

WATERSVILLE

On the last day of school, Chestnut Grove, held its Parents' Day, School Rally and Exhibit. It commenced with a short opening exercise, with pupils leading the music. It was followed by announcement of promotions and distributions of "Report and Promotion Cards," which were received with smiles and happy hearts.

There were quite a number of quondam pupils present, who wished to re-visit the scenes of their early struggle along the not always-flowery pathway of knowledge. Some are now completing their course in the Mt. Airy High School, others are already on the heights viewing life through the golden haze of youth.

After a brief and attractive program consisting of drills and music, rendered by the scholars before a large audience composed of friends, patrons and former pupils of Carroll Academy, on the evening of May 26, the occasion assumed somewhat the nature of a farewell reception to the old building itself, which at the end of the present school year will have its doors finally closed at a place devoted to educational purposes.

The Mystic Chain lodge of Saturday evening, May 28, which was enjoyed by the members, their families and invited guests. George W. Yeiser was master of ceremonies. Addresses were delivered by Revs. A. G. Wolf and John S. Adam, Silver Run; Wm. H. Long, Hanover, and several others.

RUNNING RISKS.

People will run risks. It seems to be something that cannot resist temptation, when it is known to be dangerous to many people. In New York City, a man did a flourishing business with a private booth telephone, charging a dollar for "a call," having a spigot with booze attached to the phone. This private line was always busy. In North Carolina a number of children were intoxicated by eating candy bought at a grocery store near the school.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.83

"LAMP-FIGHTING CATS." In the "grab for gain" game, nothing seems too mean for human man, made in God's image, to undertake. In New Jersey State a man undertook to train cats to fight lighted lamps. Soon the idea developed to train them for market, asking big prices for them. The buyer, at the time he closes his store or shop, places a lighted lamp at a convenient place, and puts a lamp-fighting cat in the room. The result is, an overturned lamp and fire.
