SEARCHLIGHT TELLS WHOLE STORY OF NEWBERRY SCANDAL

The summarized story of the Newberry scandal fills the entire number of the current issue of the Searchlight, the independent monthly published in Washington. It gives the main facts of the case from the beginning, reviewing the main features of the trial of the case before the Senate, in which it says Newberry was "saved" and the Senate "disgraced." Among other things it analyzes the vote of each individual Senator—a record worth preserving by every voter.

"Newberryism Means Death to Democracy" is the title of a powerful editorial by Lynn Haines, the editor. The main features of the Senate debate are recorded, including the main points made in the great speeches of the Democratic Senators, Walsh of Montana, Pomerene, Reed, Hitchcock, King, Ashurst, Robinson, McKellar, Trammell, Jones, of New Mexico, Caraway and others with special reference to the splendid tactical speeches of Heflin, Harrison and Trammell, who were in first line position in the debate; also the damaging speeches to Newberry made by the Republican Progressives, Borah, Norris, Kenyon, LaFollette, and Jones of Washington. There are liberal extracts from many of these speeches.

The manner of the defense of Newberry by the reactionaries is told, and the infamous Willis resolution which said that the manner of Newberry's election was "dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government," but provided for seating the beneficiary, is thoroughly dissected.

It is a wonderful and comprehensive story of the greatest and most infamous political scandal in the history of the United States. It ought to be in the hands of every man and woman voter in this country, because when the honest and decent people of this country know the sordid and degrading facts, it may be assumed that they will do all that is necessary to reverse the verdict of the Senate majority and restore the honor of the Senate and the country by declaring that seats in the United States Senate shall not be put up for sale.

WHY TRADE AT HOME?

The advice to "trade in your hometown" is very frequently given to the dwellers in small cities. The reasons for so doing are not always so clearly expressed as The Mail of Woodland, Calif., expresses them.

"Money spent in your own county will remain in local circulation and will ultimately find its way into your own pocket once more. Isn't that true?"

"The local merchant helps with his taxes to maintain your schools, your churches, your roads and all other local and county expenses."

"The local merchant is your friend! He congratulates you in your prosperity, participates in your joys, sympathizes in your sorrows, lends a helping hand in adversity. He is your neighbor."

"When you take all things into consideration, you can buy just as cheaply (get just as much for your money) as though you sent your money 20 or 1,000 miles away."

It is all pretty much true. If sometimes the local merchants appear slow to stock up with things their fellowtownsmen want, it is likely to be because they cannot depend upon local trade and so cannot put in the stocks they would like to carry. If they could be sure of regular patronage and a growing demand for their goods they would soon respond with full and complete lines.

PLEASANT VALLEY SCHOOL.

The program of the literary society was rendered Friday afternoon, February 4, as follows: Opening song, "Battle Cry of Freedom"; recitation, "Herbert Petry"; recitation, Stewart Smith; reading of the minutes; recitation, Erma Myers; recitation, Maud Myers; recitation, Leander Wantz; Elva Myers; recitation, Georgia Bixler; reading, Johanna Helwig; recitation, Myrtle Myers; recitation, Esta Hiltabridle; reading, Mae Leatherwood; song, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp"; dialogue, "The Society for the Supervision of Gossip"; recitation, George Yingling; song, "Home Going Song." The classes in the grammar department that received the banners this week for the best recitations, attendance and conduct are: Fourth grade, recitations; sixth grade, attendance; and seventh grade, conduct. The attendance in general this week was good. Hoping this spirit will continue.

Miss Mary Katherine Petry is attending the Bible Institute at the Blue Ridge College, New Windsor.

MISSIONARY GRAEFE AT LINEBORO.

Last Sunday was missionary day at the Lineboro Lutheran church, and many factors contributed to its great success. Representative from a large number of the families of the congregation rendered the service, "The Hope of the World," arranged by the Foreign Missionary Board, and despite the difficulty experienced in the preparation of the program because of adverse weather conditions, the well-balanced and instructive service was rendered most effectively. The spirit of the day was greatly augmented and intensified because of the presence of Rev. J. E. Graefe, Missionary to India, now on furlough in this country. He spoke three times, before the Sunday School, at the morning service and then again at a special service in the afternoon arranged for the convenience of the speaker as well as the congregation. A proper report of his addresses cannot be given. We can only say that his messages made a profound impression upon his audience and the influences of them can never be estimated. At the afternoon service an opportunity was given those present to ask questions and this feature proved most interesting. The congregation expressed their interest and devotion in a tangible way by contributing a special offering of $75 for the building of a bungalow in India where the missionaries may spend a part of the hot season. This liberal offering is especially commendable in view of the fact that the congregation just recently contributed $183 for the Lutheran World Service Campaign, thus considerably exceeding their apportioned amount for this most needy cause.

Large and attentive audiences, informing and convincing messages, liberal monetary expression made the day a most profitable one.

BLUE RIDGE COLLEGE.

Many of the Sunday schools and churches of Maryland were represented at the Bible Institute and Training School conducted at the College the last two weeks. The attendance was especially large on Sunday. In the morning Elder I. S. Long, a returned missionary from India, presided. In the afternoon and evening, Dr. C. C. Ellis, of Juniata College, delivered two lectures to large and appreciative audiences. His subjects were "Does It Pay To Be Good?" and "Behold the Dreamer."

