Our town was visited by thieves again: Last Monday night or early Tuesday morning an unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the Taneytown Savings Bank. The thieves entered through the lot of the residence of Mr. Harry Ohler, formerly the Birnie Drug store property, by tearing off some palings and started to saw the iron bars in the rear window of the bank. They sawed three bars about half off and then spying the small entrance to the cellar in the rear nearby abandoned the window, removed the cellar door, and under the wooden door was an iron grating. They removed that and entered through the cellar. Closed the door between the office and the counting room, so that their movements would not be seen from the Main street and proceeded their work of trying to gain entrance to the vault by digging away a large hole in the brickwork. But when that was completed to their consternation they encountered rail road rails running both ways forming trip blocks, and whether they were frightened away, or whether they became discouraged, no one knows, but they left the work unfinished and beat it, leaving several picks, a crow bar, a pine wrench, wire with a fuse at one end and an attachment for attaching to the electric light and two wet blankets behind. The attempt was first discovered by the janitor, John W. Stouffer, when he went to the bank at an early hour to make the fire. He in turn notified the President, Mr. D. J. Hesson, and Mr. W. A. Bower. Bank detectives are working on the case. The thieves also cut the telephone wire.

MRS. WARD GIVES LUNCHEON
A delightful luncheon was given the ladies of the Woman's Club at the residence of Mrs. N. A. Ward, Tuesday, November 22, beginning at 1 o'clock. Covers were spread for 25 persons. Mrs. Sanderson, of Baltimore, president of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Buchner, also of Baltimore, were guests of the club for the occasion. Mrs. T. W. Mather and Mrs. Knapp, former members, were also guests. Mrs. Virginia president of the club, in a very entertaining and pleasing manner, introduced Mrs. Sanderson, who addressed the ladies in a very encouraging and inspiring short address. Mrs. Wantz, secretary of the club, introduced Mrs. Buchner. Mrs. Wantz told a few of the very many things Mrs. Buchner had done to help on the educational advance in the state. Mrs. Buchner preferred not to make an address but told some of her experiences in a story telling fashion which was most pleasing. Mrs. Riffle, a former president was then asked to give a short history of the life of the club which she did beginning at its birth, taking it through infancy and childhood up to the present time. She spoke very beautifully of the former presidents and of the members who have gone from our community to other sections of the country, of the inspiration and help their examples had been to the club and the town.

Mrs. Eldridge was pleasing indeed in her recollections and occasionally very touching in her tribute to old friends. Mrs. George Mather spoke of the occasion, of the hostess and of the young ladies who so beautifully served the luncheon. Mrs. T. W. Mather and Mrs. Knapp made very brief after-dinner speeches. At 3:30 o'clock the ladies rose from the tables after a most delightful time. Mrs. Ward is a charming hostess and her home was beautifully decorated in green and yellow chrysanthemums.

The League will be presented amies, public amusements, hygiene, etc.

The long-promised relief from the tax burden is in sight. The Senate has just voted to reduce the tax on chewing-gum from 3 per cent. to 2 per cent.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

THE COUNTY EXHIBIT

THE APPLE DISPLAY MISSING—CANNED GOODS SHOW SMALL.

The Fourth Annual County Exhibit was opened to the public Tuesday night with much exhibits in place than any of the previous shows. The woman's section contains the majority of the exhibits. The color which heretofore seen in the men's section due to the large apple exhibits is missed this year. The quilts, comforts and coverlets make a colorful display over the balcony. These useful articles of a past art are not being made in the present day because we have not the time or patience. The fancy work section is full to over flowing and too varied to make much comment on. The canned goods section also suffered from the usual large selection of canned fruit due to the scarcity of fruits this year.

The baked goods exhibit, especially bread and rolls, was not as large as it might have been. There is a fine exhibit of cakes. The candy exhibit is the largest we have ever had and was made up of a variety of candies which was placed on sale Wednesday night to help pay the expenses of the show.

The educational and commercial booths along each side are very attractively arranged and decorated. They all deserve the patronage of everyone attending the exhibit.

The opening program was well attended by town people and folks from the surrounding community. The weather was cold and wet with had roads and prevented many from attending. Dr. Eldridge gave the invocation and Dr. Norman Ward, president of Western Maryland College, expressed his desire for closer fellowship between the people of the city and college. Dr. Ward had to leave because of another engagement. Dr. Eldridge introduced Rev. Walck who gave a very inspiring address on "Living Memorials." He chose a very fitting text and handled it in such a way that his audience was always waiting for his next sentence. The theme of his talk was the boys and girls, the young men and young women of our town and neighborhood who should be "Living Memorials" to those who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war, and those who fought and returned. A community House with a library, reading room, auditorium, swimming pool, etc., should be the means of developing the young people of our city into living memorials.

This address was followed by a general discussion from the floor. Everybody seemed to catch the spirit of Rev. Walck's address. It is hoped that this spirit will not die out but continue burning brighter until we have not only a dream but a beautiful Community House somewhere in Westminster.

Music was rendered by Mr. Philip Royer, who played two violin solos. A mixed quartette composed of Miss Emily Richmond, Miss Florence Johnson, Mr. Pearre Wantz and Mr. Edwin Gehr, gave two selections.

ALICE IN HUNGERLAND AT THE ARMORY SATURDAY NIGHT.
At the armory on Saturday evening, December 3, the closing night of the county exhibit, there will be shown the wonderful moving picture "Alice in Hungerland." This picture was made by representatives of the Near East Relief organization last summer and depicts things exactly as they exist in southeast Russia, Syria, Armenia and Palestine.

The picture is made up in story form, the title being suggested by the well known fairy tale of similar name.
