A Telephone System Must Expand

THERE is no such thing as closing the capital account of a telephone system unless it proposes to go out of business. The telephone system that is not going forward is going backward.

Each new subscriber requires additional plant—a new telephone set, additional central office equipment, in most cases an additional line from the central office to the subscriber's premises.

But these additions cannot wait until the subscriber wants service. To do this would require that applicants wait sometimes for an indefinite period. We must anticipate the public's needs and always maintain a reserve plant—conduits, cables, switchboards, wires.

To meet the requirements for next year and the years to come the money for the extensions must be secured from the investors this year. Our earnings this year, then, will determine whether we can attract the new capital necessary to meet our requirements for service next year.

TUBULAR BODY ON CHASSIS

An advertising automobile with a unique "stunt" body visited Westminster Friday.

Its appearance on the street attracted great interest on the part of all those who saw it.

The car is a one ton truck with an extension frame. On it has been fitted a large tubular body, over fifteen feet long by fifty inches high. The body, as to shape, color and lettering, is a faithful reproduction of a full package of Pep-O-Mint Life Savers.

L. L. Post who is traveling with this car through Maryland, stated while in Westminster that this advertising car is one of several traveling all over the United States and Canada.

Several million samples of Life Savers are to be given away during the travels of the several cars.
