JOSEPH Y. BRATTAN DIES

Joseph Y. Brattan, widely known newspaper man, former president of the Board of Police Examiners and a member of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners, dropped dead Wednesday, August 16, at the home of his son-in-law, Caleb D. Rodgers, near Elliott City. He had gone there a few weeks ago to recuperate from a recent illness. Apparently on the road to recovery, he telephoned Walter H. Hough, a business associate that he would return to work in a few days.

Mr. Brattan was born at Delmar, Wisconsin county, in 1861 and was educated at the public schools of Wisconsin; Washington Academy, Princess Anne; the High School at Lawrenceville, N. J.; and at Princeton University, where he was graduated. Soon after his graduation he acquired the Elliott City Times and edited and published it in 1886 and 1887.

He then became connected with the passenger department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and later resigned to take up the newspaper work in Washington. In 1899 he joined the staff of the Baltimore Sun and later went to the Baltimore American, where he covered political assignments.

He remained with the paper until its acquisition by Frank Munsey two years ago, and then became associated with Mr. Hough and Frank Lawson in the publicity firm of Hough, Lawson & Brattan. He edited the Maryland Farmer, which they controlled.

ALMOST RECOVERED.

A tank car on a through freight of Western Maryland Railroad, jumped from a train of cars near Tannery Station and dumped itself into the Falls River Saturday morning, about 2 o'clock. The balance of the train was left intact and even the track was not damaged. The train coupled up and continued to Hagerstown. At Union Bridge a cylinder blew out of the engine, disabling it. Sunday a wrecking crew from Baltimore appeared and worked all day, raising the tank and had it almost out on the track when it slipped back again to the same position. The raising was abandoned until Monday when another attempt was made. It was another attempt was made. It was another attempt was caused by an overheated wheel bursting.

America, says a Washington forester, is being denuded. If it is, it is right in style.—American Lumberman (Chicago).

CEREMONY FOR WESLEY CHAPEL, FREEDOM, AND "MANRO FARM."

Wesley Chapel, at Freedom, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is standing today as solidly and squarely as it was when built and dedicated to the service of Christ 100 years ago. It is the Methodist Mother Church of the lower part of Carroll county and from it has gone forth many earnest workers and has been served by distinguished men.

Centenary services will be held by the last of September and at which time ceremonies in connection with Mr. George W. Albaugh's gift of the "Manro" farm for a school for boys will also be held. The farm is ideal for the purpose for which it is given and is but a short distance from the church.

The venerable character of Wesley Chapel will surround the boys from the school with an atmosphere which is bound to be beneficial to them.

A meeting of the committee representing the church was held on Wednesday at which the Rev. J. M. Gillum, Superintendent of the District, presided and plans for a program were discussed. Nothing definite was adopted awaiting the return of Rev. E. L. Watson from his vacation. When a definite program will be adopted.

Wesley Chapel is on the Old Liberty Road used by Strawbridge in going to Baltimore and no doubt he organized the first Society or Methodist in that neighborhood. The Rev. Samuel Gore, who died in 1858, had been its lay minister for fifty years.

All the Methodist churches will be invited to join in the ceremonies and the event should be of considerable interest to the church at large.

IT WAS IN THE FAMILY.

The city cousin called on his country cousin, Saturday evening for a week's end visit, but before the first evening was over he had to smash his country cousin's husband in the nose and neck which was called disturbing the peace, causing a fine of $5.00, which was deposited with Justice Hutchins. While the peaceful hours were passing away the same evening on Pennsylvania avenue an automobile came tearing down the street with screeching breaks and sliding wheels came to an abrupt stop. A man jumped from the machine and grabbed a well known citizen which made an outcry. The scene happening in front of the residence of Justice Hutchins, who believing a hold-up was in progress ran across the street and grabbed the culprit and stopped the disturbance. After a little argument the man was put under arrest on the charge of exceeding the speed limit with other offences. The country cousin, that planted the $5.00, also butted in and he was re-arrested on the charge of assault and battery and was put under bond which his country cousin, Monday was set for a hearing and the city cousin appeared on time for his second trial within two days. After the evidence was all in, Justice sentenced the city cousin to two months in the House of Correction and the bond was fixed at $400 which the country cousin put up. The above was the out-come of a woman's husband about to visit or was in the vicinity of his wife, who has applied for a divorce. The speeder, who is from Baltimore, appeared before Hutchins yesterday and was released on $500 bond for a hearing on September 1. He also paid $5.00 and cost for another offense.

