IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Frederick Walking, who departed this life 9 years ago, April 23th, 1913.

In my heart your memory lingers, sweetly, tender, fond and true; There is not a day dear husband That I do not think of you.

From this world of pain and sorrow, To the land of peace and rest, God has taken you, dear husband, Where you have found eternal rest.

By her loving wife, MRS. FREDERICK WALKING.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, and our dear mother, Harriet A. Miller, who died four years ago, April 23, 1918.

In our home we sadly miss her, And her many acts of love, But we know she is waiting for us In our Father's home above.

In that home of fadeless beauty She is now a shining star; Dwelling in that home in glory, With the golden gates ajar.

There is one who still will wander, To the spot where you are laid; Who still comes and scatters flowers, On the grave that Christ has made.

By her loving husband, T. J. MILLER.

We tried so hard to keep mother with us, But God willed that she should go, So we yielded to the parting, Though it filled our hearts with woe.

Her eyes are closed that looked on life, But God has opened them and tears; To smile through endless years, She wore a crown of patience.

Through the years she struggled on, Those hands that rest forever, Are the hands that made our home.

Our dear mother now is sleeping, No care is on her brow, Oh, blame us not for weeping, For we have no mother now.

By her loving daughter, MILLIE.

She is waiting by the river, Just across the silvery stream, Where sweet flowers are ever blooming, And the banks are always green.

You have gone from us, dear mother, To your Father's heavenly glory, Which is for us to do.

Her busy hands are folded, Her work on earth is done, A beautiful life is ended, Her crown in heaven is won.

By her loving daughter, ADA.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Harriet A. Miller, who departed this life 4 years ago April 23, 1918.

God bless to each and everyone A blessing from above, Oh, what could He give us so sweet As our dear mother's love.

Gentle mother, precious mother, Ever faithful, kind and true; Resting now so sweet in Jesus, Loving hearts remember you.

Sleep on, dear mother, in peaceful rest, We needed you, but God knew best. By her loving son and daughter-in-law, Lewis and Eva Miller.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dearest mother, Mrs. Jennie A. Eyer.

Can we help but feel so timely, When her voice we do not hear, For no words were ever sweeter, Than the words of mother dear.

Surrounded by friends we are homesome, In the midst of pleasure, we are blue, A smile on our face and a heartache, Always thinking of you.

We did not see her pass away, Or did not see her die, We only know she passed away, Without bidding us good-bye.

By her daughter an son-in-law, MR. and MRS. WILBUR BLACKSTEN.

Often I seem to be cheerful, I smile and think I am gay; But, alas, I am gloomy and fearful, Since my dear mother passed away.

But one thought comes to me in my sad hours, She is free from all sickness and pain, And I trust when my journey is ended, I will meet my dear mother again.

By her daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. EDGAR EYLER.

Gone but not forgotten, I never can forget you dear mother, While in this world I stay, And my heart has never been the same Since you passed away.

A happy home was once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still, But death has left a vacant chair, This world can never fill.

By her son, WILBUR H. EYLER.

If love and care could death prevent, The day would not so soon have been spent; Life was desired, but God did see, Eternal rest was best for thee.

Some may think I have forgotten you, Though on earth you are no more, But in memory you are with me As you always were before.

By her husband, J. W. EYLER.
