FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 7 1921

Many people want a bar placed on aliens. Formerly a large part of the aliens used to place themselves before the bar.

John Barleycorn may have passed away, but for some reason large numbers of people seem to visit his grave regularly.

There is said to be one automobile for every fourteen persons, and the thirteen non-owners can use the streets with some degree of safety from 12 midnight until about 7 a. m.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father who departed this life just one year ago to-day-January 5th, 1920.

One year has gone dear father, And I miss you more and more. But some day perhaps we'll meet you On that bright and happy shore.

Death has robbed me of my father, Of one we love so well. Taken from this world of sorrow, Safely home with him to dwell.

The flowers I lay upon your grave May wither and decay, But the love I have for you dear father Shall never fade away.

By his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schaubel.

Oh how we miss our loving grandpa. As we stand beside his lonely grave; Although we are too young to realize it, But we will know the meaning some day.

Dear grandpa never shall be forgotten, Never shall his memory fade; Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger, Around the grave where he is laid.

By his grandchildren, Clifton and Anna.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband who departed this life just one year ago to-day, January 5th, 1920.

You are resting in peace dear husband, One sad year has passed away, You are gone but not forgotten, As I think of you each day.

Some where in the land of flowers, Just beyond the gate of tears, My husband waits for his companion, Who is broken with grief of years.

From this world of grief and trouble, To the land of peace and rest; God has taken my dear husband Where there is eternal rest.

With loving thought and fond regrets, The days forever fled, For the one I loved and cannot forget, Lies with the silent dead.

Why should we call it death, This calm sweet sleep of peace, When the tired heart is at rest, And all life sorrow ceases.

By his wife, Mrs. Annie E. Williams.