W. C. T. U. HOLDS MEETING.

The August meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is always of more than ordinary interest to the members. It is at this meeting that delegates are named for the county and state conventions, and officers are elected for the new year, which with that organization begins with the month of September. The annual reports are also read.

This meeting was held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. John Bowers, Thursday evening, August 17th, and was in every way very delightful. All reports were most gratifying and showed the society in a very splendid condition both financially and in increase in membership. The County Convention will be held September 14th at the Carrollton Church of God, and the State Convention in Walkersville, Frederick County in October. Mrs. Edward Little will represent the Westminster Union at Walkersville.

A committee of which Mrs. Clara Billingsley is chairman was appointed to confer with the Women's Civil League as to headquarters for these and similar organizations.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served Bowers' famous ice cream and cake, which was much enjoyed. The next meeting will be held September 28th at the home of Mrs. Charles Klee, East Green street.

NORRIS ASKED TO QUIT.

William I. Norris, candidate for the nomination of United States Senator on the Democratic ticket has been asked to withdraw from the contest by the Democratic leaders of Baltimore city.

Senator Norris decided yesterday to make the fight.

FOREST AND STREAM CAMP

FINE PRIZES GIVEN WITH EACH CONTEST—TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS NEXT YEAR IN THE GROUNDS AND BUILDING.

The Forest and Stream Club of Westminster has just closed its camp for this year. In 1909 when the club was reorganized the encampment was a huge success, but each year it has been better in every way and this year it has exceeded all expectations. The attendance was greater, the interest in all contests was so great that every record made in past years was broken. The casting distance half ounce weight was won by George W. Melville, with a score of 135 feet. Revolver by Harry L. Hobby, with a score of 47 out of fifty.

In the camp this year there was a portable electric light outfit, a radio outfit, and the members of the club and visitors adopted all of the modern methods of catching fish, fly casting, cotton thread fishing, artificial bait casting, and of course the live bait method.

The initiations of new members was a feature that was enjoyed by every one present.

It is true the bass fishing was marred somewhat by the muddy condition of the waters, yet it did not deter William F. Sharrer from catching the largest one.

The club, now owning the ground where it is located, intends improving same and it is expected by next year to be a beautiful spot, having many conveniences that now do not exist. The managers of contests are contemplating having some of the contests on the water instead of on the lawn as heretofore.

The most beautiful part of camp life that all enjoy is to sit down in the screened-in dining room, at a table laden with all the good things that a camper loves to eat, and to tell of the trip made that morning or afternoon, or the night before, and to hear the tales told of what might have happened if the line had not broken. One tells of a large bass that got away, another brings in a turtle, another an eel, another a large cat fish, and the sun fish, well many excel at this sport when they cannot catch bass. The result of the contests follows:

POULTRY SHOW COMMITTEES.

The business hen is going to have equal consideration with her fancy sister at the Maryland Mid-State Poultry Show, Westminster, Md. A Stand-ard Production Class has been arranged and a special judge will pass on the egg-production efficiency of the candidates. It is the intention of the management to establish a thoroughly scientific and practical demonstration of the possibilities of the domestic fowl as a money-maker.

At a meeting held August 17th, it was decided that the entry fee for single specimens would be fixed at $1. Word was received that the Agricultural College of the University of Maryland in conjunction with the Extension Service would stage an exhibit, and the Junior exhibit for Carroll county was placed in the hands of County Agent Fuller.

Following is the full personnel of the management of the show: Geo. Edward Knox, president and acting manager; Capt. John N. Weigle, vice president; Herbert G. Mathias, secretary; Dr. G. Lewis Wetzel, chairman executive committee; Edgar C. Yingling, treasurer; Ray C. Hook, superintendent; Frederick W. Fuller, junior department.

