MEASURING THE ACHIEVEMENT OF THE SCHOOL CHILDREN OF CARROLL COUNTY BY MEANS OF STANDARD TEST.

School principals and teachers in the larger schools of Carroll county have during the last two weeks been studying the achievement of their pupils in reading and arithmetic as a result of standard educational tests in those subjects which were given to all the pupils in Grades 3 to 7 inclusive in the following schools: Westminster, Sykesville, Mt. Airy, Hampstead, Manchester, Taneytown, Charles Carroll, Union Bridge, New Windsor, Park Hall, Mt. Pleasant, Deer Park, Middleburg and Linwood. The tests were given by Miss Simpson of the State Department of Education, and Miss Langvick, Supervisor of the County Schools.

A day was spent by these officials in each of the graded schools. Tests were given in the forenoon, school was dismissed at 12 o'clock, and in the afternoon for four or five hours, the answer papers were scored by the teachers and carefully studied for the purpose of finding out particular types of errors made by the pupils. The results were then shown in the form of graphs, comparing the performance of the Carroll County children in reading and arithmetic in each grade with the performance of children throughout the United States, these particular tests having been given to hundreds of thousands of school children. Two schools, Manchester and New Windsor, were found to be about standard practically throughout; certain classes in other schools were at or above standard, while some classes were below in one or both subjects.

Tables were also made showing the amount of over-achievement in each school, and age-standards of performance were indicated as well as grade-standards. For instance, a class might be up to the standard for the grade, but might not be doing the type of work it should be doing when the age of the pupils is taken into consideration. The amount of over-achievement in each class was discussed with the teachers, and possible means of improving the situation were suggested.

HE LOOKED LIKE THE CHECK FORGER.

Brakeman Betz, on the Western Maryland Railroad, took a day off Wednesday for a pleasure trip, which came to an abrupt ending at Reese when he was brought to this city to be identified as being Warden Sweezy's chauffeur, that is being hunted down for forging a check and making his escape.

Officer Oursler, accompanied by Mr. Hunter, were given a tip that the chauffeur was coming this way in a Chevrolet car and like "Sherlock Holmes" made a quick get-away to nab the bad man. Down at Reese, a small hamlet three miles east of this city, on the main road to Baltimore, they espied a motor-cycle and side car containing two men. Stopping the machine both were given the once over by Officer Oursler and Mr. Hunter and decided that Betz was the man they wanted. But Betz protested by saying, "why Mr. Hunter, you know me, I am a brakeman on local freight."

Mr. Hunter said he looks like our man.

Betz was brought to this city and was identified by Officer Helm, who gave him the laugh. He was turned loose. We could tell a great deal more, but Betz said, "Please keep my name from the paper."

A DEMOCRATIC SWEEP
The Democrats of Hartford, Conn., carried the municipal election by the largest majority ever recorded in a city election. Two years ago the city was carried by the Republicans. The year was a great one for them, but it is now a back number. The entire Democratic city ticket was elected, and the Democrats carried eight wards out of 10. For the first time in 20 years the Board of Assessors is Democratic. One swallow doesn't make a summer, but this is a harbinger of the good time coming in November and in 1924.

SWEET CORN GROWERS HELD INTERESTING MEETING.

The Growers of Sweet Corn in Carroll held a meeting last Saturday in the Fireman's Hall. Although there was not a large attendance the sections of the county interested in sweet corn growing was represented.

A general discussion as to the methods and yields of the growing of sweet corn for canning took up the afternoon. A number of farmers reported on the cost of growing an acre of sweet corn which averaged about $13.00 per ton at a yield of three tons per acre. This is above the average yield which is between two and two and a half tons. Although labor is cheaper it is still scarce on the farm. Fertilizer is slightly lower than when the farmers received $20.00 per ton. The are very few farmers in Carroll at the present time that can afford to sell a $13.00 article for $10.00.

A resolution was passed that it was the sentiment of the association that the farmer could not afford to sell sweet corn for less than $15.00 per ton and that the grower should not be in a hurry to contract for less than that amount at the present time.

