MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

The Carroll County Poultry Association has reorganized as the Carroll County Branch of the Maryland State Poultry Association Inc., with George Edward Knox, of Finksburg, as president; Capt. John Weigle, vice president; Herbert G. Mathias, Secretary; E. H. Senseney, assistant secretary; Edgar C. Yingling, treasurer. A county wide campaign for active members will be instituted and it is proposed to hold meetings in different parts of the county that all interested in poultry culture may have an opportunity to understand the plans and scope of this new enterprise. The State association is preparing to place in operation a cooperative marketing scheme if there is a real call for such an innovation. It is proposed to form branches in all the counties of Maryland and through the central body build up an efficient business agency for the poultrymen of Maryland. The Carroll County Branch is making an endeavor to enlist the cooperation of sufficient poultrymen to take advantage of the benefits to be derived through the State organization. Secretary Herbert G. Mathias, Westminster, would like to hear from any district or section of the county, where there is sufficient interest for a meeting. These meetings will be educational in nature and speakers familiar with poultry conditions and organization problems will be obtained. A schedule of meetings is now being prepared and will be made public in a short time.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP HAGERS-TOWNS

Democrats made a clean sweep in Monday's election in Hagerstown.

Charles E. Bowman was elected Mayor over Harry R. Rudy, Republican, by a majority of 360 votes. Clyde E. Brewer, Democrat, has returned to City Council from Ward 2, defeating Abel A. Miller. Reuben Muesey, Democrat, defeated H. A. Ridenour for City Council in Ward 4.

The bond issue of $750,000 for the completion of the Sewerage System was approved by a majority of 320 vote and the street paving bond issue of $200,000 was carried by a majority of 416 votes.

It was real Democratic weather and early returns, coming in shortly after 7 o'clock indicated that the Democrats would carry their whole ticket. Many normal Republican precincts showed a complete reversal, the Democratic candidates carrying them by good majorities. Mr. Bowman carried nine of the fifteen precincts of the city, winning in his home ward, No. 4, by an overwhelming majority.

The result of the election means that the Democrats will be in complete control of City Council, having the Mayor and all five councilmen. They will have free rein in the handling of the city's affairs and in the matter of appointments. The newly elected officials will take office at the first meeting in April.

JOHNSVILLE MAN AT SPRING-FIELD ASYLUM

Harry Geizelman, about 45 years old, of Johnsville district, was taken to Springfield Asylum, Tuesday. For some time Geizelman has been suffering with a mental disorder, which it is thought will yield to treatment.

Geizelman has acted in a manner that has alarmed persons in the neighborhood of his home. It is said that he spoke of killing a child and while it was not thought that he had any intentions of committing a crime, it was deemed best to place him where he could do no harm, and be given treatment that might restore his mind. Two physicians who examined the man stated that he was suffering from mental disorder and both advised that he be given treatment at an institution.

Those who know Geizelman say that ordinarily he is harmless and at times a good workman. For some time he had been employed at the Tidewater Portland Cement plant, near Union Bridge, and later had worked for farmers in the neighborhood of his home. Recently, however, he has been going to neighboring houses and while he has not molested anyone his presence has created alarm.

ELOPEMENT ENDS AT HOTEL HAMPSTEAD

Hampstead Enterprise of March 24, says:

With plans carefully laid a Baltimore county couple started a journey that would lead to the land of matrimonial bliss on Tuesday of this week the start was made.

"The plans did not call for hand-some carriages, not even limousines, the couple started by the way made famous by the U. S. Army, with a stout hart and eight dollars.

"For such a journey the first point of interest would be Hampstead, the town of 'Brotherly Love.'

"The couple arrived in Hampstead late in the afternoon and registered at the Hotel Hampstead. But hark! the first error was made. They registered as man and wife. They registered with manager Patterson, did not reckon on watchful eyes detected an error and 'forsaw' trouble. The manager notified the county authorities. These officials hurried to the scene.

"The cruel, cruel officers notified the parents of the young lady and her father came and took her home.

"In the 'Annals of Sheriffdom' another elopement was recorded as 'smashed.'

