COURT HOUSE NEWS

GRAND JURY FIND 23 INDICTMENTS—WANT EVIDENCE SECURED AGAINST LIQUOR VIOLATORS.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court for Carroll County:

The Grand Jurors of the State of Maryland, for the body of Carroll County, beg leave respectfully to report their consideration.

That we have been in session four days and in that time have examined 94 witnesses, have found 23 indictments, and have investigated all matters brought to our attention. We visited the County Home and there found the county's property well cared for and the inmates well cared for and apparently contented and commend the steward and his family for their excellent manner in which they are discharging their duties and desire to thank them for their hospitality towards us. We would recommend that the corn crib be repaired and that a concrete drain be provided for the cow stable. We visited the County Jail and there found everything in good order under the care of the sheriff and his family and extend to them our thanks for their consideration.

We would recommend that the Commissioners provide the means of securing evidence against violation of the liquor law as it is evident from our experience that such evidence cannot be obtained from persons who participate in its violation.

And now having completed our investigation of all matters brought to our attention, we pray your honors to be discharged.

Very respectfully submitted,
ROBERT W. CARTER, Foreman.
Jacob H. Handley,
J. Walter Englar, Secretaries.

CIRCUIT COURT

The November term of the Circuit Court for Carroll county began Monday, with Chief Judge William H. Thomas on the bench. John W. Deberry was appointed bailiff to the grand jury, Fred Harver bailiff to the petit jury and W. D. Cratin and Samuel Fogle bailiffs at the gates.

Judge Thomas appointed Robert W. Carter, Sykesville, foreman of the grand jurors were drawn: Nicholas grand jurors were drawn: Nicholas J. Walsh, Oliver D. Boose, Thomas Haver Gill, Tobias Harner, Joseph O. Dayhoff, Joseph H. Frountier, Michael R. Bentz, William F. Hoffman, John T. Day, Cleff C. Beachtel, Geo. W. Hoff, J. William Glennan, Albert D. Nagle, Thomas O. Lindsay, Albert H. Young, Jr., George W. Bowers, Lester D. Troxel, Stewart Z. Leister, Carroll G. Raver, Jacob H. Handley, J. Walter Englar and John H. Brown.

The following constitute the petit jury: Ezra D. Spangler, William R. Trenowith, Charles W. Conoway, A. Frank Miller, Howard Keefer, Oliver Caple, Edward J. Rinehart, Charles Coppersmith, John H. ## YOUNG DEWEY VS. HOOSIER KID.

Co. H Machine Gun Company, M. N. G., will give the people an opportunity of a rare entertainment at the armory, this city, on Wednesday night November 23rd, when will be staged a wrestling match between the Hoosier Kid, the middle-weight champion wrestler of Pennsylvania, and Young Dewey of this city. The match will be catch-as-catch-can style, best two out of three falls. Both contestants are ex-service men. The Hoosier Kid was the champion wrestler of Camp Lee Division, and Young Dewey, who is now a student at Western Maryland College, and left guard on its football team made a fine record in the camps where he was stationed. Those who attended the circus, that showed in this city in September, will remember Dewey as the young man who took the shine out of the noted wrestler of the show. Its management offered anyone, at the afternoon performance, who would stand for fifteen minutes against the wrestler, $25.00. Dewey slipped quietly into the ring and won the money. At night the same offer was repeated, and again Dewey won the job. This time he not only stood against the circus champion, but put his shoulders on the mat. The exhibition will be given for the benefit of Co. H, and should be well patronized by the people of the county, both in the interest of our soldier boys, and for the great sport that will be furnished them.

There will be a Spider Web Social and entertainment held at Pleasant Valley School, Thanksgiving evening, November 23. Music by the band. Everybody welcome.

The election in Washington county cost $25,000.

ARMISTICE'S DAY HERE

PARADE AND DEMONSTRATION BY MACHINE GUNS.

Armistice Day was celebrated in this city by a parade headed by the Westminster Band followed by Company H, and horses, pulling machine guns, W. M. C. Military students and Westminster Fire Department. Nearly every business place was closed during the afternoon.

Services were held at Park Square under the auspices of Millville Farm Post No. 150, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Carroll Post No. 31, American Legion, Chaplain M. L. Smith, of the Veterans, offered the invocation and the address was delivered by Chaplain M. L. Shroyer, of the Legion.

A demonstration was given with machine guns on Liberty street extending which was interesting to the spectators that watched the machines in action. A target was placed on the hill below Dr. Fitzhugh's which was riddled by bullets from the guns, showing the good marksmanship of the men. The bullets could be seen sailing through the air toward the target.

The day was closed with a dance in the Armory under the direction of Company H, which was well attended.

WESTMINSTER BAND IN NEED OF FUNDS.

