HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"GRAND."

THE word "grand" has its proper place in English, but it is frequently misused. Used properly, it means "impressive, of imposing character or size, of large proportions."

Thus, we may say of St. Peter's in Rome, that it is grand. "The sun rising over the mountain top presented a grand spectacle" furnishes also an instance of the correct use of the word, as does, "Gladstone is called the 'Grand Old Man' of England."

But we hear frequently such ludicrous uses of the word "grand" as the following: "Did you enjoy your dish of ice cream?" "Yes; it was grand!" "We had a fine sail down the bay; the weather was grand." "We had a grand time at the picnic." In most cases of the incorrect use of the adjective "grand" the word "enjoyable" or "delightful" may be substituted; in other cases it is not difficult to find an adjective that expresses correctly the meaning of the writer or speaker.

How It Started

THE PENCIL.

IN THE earliest days draftsman used simple bits of colored chalk or clay to mark with; a little later metallic lead was used. The modern plumbago or graphite is not lead; there has come to be a confusion of names owing to the ancient use of the metal. The first graphite pencils were manufactured in England in 1664. From there the industry spread to the United States, which now leads in the manufacture.

THE RIGHT THING AT THE RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

WHEN YOU TRAVEL

An agreeable companion on a journey is as good as a carriage.—Publius Syrus.

DON'T open the window until you have asked your seat-companion whether or not she would object, as many a person detests a draught and is seriously tormented by the dust or soot that comes in.

Don't wear a hat with a feather long enough to threaten eyes and cheeks every time you turn, or carry great bunches of flowers which take up too much room in the seat, or else drip water from the rack above.

Don't forget that when you draw up the shade of the window in your own seat you may be causing the rays of the sun to shine directly in the eyes of the person in the seat behind you, by lowering it slightly you can prevent this without blocking your own view.

Remember that when you pay a single fare for a ride in a day coach you are really entitled only to a single seat. You are not, therefore, conferring any favor on the person who asks whether he may ride beside you. You have actually paid for no more than half the section; so when you permit your luggage or other belongings to lop over on the other side you are using something that does not belong to you—something, in fact, that your seatmate has paid for.

Don't forget, however, if you take a seat beside another person to express your thanks if he moves his things to make more room for you. This need be no more than a formal but graceful "Thank you."

In short, do nothing that you would not do to your best friend or the person you loved with all your heart, for every train traveler is your brother and sister in a broad sense.

Champion Stinky Man.

One morning, about three years ago, it snowed very hard. It must have been about three feet deep. I wanted to make some money, so I went across the street from where I lived and asked the man who lived there if he did not want his snow shoveled off. He said, "Go to it."

It took me about two hours to shovel it off. I expected to get about 75 cents for it. I went to the door and asked for my money.

"Do you expect to get anything for shoveling that snow off? Why, when I was young we thought it good exercise to do a little work like that once in a while."—Chicago Tribune.

RED CROSS BUNDLE DAY FOR CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

There are hundreds of thousands of children in the war-stricken countries of Central Europe without clothing, most of them fatherless and mothers without means to provide clothing or food for them. The Red Cross nurses and others, doing relief work in these countries describe the conditions as deplorable and are sending urgent appeals to the American Red Cross for prompt shipments of children's clothing.

Carroll County Chapter has been asked to aid in supplying garments. The Executive Committee after careful consideration felt at this busy season and under present conditions to attempt the work of production by buying material, cutting and making garments or making over cast-off clothing into children's garments as recommended would be almost impossible and if attempted it would be a long time before a sufficient quantity could be collected to make a worthwhile shipment. It was decided to ask the people of the county for gifts of outgrown or discarded children's garments of every description for boys and girls, from infants sizes to the age of 15, hats alone excepted. The only requirements are that the articles be clean and not so badly worn that they would be of no service.

The Chapters and Auxiliaries throughout the County will collect the gifts and on Saturday, June 4th, send them to the basement of the Methodist Protestant Church, Westminster, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Members of the Red Cross will be present to receive and pack.

