REV. CROWSON WAS A STUDENT AT WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE AND HELD A CHARGE AT UNIONTOWN

The Evening Sun of December 7 publishes the following:

"If my husband will only return and make a solemn promise he will not have anything more to do with any other woman, I will forgive him and take him back."

This message to her preacher-husband came from Mrs. Estelle Crowson, whose husband, the Rev. P. Beverly Crowson, of Uniontown, eloped last month with Florence Sipes, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Boone, 321 North Mount street, Baltimore, after their love affair had been exposed by students of Western Maryland College, where the clergyman was taking a post-graduate course.

Mrs. Crowson pressed her 21-month old baby, Beverly Paul Crowson, to her breast as she related the infidelity of the man whom she loves and who deserted her for a girl who has been characterized by her foster-mother as one who likes the gay life and whose chief aim in life has been to dress in a lavish manner.

Crowson and Miss Sipes are now believed to be in Baltimore, and Mrs. Crowson declared she is determined to make her husband provide for herself and their baby, and if he does not come forward and give her assurances that he will care for them she will procure a warrant for his arrest.

The Rev. Mr. Crowson is a native of Parsley, Va., and while he was studying for the ministry met his present wife, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Myster, of Crisfield, Md. They were married about three years ago and after his ordination went to Crompton, Queen Anne's county, where the Rev. Mr. Crowson was given charge of the Methodist Protestant Church. The couple remained there about 10 months and then went to Vienna, Va. He was at this charge for one year, going to Uniontown last April. It was here that he met Florence Sipes.

The Boone and Crowson families were friends and Miss Sipes paid the Crowsons a visit in company with Mrs. Fannie Medling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boone. The love affair between Crowson and the half-orphan is believed to have begun at Crompton and to have developed as the months advanced.

Some time ago Miss Sipes, while on a visit to the Crowson home, told Mrs. Crowson that she loved her husband and asked Mrs. Crowson if she would get a divorce so she might marry him.

Mrs. Crowson was dumbfounded at the revelation and told the young woman she would never consent to such an arrangement.

Soon after that Mrs. Crowson received a letter from a student at the college in which was inclosed a letter supposed to have been written by Miss Sipes to the clergyman and in which she made passionate love. The letter contained six pages and endearing love terms marked every line.

Crowson was confronted by his wife and questioned concerning the letter.

"Let me see what was in it," he told his wife; but she refused to do so and compromised by saying that she would read it to him. When she had reached about the fourth page Crowson snatched the love billet from her hands, and since then she hasn't seen it.

Crowson made daily trips from the parsonage at Uniontown to Westminster, where the college is located. He made frequent trips to the city, stopping on most of the occasions at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boone.

During the early part of November Miss Sipes disappeared. Two days later Crowson drove up to the door of the Mount street home and Miss Sipes stepped out. She was upbraided by Mrs. Boone and the latter was taken to task by Crowson, who accused her of not permitting Miss Sipes to go out except in the company of a young man who was calling upon her at that time.

"Both of them looked bedraggled," said Mrs. Boone. "Both of them slunk into the room as though they were ashamed of themselves."

Accused of acting improperly, Miss Sipes is alleged to have declared that she intended to leave with the clergyman, and gathering her clothes, took them out and tossed them into the automobile. Crowson entered the car and was followed by the girl and the machine drove away.

Since leaving, Crowson has been corresponding with his wife, and when she announced her intention of coming to Baltimore several days ago said he would meet her if she would tell him on what train she was leaving.

The NEW EDISON

This marvelous victory is easily explained. The New Edison is the only phonograph which has proved there is no difference between its RE-CREATIONS of music and the original music.

But, if you wish to reassure yourself completely,—do what Dr. Bingham did. Listen to Frieda Hempel, as she sounds on the ordinary phonograph; then hear the New Edison RE-CREATE her voice. Compare, in the same way, with other artists who have made both Edison RE-CREATIONS and talking-machine records. Score each result,—on a Phonograph Comparison Card. You will discover that Miss Hempel is indeed Miss Hempel on the New Edison, while on the talking-machine, she is something entirely different.

The New Edison, because of its perfect realism, brings you the true beauties of every kind of vocal or instrumental music.

GOVERNMENT WASTE!

Several months ago, a dreadnought battleship named "Maryland," costing $42,000,000, with eight guns each costing a quarter of a million, was christened, recruiting a crew of 1,500 men and $2,000.00 to keep it going.

The Editor of "Life," September 29, has this to say about it:

"To take the forty-two million dollar Maryland out to sea and sink her would be a signal and helpful economy."

Only one thing she is good for—is for use as an argument. There she floats, an example of human waste and folly.

3300 CASES OF LIQUOR GONE

After 5500 cases of whiskey had been taken from the warehouse of the Canton Distilleries, Baltimore, Saturday night, and loaded on motor trucks police of the Eastern District, answering a riot call, frustrated the robbery of 180,000 quarts of liquor.

Three trucks, carrying 3300 cases of the liquor had left the warehouse when the police arrived and all roads in Maryland and nearby States are being searched for them.

Two trucks, on which were loaded 2200 cases, were ready to leave the warehouse when the police reached the scene, and men were hastily engaged in loading two other trucks. Sixteen men who were in charge of the truck were arrested.

The confidence of the guards at the distillery was gained by means of a forged permit. This paper called for 15,000 cases of half-pint bottles of whiskey. Prohibition Director Buhnitz said that the permit resembled what is known as a "carrier's permit." No withdrawal permit was presented by the men.

The trucks were captured at Elliott City minus 3000 cases of the liquor.

An entirely new field for the use of finger prints as a means of personal identification is opened up by the announcement of Col. Sherlock Swann, Postmaster of Baltimore, that after December 15 the finger prints of all Postal Savings depositors will be filed at the central office.

NEW WINDSOR

Mrs. H. G. Uphur, of Massawadox, Va., spent the week's end here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Lambert.

The first snow of the season which came Sunday last was the real thing, reaching a depth of about seven inches. A few sleighs were seen out in the evening and the next morning, but the sleighing didn't last long. The snow was cleared off the New Windsor and Westminster State Road Sunday night.

Samuel T. Lantz has purchased a portion of Columbus Covor's huckster route and added that much to his.

Owing to the condition of the roads the past couple weeks most of the hucksters whose patrons live off the State roads have been compelled to use horse vehicles to gather their marketing.

Owing to some trouble at the power plant and some delay in getting repairs our town was in darkness several nights up to Monday night.

The Presbyterian Missionary Society met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. C. Smelser.

Mrs. Enbraim Fisel, who recently moved with her husband and daughter, Miss Catherine, to town, suffered a paralytic stroke last Sunday.

Dr. Asencia Ricolo, of Cuba, with his wife and daughter, Carmen, spent the week's end here with Mrs. Ricolo's grandparents, Chas. E. Lambert and wife.

Miss Dielman closed the Hotel last week for the winter and is now visiting in Baltimore.