On Thursday evening, February 16, Blue Ridge College will give the last number of the lecture course. The National male quartette will be the entertainers of the evening. The members of this quartette are, first of all, musicians of rare ability who present the highest type of quartet music. But in addition to their musicianship they are entertainers par excellence.

The Blue Ridge basketball team will meet the Washington College Basketball team on the latter's floor at Chester, Md., Saturday, February 11.

ELDERSBURG HOLDS BOOMING COMMUNITY MEETING.

The farmers of Eldersburg community held a get-together meeting on February 1 under the direction of County Agent Fuller.

Those problems which proved most vital to the farmer were discussed by all. The principal topics being, "Co-operative marketing and buying of farm products, betterment of the dairy industry and the workings of the Maryland Agricultural Corporation." The latter seemed to meet most favorably and several expressed their desire to become stockholders.

At this time County Agent Fuller expressed his desire to form a community club. After a short discussion Mr. Fuller was made chairman of the meeting and the following officers elected: President, Mr. G. H. Bevard; Secretary, Mr. M. P. Prough; Treasurer, Mr. Walter Frizzell. The chairman then appointed a committee on constitution and by-laws consisting of the following: Mr. G. H. Bevard, chairman; Mr. P. C. Prough and Mr. Walter Frizzell.

After Mr. Fuller had assured all present that he was greatly pleased with the meeting and the attainments of the afternoon the meeting adjourned.

M. P. PROUGH, Secretary.

BRAKEMAN'S AWFUL DEATH

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 3.—While in the act of coupling cars on the Delaware and Hudson Railroad today, John Walsh, 49 years old, a brakeman, had his foot caught between the guide rail and the track. A signal had been given to move the train. Walsh was unable to extricate his foot or signal to stop the train and he was ground to death as a result.

Members of the crew claim that proper signals had been given to start and that they believed that Walsh was out of danger. Investigation showed that the man's foot was tightly wedged between the guide rail and the track.

VANDALS RAID CASKETS

BREAK INTO MAUSOLEUM OF WEALTHY COUPLE IN SEARCH OF JEWELS

Sutersville, Pa., Feb. 5.—That ghoul had broken into the family mausoleum of the late Colonel Eli Suter, wealthy pioneer of this region, and smashed his casket and that of his wife in a search for jewels, was admitted today by State police and county authorities, who have been working on the case, in the hope of capturing the vandals before details of the desecration should become public. Just when the mausoleum was violated is not known, but, according to funeral director J. W. McCauley, discovery of the crime was made last Wednesday, while he was in charge of a funeral in the West Newton Cemetery where it lies.

The coffin of Colonel Suter, a metal-plate case, had been dragged out of its niche, the top smashed in, the lid torn off, the plate glass shattered and the skeleton exposed. The coffin of Mrs. Suter, a hardwood case, with metallic lining, the vandals failed to get out, but they smashed the wood, and ransacked it. Three fingers on one hand were observed to be missing from the skeleton of Colonel Suter. It is supposed that these bore marks of one and Mrs. Suter died about 18 years ago.

The Credit System.

Is it little wonder that Americans as a rule, think the credit system is superior to the cash way of doing business? These few "inducements," printed in bold letters, are most alluring: "Don't ever say credit may cost more!" "To bring you such a low price we bought 25 car-loads of just this one set alone." "Here is a 35-piece Aluminum Set, cook with every piece free for a whole month." "Send only $1.00 and take a year to pay."

Who Can Give More Information?

From a daily newspaper we clip the following: "Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 17.—George Baldwin Selden, inventor of the first gasoline propelled vehicle and pioneer in the present automobile industry, died here today. Mr. Selden was president of the Selden Motor Car Company of this city and was 77 years of age."

Can any reader give us more definite information, the origin and name of his invention, and something about the personal life of the inventor?

Growing Vegetables Under Glass

The growing of vegetables under glass has become quite a large business in the past years. Now many houses of glass houses are built as wide as 75 feet, and 500 to 600 feet in length. These large houses can be heated in the coldest weather, and produce vegetables in abundance for the cities, especially cucumbers, tomatoes and lettuce. Were it not for this new enterprise, these delicacies would have to be shipped thousands of miles as oranges, lemons, grape fruit, etc. are packed, wrapped in tissue paper. In such large hot houses tractors can be used to cultivate the ground. It is not generally known that bees are an aid to growing cucumbers, and beehives are placed at stated places inside the green houses. Many bees it is learned, kill themselves by flying against the glass. Experts declare that cucumber seed from 2 to 5 years old produces the best crops.

Sometimes new soil is taken into the green houses, but when the old soil is sterilized, it is the same as new soil. Ex-service men, especially those with only one arm, are in demand in this business. Altogether an army of men is employed under glass the year round. We hope "Man's ingenuity is God's opportunity" in many of the new enterprises.

The American Legion.

Many of our readers, no doubt, have often wondered just what is meant by "The American Legion."

The American Legion is an association of soldiers, sailors, marines, etc., who served in the World War. It originated in two meetings—one at Paris, March 5, 1919, and the other at St. Louis, May 8, 1919. The following are some objects stated in its Constitution:

1. To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States.
2. To maintain law and order.
3. To foster and perpetuate a 100-per cent Americanism.
4. To preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War.
5. To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, the State, and the Nation.

Blocked the Isthmus of Panama.

Recently a large whale swam into the Pacific entrance of the Panama Canal, between North and South America, blocking the way between the two oceans. It weighed 125 tons, and a vessel could not be dislodged until a crew on a vessel bombarded it with a machine gun, and then towed it out into the ocean.