Committee of Arrangements:—Wade H. D. Warfield, C. Irving Kroh, Milton P. Myers, H. J. Jones, Wm. C. Frock, E. R. Howard, Walter G. Lovell, T. J. Kiler, Miss Lillian Shipley, E. H. Senesey, Chas. H. Fisher, Robt. E. Day, F. D. Moss, Thos. Shoemaker, Roy Smith, Arthur Tuttle, Wm. E. Eckenrode, E. W. Pickett, John H. Snyder, M. H. Kelly.

Advisory committee (officers and board of directors, Maryland State Poultry Association):—Thomas W. Kemp, Westminster; Aaron Fell, Bethesda; Geo. O. Brown, Baltimore; Jas. A. LeGore, LeGore; Alex. Carr, Roslyn; F. G. Riggs, Boone; Roy H. White, College Park; Robt. Byers, Millstone; from Pennsylvania—C. N. Myers, E. K. Eichelberger, Jos. M. Forn, Hanover; Paul E. Hiltbricht, Irwin H. Kindig, Littlestown; McCannan C. Myers, Gettysburg.

DR. WOODWARD INJURED.

Dr. Lewis K. Woodward, this city, was injured, but not seriously, when his Ford coupe he was driving, rolled down a 20 foot embankment at Meadow Branch. He was coming down the hill at Roop's Mill, near the high bridge, when the car slipped from the road and went down the bank. The doctor was taken from the wrecked machine and was belting badly injured but upon examination it was found that he was badly bruised and cut.

WM. NORRIS MURDERED

EIGHT MEN INDICTED BY GRAND JURY—MONEY BOX, AUTOMOBILE AND TAGS FOUND—SOCOLOV, WHO DID THE SHOOTING, AT LARGE.

Philip Falesco, formerly of New York, but in recent months a resident of Baltimore, was identified Sunday night by two witnesses as one of the men connected with the murder of William B. Norris at Park avenue and Madison street, Baltimore, Friday morning.

Later in the night officers searched his apartment at 602 North Chester street, finding there a brown suit and a light tweed cap, corresponding in description with the suit worn by the murderer. These were identified as the property of Falesco.

In the same apartment were found three vests and a tweed cap, identified as belonging to John L. ("Wiggles") Smith, who was arrested Friday morning by Mary Garrett, colored, as the man who shot Norris. At the same time the officers found a quantity of pistol cartridges, some described as .44-calibre long, others as .45-calibre steel-jacketed, such as are used in automatic pistols.

Eight men were presented by the Baltimore Grand Jury yesterday in connection with the murder of William B. Norris. Six of the eight men are under arrest in Baltimore.

Walter Socolow, named as the man who fired the fatal shots; Frank J. Allers, who confessed that he drove the death car; John L. ("Wiggles") Smith, Charles P. ("Country") Carey and Jack Hart were presented on a charge of murder.

As accessories before the fact, presentments were returned against Allen Hanes, laundry wagon driver, who is said to have located the prospective victims and pointed them out to the others, and George Heard, owner of the death car. Benny Lewis, who was said to have been in reserve as a driver for the death car and afterward met the gang and obtained a share of the booty, is accused as an accessory before and after the fact.

Only Socolow and Hart are at large and their hiding places are unknown. Diligent search for him is being made by the entire police department and by several private detective agencies.

Socolow, who goes by the nickname "Noisy", stands out in the story told by Allers as a youth tormented by a homicidal lust. He, Allers, declares, is the man who killed Mr. Norris, secretary of the company, standing over the crumpled body and firing three shots into it and then kicking it.

The money box was discovered by Inspector Lutz and Captain Leverton on a vacant lot on Highland avenue above the Philadelphia road. The police at once wrapped it in cloths and took it to headquarters, with special care to guard against the obliteration of finger prints.

The license tag was found only a short distance away by William Schlempp, 309 Robinson street.