June 4th will be known as Red Cross Bundle Day for the naked children of Central Europe.

To give this deserving appeal as much publicity as possible the ministers of the County are asked to announce it in their churches May 22nd and 29th.

If any of the Branches or Auxiliaries desire to make up new garments or garments from discarded clothing it will be duly appreciated and the Red Cross funds can be used for the purchase of materials.

In these days of housecleaning perhaps many undergarments, dresses, boys suits and pants and other articles of children's apparel may be found that are of no further use, but will bring some comfort and happiness to the poor, destitute, suffering children across the sea.

C. & P. EMPLOYEES' GUESTS.

The C. & P. telephone company entertained the parents and relatives of the employees of the company Tuesday evening. The guests began to arrive at 7.30 o'clock and were met by a reception committee. The guests were shown thru the building starting where the cables come in under ground and following the course of the wires to the switch board. The visitors were taken in groups by guides who thoroughly explained the working of every apparatus of the entire exchange equipment.

As the groups were disposed of they were invited to the lawn where chairs were provided and entertainment was furnished with music on the Victrola, until the last group had finished. "The Romance of a Telephone" was given by a Telephone manager. On account of the dampness of the evening the lecture was brief but very concise. The ladies then took charge of serving coffee, ice cream and home made cake. There were about 140 present in all.

The employees worked as a committee of one, and a big success was attained.

MR. PATTERSON LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

The case of Lester S. Patterson against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, which was on trial when we went to press last week in the Superior Court of Baltimore City, was decided by the jury in favor of the Railroad Company.

The suit was for damage to woodland near Woodstock, in Baltimore county, and was tried several years ago in the Circuit Court for Carroll County where the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the Railroad Company, but on appeal the judgment was reversed because of the exclusion of some evidence by the lower Court, and the second trial, with this evidence in, again resulted in a verdict for the Railroad Company.

Mr. Patterson was represented by Guy W. Steele, Esq., and Joseph Addison, Esq., and the Railroad Company by Bond & Perke.

The Steele Homestead Burned.

Sympathy is sincere throughout the county for J. H. Steele and his mother, at the loss of their home by fire in the dawn of early morning Sunday, May 8. It was considered one of the handsomest old colonial homes in the State. The destruction of which came as a crushing blow to J. H. Steele and his mother, having belonged to his grandfather and filled with rare valuables, the accumulation of years. The loss will be heavy. Mrs. Steele, who is at present an invalid, was awakened by the dense smoke and calling her son and sister, barely escaped in their night robes. Only the family portraits were saved.

EIGHT MINUTES TO UNION MILLS

The new American La France fire truck was given two try outs this week and its performance was marvelous in every respect.

On Monday afternoon it was taken to Meadow Branch and later to this city, where perfect demonstrations were given.

On Wednesday evening a run to Union Mills was planned for an exhibition before the citizens of that village. The running time from here to Union Mills was eight minutes and three streams of water were in operation in four minutes more, making 12 minutes in all, showing both speed and action of the fire engine.

The fire engine was on a long Shriver's canning factory and the water pumped from Big Pipe Creek. Some of the citizens were dampened somewhat when a section of hose gave away from the pressure.

Why Dollings Securities Are A Good Investment!

1. SAFETY

If an investment is not safe it is a very FOOR investment.

Our investments are the equivalent of a first mortgage, being the first claim on the assets and the earnings of the company financed. Real Estate values and other tangible assets are sufficient in every instance to give a wide margin of security.

2. INTEREST

If an investment does not yield the greater income consistent with safety it is not a GOOD investment.

Interest is paid semi-annually. Interest checks are mailed on January and July 15th. The rate is 7 per cent.

3. CONVENIENCE

During the past few years when a great many securities have been below par, our investments have always been worth par.

Many people make a distribution of their estate by investing in Dollings securities. A transfer is made to the proper parties and there is no court expense involved.