The Westminster Band, which was organized last spring has increased in membership and proficiency until at present it may be regarded as a permanent and firmly established organization. The progress of the band has been remarkable and the management has received many favorable comments concerning the work of the band from prominent citizens of the town. If the present interest and enthusiasm of the members can be maintained, and if the proper encouragement and support of the people of the town can be secured, there is no doubt that before long Westminster will have one of the best bands in the state. Since its organization up to the present time the band has given its services free of charge on a number of occasions, taking part in several parades, giving Sunday afternoon concerts and playing for other functions for the benefit of the town.

The citizens of our town should know that no amateur musical organization of this kind ever was, nor ever can be financially self-sustaining. The expense for instruction, for music, for repair and purchase of instruments, and other incidental expenses have to be met. One of the most pressing needs of the band at this time is a suitable uniform. No matter how well the band may play, the lack of this important item of equipment will have a tendency to detract from the recognition the band would otherwise receive. Up to this time the band has not asked for anything from the town, but the time has come when it becomes necessary, if the band is to continue to make an appeal to the business men of the town, and the public in general for financial aid.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the band, held at the Times Building on Monday night, Nov. 14, it was decided to raise not less than $500 by direct subscription, to meet the expenses of the band during the coming winter. In order to do this the town was laid off into four sections, and two persons for each section were appointed to solicit subscriptions. It was decided to begin the campaign on Thursday November 24, and to continue it until Saturday evening, November 26.

We trust that the efforts of the committee will meet with a hearty response from the people of our town. Remember that there is no better advertisement for a town than a good band.

JUNIORS OF HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAIN.

Miss Margaret Smith entertained the Junior Class of Westminster High School at her home, near New Windcroft, on November 16. A pleasant evening was spent by the young ladies and dancing. Afterwards delightful refreshments were served consisting of chicken salad, rolls, pickles, cocoa, cake and mints. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Starnier, Miriam Schaeffer, Nancy Eckard, Margaret Myerly, Catherine Edwards, Louise Mackley, Ruthanna Currens, Emma Brown, Ruby Reed, Margaret Michael, Sadie Rosenstock, Ruth Hunter, Euphonia Stoner, Dorothy Nyren, Margaret Pittinger, Gretchen Pittinger, Louise Lippy, Louise Stittely, Catherine Connan, Norene Everhart, Elizabeth Bemiller, Margaret Dutterer, Carmen Delaplana, Edna Lynn, Messrs. Gilmore Lippy, Eugene Tubman, Paul Leatherman, Clarence Corbin, Clarence Walsh, Robert Unger, Edward McKinstry, Edward Walsen, George Sullivan, Lewis Flater, Billy Dittman, Robert Myers, Edgar Weigie, Maus Rinehart, Ralph Hunter, Joshua Dittman and James Smith. Miss Helen Fowble and Miss Florence Johnson, teachers of Westminster High School.

William Townsend this city, while out hunting for rabbits Wednesday was shot in the neck and right leg. Mr. Townsend and another friend were hunting in the vicinity of Union Mills and both saw a rabbit at the same time, but did not see each other. While Mr. Townsend was on his knees and aiming at the rabbit the other man shot in the direction of Mr. Townsend with both barrels. Sixteen of the shot entered Mr. Townsend's legs and body, three striking him in the throat.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

The Barn Yard Pts Capture The Armory—Variety of Birds Exhibited Never Been Surpassed in State—Poultrymen Banquet at Westminster Hotel—Thomas Kemp Chosen President of State Association—Premiums Awarded.

The Mid-State Poultry Show, under the auspices of the Carroll County Poultry Association, began here Tuesday and the State Armory is a noisy place and will continue out the week. The crowing of roosters and soter cackling and clucking of hens, the gobbling of turkeys, honking of Chinese geese, the shrill crying of guineas, the quacking of ducks and the cooing of pigeons produce a concertation that is anything but a concord of sweet sounds. The attendance is large both day and night.

The Judges J. Harry Wolfseifer, of Vineland, N. J., and J. C. Kriner, of Stettinville, Pa., began their task Tuesday morning, with reserve judges, George O. Brown, of Baltimore, and D. Kouts cup, for mottled Anconas, Association cup, for best exhibit by junior members; A. Silz cup, for best exhibit of guineas or silzhens.

The most important feature of the week was the poultrymen's meeting Wednesday afternoon. Mayor H. E. Koons made the address of welcome. Former State Senator Wade H. D. Warfield made the response and became the presiding officer. Addresses were made by Frank L. Bass, president of the Pennsylvania State Poultry Association, and J. Larry Wolfseifer, poultry editor of the Philadelphia Record, and Roy H. Waite, of the Maryland Poultry Association.