J. W. Register, 19 East Baltimore street, and Robert La Porte of Prince Georges county were the witnesses who identified Falesco as the murderer. Each picked him instantly out of a crowd of a dozen men of the same general appearance, who were lined up at Detective Headquarters for their inspection. He made no resistance when arrested and carried himself with cool, alert confidence. Falesco had been arrested frequently in recent months in connection with some of the biggest robberies that have occurred in Baltimore, and on each occasion the witnesses failed to identify him positively.

His arrests were in connection with two robberies of a Crook's chain store collector, who lost $4100 on one occasion and $4500 on another; the robbery of an Atlantic & Pacific chain store collector, who lost $3700, and the robbery of employees of the Calvert Bank, from whom bandits took $9900. In each of these cases the robbers made their get-away in automobiles which were waiting for them; and in each case the movements of the prospective victim had been foreseen with accuracy by the men who carried out the robbery.

Falesco carried himself throughout his ordeal of questioning with the same confident appearance which he has always maintained when in custody, refusing to give an account of his movements at any time. He was smiling, almost arrogant, when led away to the police patrol wagon to be conveyed to Central Station and locked up for the night.

Mr. Register, one of those who identified Falesco as the Norris murderer, was within a few yards of the scene when the shooting occurred. He commandeered a car which was passing and attempted to follow the bandits as they fled, but was cut off.

DIDN'T CROSS ON WHEELS.

AIRPLANE TRIP ON HIS 78TH BIRTHDAY

MR. J. P. HULL WILL FLY TO HIS OLD HOME TOWN, SILVER RUN FROM HARRISBURG.—FIRST FLIGHT TWO YEARS AGO.

The Harrisburg Patriot of Aug. 18, says:
"An airplane trip to his home town will be the chief event in the celebration J. P. Hull, of 1718 North Third street, has planned for the observance of his seventy-eighth birthday on Sept. 2.

"This will be the second time Mr. Hull, who is the father of H. J. and J. K. Hull of the Hull Bros. meat market in North Third street, has taken a trip in an airplane. The first event was two years ago when he celebrated his seventy-sixth anniversary.

"In addition to the thrill Mr. Hull will receive from the trip, it will also create another for his home town, he says, as an airplane has never landed there before.

"Hull will be the guest of relatives in his native town, Silver Run, in Carroll County, Maryland, over Saturday night.

"I was so well pleased with my first trip in the air," the old gentleman said, "that I made up my mind the next trip would be to my native home."

"Silver Run is on the State road from Gettysburg to Baltimore and about forty miles from Harrisburg by air line.

"The trip will be made Sept. 2, starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon from the Dauphin flying field. The machine, owned by W. C. Metzger, of the United States Aerial Company, at 2206 Susquehanna street, will be piloted by Carl Ord. Return will be made Sunday afternoon.

"Hull's first trip was made in a machine at Williams Grove, piloted by Aviator Schaeffer. He was in the air over Mechanicsburg more than fifteen minutes. At that time he said that of all the trips he had taken, the flight was the best."

We welcome you to our city Mr. Hull, as our people will be more than delighted to see you. May your trip be successful.

SEEKS MARYLAND MEMBERS

STATE POULTRY PRODUCERS TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION.

A movement recently inaugurated by the New Jersey Poultry Producers' Association to obtain individual members in Maryland will be investigated by a special committee of the Maryland State Poultry Association appointed by Thomas W. Kemp, president of the Maryland organization. "The New Jersey association," said Mr. Kemp, "has been engaged in the co-operative disposal of white henry eggs on the New York market. It now discovers that it cannot handle the situation alone and is seeking assistance from other States nearby. Maryland white egg producers are inclined to sympathize with the objects of the New Jersey organization, but believe any alliance with it should be made collectively and not individually by Maryland producers to the end that by Maryland representation in the management of the enterprise can be obtained and the price level of Maryland white henry eggs on the New York market maintained on a par with the New Jersey product."

