Topics Of The Country

G. O. P. politicians are showing a lively interest in the plum plan.—Nashville Banner.

Another difference between death and taxes is that death is frequently painless.—Louisville Post.

Save your pennies and the dollars will take care of the lawyer who breaks your will.—Richmond News Leader.

Overcoats can now be bought for a song, says a trade journal. Must be talking to Car...—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

How would it do to amend the immigration law so as to require every newcomer to bring a house with him?—Dallas News.

Chicago wants a mint. The bandits must be running out of material.—Little Rock Arkansas Gazette.

In business "middleman" is a misnomer. He is on top with one foot on the farmer's neck and the other on the consumer's Adam's apple.—Tolgo Blade.

Before committing ourselves on the subject of the proposed blue laws we want to learn whether they bar Sunday practise on the corner.—Marion Star.

Senator Warren says the United States Treasury needs a friend. Well, many citizens would like to be on friendly terms with the Treasury.—Washington Post.

Constantine polled 98 per cent. of the Greek vote. As a friend of the Democratic party, we should like to know the name and address of his campaign manager.—Little Rock Arkansas Gazette.

The packers make very small profits, but know how to make both ends meet.—Boston Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Constantine says he has no hard feelings toward the Allies. How much does he want to borrow?—Detroit Journal.

An actress says she can't live on $50,000 a year. A lot of people who would like to can't, either.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Even the Eighteenth Amendment and Mr. Volstead's law do not prevent trouble brewing now and then.—Indianapolis Star.

New York Police Department might start a drive for a hospital to accommodate citizens beaten up by thugs.—Brooklyn Eagle.

America will never get over being sentimental. It grew its largest rye crop this year.—Louisville Post.

Maybe the noise of riveting in our ship-yards makes it impossible for Japan to hear the talk at Geneva about disarmament.—Little Rock Arkansas Gazette.

Prohibition may not prohibit, but observance of the Volstead Act compares favorably with the respect paid to the speed laws.—Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont.

Population of these United States, according to the new figures, 117,357,349—some of whom have not been mentioned for President Harding's Cabinet.—Boston Globe.

The prohibitionists haven't yet got John Barleycorned.—Richmond News Leader.

The Allies were unable to cook Constantine's goose in Greece.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Our Government does not profess to live within its income, but only within ours.—Wall Street Journal.

Perhaps the Germans think it was worth 19,000,000 marks to get the Kaiser out of the country.—Indianapolis Star.

The decline in prices seems to have hit everything but what, a person really wants to buy.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

There wouldn't be so much objection to increasing the size of Congress if there were a chance of improving its quality.—Washington Labor.

According to the Federal trade commission the cost of coal at the mine has gone up fifty-two cents a ton since 1918. Who got the other $9.48?—Marion Star.

Leonard may be the first all-Wood Cabinet member, but many have had wood tops.—Moline Dispatch.

It doesn't help much to beat our swords into plowshares unless we can beat our loafers into plowhands.—Tacoma Day.

For the next few years plum-trees will be most plentiful in the northern regions of the United States.—Washington Labor.

Investigation has shown the price of coal at the mine, but what about the price of silk hose at the cotton patch?—Cleveland News.

Soon it will be cheaper to buy winter clothing than to go South for the season.—New York Evening Post.

Difference between a coal-proffiteer and a gunman seems to be that the latter uses a gun.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Well, no wonder the coal operators couldn't afford to give the miners more pay. All they were making was 150 per cent. profit.—New York Call.

Judging by some of the stinks the butchers are selling, the packers are using the leather that the shoe men can't find a market for.—New York World.

The Germans are still paying salaries to the Hohenzollerns, but they aren't pinning any more medals on them.—New York World.