The shaft of the wagon passed through Ballman's head causing instant death. Ballman was riding on the running board when struck, and would have been living today if he would have been inside of the car. Two married women were also in the car beside Devilliss. All of the above parties were visiting a popular road house near Pikesville.

KILLS SELF ON EVE OF MOVING

J. J. WAGNER BLEW HIS HEAD OFF WITH SHOT GUN AT NEW WINDSOR

John J. Wagner, a farmer, about 47 years old, of near New Windsor, committed suicide Monday morning, in the barn on the farm of R. Lee Myers. Wagner was a farmer who had been a tenant on the Myers' farm since April, 1921, having come to this county from Frederick county. He had bought a farm in Frederick county to which he proposed moving on Wednesday next, having already taken his tanning machinery to the new home. He was a son of the late Gratton Wagner and is survived by a wife, whose maiden name was Miss Emma Garber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abdial Garber, of Mt. Airy, and seven children. Also by his mother, Mrs. Gratton Wagner, of Mt. Pleasant, Frederick county, two brothers, Howard, of Walkersville, Vernon, of New Market, three sisters, Mrs. Newton Stittley, of Oak Orchard; Mrs. Albert Stittley, of Libertytown, and Mrs. Alice Ecker, of Frederick county.

Wagner arose early in the morning with the intention of going to Baltimore. He and his wife walked to the barn and a few minutes later Mrs. Wagner started back for the house, in the meantime Wagner secured a shotgun, went to a shed near the barn and shot himself in the head. The load nearly severed a part of his head from his shoulders and he died in a few minutes. His wife heard the report of the gun and reached his side just before he expired.

No reason is known for the suicide. While he had been inclined toward despondency for the past few days it was said he gave no intimation of what evidently had been troubling him. He had been in good health and his financial condition, it was said, was not such that would cause him trouble.

Physicians were summoned who, with A. W. Wagner, justice of the peace, viewed the body, and an inquest was deemed unnecessary, as it was evident that he had taken his own life.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Linganore church, Unionville, at 11 o'clock, by Rev. W. C. Parrish of New Windsor, and Rev. Nicholson of Union Bridge. Interment was made in adjoining cemetery. The pallbearers were Harry Yingling, Samuel Hoff, Clarence Ensor, Preston Hoop, W. O. Barnes, and Howard Blacksten. C. M. Waltz funeral director.

Mr. John A. McSparran, who is a noted agricultural and farm institute speaker and one time Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, will speak in the Firemen's Hall, Friday night, April 7th, at 8 p. m.

Mr. McSparran is a noted granger. He is known to many Carroll County people as he addressed the State Grange at its meeting in Westminster in 1918.

Every farmer in the county is urged to be present.

We have been gazing for some time at the dead markers on display by Mr. Joseph L. Mathias, on his yard across the street from us and always see several new monuments added to his well stock line. This week the most appropriate and handsome stone that has yet come to our notice was placed. The base holds an angel cut from marble and a highly polished granite head stone erected upon it. It is beautiful.

Mr. Albaugh offered the choice of two farms, but the Rev. Dr. William W. Barnes, superintendent of the West Baltimore district, in presenting the offer in his report, called attention to one of the two farms, of 200 acres, situated on Sam's Creek, six miles from Westminster, on what will be the State road between Westminster, Mt. Airy and Washington.

If the proposition meets with the approval of the church Mr. Albaugh will not only deed the property but will assist with an additional gift. The names Strawbridge Memorial or Robert Strawbridge Memorial have been suggested for the home.

ALL STARS TRIMMED.

St. Martin's Club, Baltimore, played a slashing basketball game against the Westminster All-Stars Wednesday night in the State Armory and won, 31 to 19. But after outclassing their rivals in the first round the St. Martin's boys were out-generated in the closing session, when the local crew scored four more points than the visiting combination.

In a fast preliminary, which attracted a big crowd to the armory, the Henpeck and Would Be basketball teams scrapped their way through another smashing contest. Every kind of a game was exhibited, from the rough tactics of foot-ball to perhaps an inkling of basketball, before the Henpecks gained their second victory over their rivals, 4 to 3. It was a triumph that just happened, and not one in which skill counted for such, as the score indicates.