The committee, which will act in conjunction with the board of directors, follows: Elmer K. Ramsburg, Lewistown; A. L. Pisan, White Hall; Walter G. Lovell, Westminster; Frank M. Payne, Braddock; Raymond D. Miller, Salston; Paul A. Morrison, Frederick; T. D. Moss, Sykesville; Mortimer P. Lee, St. Michaels; Robert E. Dav. Sykesville; William H. Schrom, Berwyn; J. E. Stoner, Westminster; Israel S. Gomborov, Baltimore; Miss Lillian Shipley, Westminster; Miss E. S. Galbreath, Street.

FRANK SLEPT ON

While Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, of Finksburg, were deep in slumber last Friday night thieves entered their store and hauled away all the stock of cigarettes, cigars and a snug sum of cash. Mr. Ward is prepared for all intruders hereafter. Of course, this is another case of the stable being locked after the horse is stolen.

BELT-PARRISH REUNION

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR YEAR—NEXT MEETING IN AUGUST AT EMORY GROVE.

For the twenty-third time the members of the Belt-Parrish Association assembled on the Emory Grove Camp Meeting Grounds, Wednesday, August 23.

At an early hour the guests from all parts of the country began to arrive. They came in autos and by trolley.

At 11 a. m. the meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. James E. Jester of English Consul, Md.

The following was the program rendered: Remarks by the President, song by the assembly, Mrs. O. M. Blizard, pianist; prayer, Mrs. John D. Belt; recitations by Elizabeth and Virginia Yagel; duet, Miss Charlotte Blizard and mother; recitations, Irene, Evelyn and Richard Disney; solo, Doris Jester; recitation, Thelma and Doris Jester; piano solo, Miss Grace Belt, recitations, Hilda Jester, Charlotte DeLong, Elizabeth and Lantha Belt; song by the Cradle Roll, "Jesus Loves Me."

The interest manifested by the Juniors is worthy of emulation. The president then appointed the nominating committee: Mr. John D. Belt, chairman; Mr. F. Ashbury Belt, Mrs. Fannie Cole, Mr. Geo. W. Belt, and Miss Sallie Belt. Announcements and a song closed the morning session. Every enjoyable social hour was spent in picnic lunch and social chat.

The members of the association re-assembled at 2 p. m.

Song, "I Love to Tell the Story." Instrumental duet, Mrs. Rena Reaver and son; business; minutes of 1921 meeting read and approved; the treasurer, Mr. George W. Belt, gave a report of the financial condition of the association, which was good; bills received and ordered paid.

On motion it was decided that the 24th reunion be held on Emory Grove Camp Meeting grounds in August, 1923, day to be decided by the executive committee.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mr. Harry E. Belt, Baltimore, Md., president; Mr. Vivian C. Leatherwood, Sykesville, Md., vice-president; Miss Tina C. Belt, Newark, N. J., secretary; Mrs. John D. Belt, Westminster, assistant secretary; Mr. George W. Belt, Baltimore, Md., treasurer; Mrs. James E. Jester, English Consul, Md., Cradle Roll superintendent.

Mrs. Reaver and son again delighted the audience with music. A brief memorial service was held for the nine members who were called home during the year. Prayer and appropriate scripture lesson. The announcement of the names and a bit of family history of each was given by Mr. John D. Belt, of Westminster, Md.; solo, "Lead Kindly Light," Mrs. Warren Seabold, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. J. D. Belt read a clipping from "The Washington Daily News," "Bones of Belt Family Slaves Uncovered in Excavation." The bones are those of slaves who died in the service of Col. Jos. Belt one of the first settlers in Washington. His farm once occupied nearly all of what is now designated as Chevy Chase. He was born in 1680 and died in 1761. He was a member of the house of burgesses of Maryland and served as colonel of the Prince Georges county militia in the French and Indian Wars.

The history of the family can be read on the boulder on the west side of Chevy Chase circle.

Solo, "My Dream," Mrs. J. Estay Osborne, Baltimore, Md.

The remainder of the day was spent in social contests, conversation and the taking of the family group, which proved to be a decided success. Any one wishing a picture can secure one by writing Mr. J. D. Hicks, 467 Pennsylvania avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Many lingered round the grounds till the shades of evening began to fall.
