced into the country just the same as the "Tin Lizzie" is in France.

Twelve others seriously injured.

It may be interesting to the reader to learn of the largest tree in the world, near Calcutta, India. It is 150 years old and is called a Banyan tree. The main trunk is five feet from the ground, 51 feet in circumference; around its crown it is 997 feet. It is 85 feet high and its spreading branches could furnish shade for at least one thousand people. We get this information from a missionary located at Dhantari, India.

In regard to the High Cost of Living, a writer has made up a list of "ups." Here are a few of them. If we talk too much, we are told to "shut-up." We give our children a "bring-up." The season "opens-up" and "closes-up." You "get-up" and "wash-up," "chop-up" wood. You "kindle-up" the fire, "light-up" the room, "cut-up" the steak, and "sweep-up" the room. Horses "stir-up" a dust, and boys "kick-up" a fuss. You "grow-up," "surge" "roll-up," the storm "comes-up," and the wind "blows-up." Now let us have some "come-down" and let us have it quickly.

Tennessee has not only gone Republican but gone "patronage crazy," according to advices received at Washington. Almost everybody who voted for Harding expects to get into the Cabinet, become a bureau chief, officiate as judge or marshal or receive some other Federal office plum as soon as Harding becomes President.

For the first time in the history of our country the farmers go on a strike. About 90,000 farmers in the Middle West have banded themselves together declaring they will not sell their wheat until prices advance. We shall with interest watch the developments of this strike.

It may not be generally known that Maryland is a great muskrat state. There are hundreds of muskrat farms in the state, most of them being a Dorchester County, the swamp lands there bringing larger revenues to the muskrat farmers than do the choicest farm lands to the grain, fruit and other stock farmers.

Not everybody has near neighbors. Here comes a letter from Oregon: "I am sixteen years of age and live on a homestead. My nearest girl-friend lives seven miles away and I do not see her often, and she is in the same situation. We go eight miles after our mail once a week and the nearest store is twelve miles away. But for all these hardships our country is very healthy. A doctor is seldom needed here."

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, Adam P. Vingling, who departed this life one year ago, November 21, 1920.

Rest on dear father, thy labor is o'er. Thy willing hands will toil no more. A faithful father, both true and kind. A truer father, you could not find.

Day by day, the ties are broken. Seems like nothing here can last. Day by day, we miss the voices. That have cheered us in the past.

Dear hands that did so much for us. When helplessly we lay. God knows they worked continuously. But they are gone today.

By his WIFE and CHILDREN.

In loving remembrance of my dear Father, Adam P. Vingling, who departed this life one year ago, November 21, 1920.

Oh how hard we tried to save him. Prayers and tears were all in vain. Happy angels came and took him. From this world of sorrow and pain.

You are not forgotten, father. As ever, will you be. As long as life and memory lasts, I will remember thee.

His daughter, ESTELLA.

In loving remembrance of my dear Mother, Sarah J. Caple, who died five months ago, June 20, 1920.

Have you a mother? Love her well. While she is here on earth. Do not wait until her death. To appreciate her precious worth.

We miss you from our home, dear mother. We miss you from your place. A shadow o'er our lives is cast. We miss the sunshine of your dear face.

Ponderful be thy rest, dear mother. 'Tis sweet to breathe thy name. In life we loved you dearly. In death we do the same.

You shall never be forgotten. Never shall your memory fade. Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger. Round the grave where you are laid.

By her daughter, Fannie E. Caple.
