What is Human Nature?
We read that active preparations are being made to make the trip across the Atlantic Ocean in an open boat. After having heard of the terrible accidents befalling the trips, people will risk lives and limbs for notoriety. So many useful perhaps long lives are cut off. Lord does not say, "Go up in the ark and risk your lives," but the command is "teach and preach."

A NEW SEASON AND NEW GOODS

The New Silk Dresses Are Wonderfully Pretty
This is exactly what a number of our early buyers have told us. The materials are all of crepe—Canton Crepe, Crepe Satin, Crepe-de-chene, Georgette Crepe. Skirts are several inches longer than last season. Sleeves are in both three quarter and full length. Draperies and paneling is employed in most of the dresses. Black is the most popular for shade. These are only side lights on the new fashions. We invite you to see these "Wonderfully Pretty Dresses."

The New Wool Dresses Are One-Piece--of Poiret-Twill
A careful observer will note first, the high class tailoring on all of these woolen dresses. No material approaches the popularity of Poiret-twill—mostly in navy blue—also brown and black. Straight lines are invariably round. Trimmings are used—braids, beads, buttons, embroidery. Prices for these new models begin at $19.95. Call any day and try some of them on.

It Is Well To Have A Comfortably Warm Coat, Ready For An Unexpected Trip
We simply announce that our racks are full of just such coats. You can have them with or without fur collars. Later we shall tell much more about these chilly weather garments. It is a pleasure to show them.

New Wool Tweeds
Especially adapted for separate skirts, top coats and suits. We show them in plain weaves, twills and plaids, plain shades and heather mixtures. 58 inches wide.

Again We Say, Yarns!
"Minerva" yarns are entirely satisfactory. This is the verdict rendered by the great army of knitters,—young and old. You will find here the shade you like best in the weight you prefer.