After an open conference, upon motion of John D. Rbel, of Baltimore, it was decided to organize the Maryland State Pure Breed Poultry Association. Upon motion of State Senator R. Smith-Snyder, his predecessor in the Senate, William Warfield was named as temporary chairman and Aaron Fell, of Bethesda, secretary.

The chairman appointed the following committee to perfect and secure the incorporation of the association: J. A. LeGore, of LeGore; Fred Thayer, of Baltimore; Alexander Carr, of Roslyn; Thomas W. Kemp, of Union Mills, and George D. Penniman, Jr., of Baltimore.

Last night a banquet was given by members of the poultry show at the Westminster Hotel to which five hundred poultrymen and their guests, including a number of women, were at tables.

Thomas W. Kemp, president of the Carroll county association, presided and Dr. G. Lewis Wetzel was toastmaster. Those who responded to toasts were George O. Brown, Baltimore; J. Harry Wolfseifer, Vineland, N. J.; Aaron Fell, Bethesda; George D. Penniman, Jr., Baltimore; Alexander Carr, Roslyn; Howard Thompson, Baltimore; F. J. Gornican, Roanoke, Va.; Frank S. Barr, Pennsylvania; State Senator R. Smith-Snyder, New Windsor; Mayor H. E. Koons, Westminster; John H. Cunningham, Westminster; George W. Yeiser, Union Mills, and former State Senator Wade H. D. Warfield.

All the visiting poultrymen, most of whom are officials of various associations, stressed the fact that for quality and choice assortment of varieties of birds exhibited this show never has been surpassed in any State. Chief interest centered in discussion of plans for the organization of the Maryland State association.

The temporary officers chosen have had several meetings and presented a tentative constitution and chose as president of the State organization Thomas W. Kemp, of Union Mills, and Aaron Fell, of Bethesda, secretary.

The following were named as the first board of directors, who, with the officers named, will at once proceed to incorporate: George O. Brown, Baltimore; James A. LeGore, Frederick county; Alexander Carr, Baltimore county; Frank Biggs, Baltimore; Robert Byers, Washington county; Roy H. Waite, Maryland State University.

DAVID J. ROOP DEAD.

David J. Roop, a well known retired farmer, died at his home, West Main street, this city, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness of age infirmities. His age was 85 years, 10 months and 9 days.

Mr. Roop was a son of the late David A. LeGore, of Westminster, and Rebecca Roop, of Meadow Branch.

During his life he conducted an extensive and successful farming business, near Uniontown, until a few years ago when he moved to the residence where he died. He was a member of Meadow Branch Brethren Church and took a great deal of interest in the church work. For many years he has served as vice-president of the First National Bank and always attended its meetings and took keen interest in the bank's business affairs.

His friends, who were scores, deeply regret the demise of such an excellent citizen, business associate and advisor.

He is survived by the following children: H. Scott Roop, this city; Dr. Charles Roop, Taneytown; Mrs. David Shorb, Sturkey, N. D.; Mrs. David Young and Miss Annie Roop, West Main street; also one brother, John D. Roop, Meadow Branch, and Mrs. Catherine Bonegack, this city.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at Meadow Branch Brethren Church, Elders Yount, assisted by Elders Johns, Englar and Bixler, had charge of the services, interment was in the family burial ground in Meadow Branch cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers were the directors of the First National Bank. The active pallbearers were eight of his grandsons—David M. Shorb, Paul Shorb, David Roop, Harold Roop, Richard Roop, Walter Young and John Young.

The funeral directors were Harvey Bankard & Son.

MISS BIRDIE BANKERT BURNED TO DEATH.

Monday morning about nine o'clock as Miss Birdie, the 14-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bankert, of near Elbhvale, was in a stove, the flames burst forth, exploding the can, and getting her clothes on fire. She sprang from the house, and ran towards the creek, but fell over before she reached the creek. Her father and several men who were hunting nearby, ran to her rescue and extinguished the flames. She was taken to the house and Dr. J. H. Sherman was immediately summoned who arrived as soon as possible. The girl passed away about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The clothing was entirely burned from her body, except her shoes and a belt around her waist. The house caught fire, but the flames were soon extinguished. She is survived by her parents, two brothers and one sister, Rena, Raymond and Edna, also by her aged grandmother, Mrs. Beniah Bankert, of Melrose, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Myers, of Deep Run. Her sister Miss Edna, just recently returned from the hospital where she was operated on for appendicitis. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the house. Further services at St. Jerome's (Rachman's) church at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Reincke officiating.

A lighted coal-oil stove in the home of Clarence Manahan, Dennings, became overheated and became so hot it ruined all the furniture in the parlor room consisting of piano, chairs, stand, rug, ornaments, pictures and maps. Had it not been for a fire extinguisher in the home the house would have burned.