ESCAPE FROM SCHOOL—RETURNED.
Rosie Zeigler and Frances Winters, who were sentenced to the Maryland Training School, near Reisterstown, by Judge Thomas at the February term of Court, escaped last Saturday and came to the home of the Winter's girl, at Cranberry, where they were found by State's Attorney Brown Monday afternoon. When State's Attorney Brown was notified that the girls had escaped he suspected that they would return to the Winter's home, and with Officer Weigle went to investigate. When questioning the girls they denied that they were there but not being sufficiently convinced they started to search for the runaways. After looking through every room they espied a trap door in the ceiling leading to the attic and on peering through it found the girls crouched down to escape detection. In company with the two girls was another, by the name of Chilcote, of Hazerstown, who escaped with them at the same time.

They were all brought from their hiding place and loaded into an automobile and brought to jail. On Tuesday a guard from the school came and took them back.

They begged pitifully not to be sent back, but their pleas were useless. They were dressed in the calico gowns. They were seen at Pinksburg Saturday on their way toward this city.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.
Young Dewey, of Westminster, has accepted the challenge of Young Stecker. The latter claims the undefeated champion of this state. This match promises to be one of great interest to the lovers of good clean sport, as Young Dewey came back in fine shape when he defeated the Middleweight champion of Pennsylvania, the Hoozier Kid, who promised to throw Dewey twice in two hours and the tables were reversed by Dewey throwing the Hoozier Kid in 43 minutes.

The Dewey-Stecker match takes place 8:15 p. m., Tuesday, April 11, at the Opera House.

MAYOR GAITHER RE-ELECTED.
On Monday at the Mayor and Council election of Union Bridge, Mayor Thomas H. Gaither was re-elected Mayor, and the following councilmen: Dr. T. H. Legg, Dr. E. E. Hobbs, Thomas R. Hesson, Charles Selby and Earl Shriner, all being new members.

By the large vote polled showed that a great deal more interest was taken in this election than any previous one. Mayor Gaither's opponent was far in the rear, showing the confidence placed in his past official duties by the citizens of his town.

WESTMINSTER AND THE RECREATION PROBLEM.

Our fathers did not have recreational centers. Why should we have them now? Our fathers did not have telephones, automobiles, electric lights, rural free delivery of mails, and many other conveniences which we now enjoy. Shall we dispense with them because they were unknown to the previous generation? We cannot do business as our fathers did.

Can we take our recreation as they did? In the early days work and play were combined. The men of a community would gather for "clearing the new ground," "log rollings," "burn raisings," "harvesting parties," "husking bees," and the like. At the same time the women had their "quilting parties" and did the cooking for the community feast. In the evening there were the community plays. Those days are gone never to return.

Recreation is more needed to-day than it was in those days. Then there was one task for one day and another for the following day. There was recreation in diversity of labor. Now we have become specialists, and labor for the same kind of task from the year's beginning to its end. This tends to make work monotonous. Then, too, modern industry has intensified labor. Our fathers worked by the year; we work by the hour. This intense and monotonous labor is making of us a nation of neurotics. As a result there is an increasing number of dope fiends. The increase of crime and insanity is to a large extent due to the same cause. It is to our young people, especially those in the factories who all day labor intensely at one task, that jazz in the evening makes its appeal. From jazz to immorality is a short step. The remedy is to go back to the old days or provide suitable recreation. We cannot go back. We must provide the recreation.

But it will cost something? Yes, and will cost something not to provide it. Does disease, insanity, crime, and immorality cost nothing? But suppose these did cost nothing, what will it profit Westminster to save its wealth and lose its health and the souls of its young people?

Recreation must be supervised. Important as it is to organize and direct the industry of the world, it is more important to organize and direct the leisure of the world. This will demand

A PLEASANT DAY AND EVENING SPENT.
A very enjoyable day and evening was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Everhart, near Westminster, Sunday, April 2. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Everhart, of Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Everhart and son, Levere, Westminster; Mr. Carroll J. Myers and C. Edward Little, Bachman's Valley. The morning rapidly passed and the noon hour came when all were invited to the dining room to a well prepared and palatable dinner, consisting of all the good things of the season, to which all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in social conversation and music, both vocal and instrumental, with C. Edward Little at piano, accompanied by Carroll J. Myers with violin.

The evening passed rapidly and about 5 o'clock the hostess gave the invitation again to the dining room to supper and most appetizing refreshments, which all enjoyed very much. Later in the evening quite a number of Mr. and Mrs. Everhart's good neighbors called on them and the evening was spent in music in the usual way, on the piano and violin, accompanied with many merry voices in song, peering through it to enjoy very much.
