

EIGHTH REGIMENT ON EVENING PARADE IN SHENANDOAH—1902

COMPANIES D AND I IN LINE IN FRONT OF FERGUSON HOUSE, BRIGADE HEADQUARTERS, MAIN AND CENTER STREETS.

GREEN ST. CHURCH CLEARED OF DEBT

Every Dollar Needed Procured at Dedication Services Yesterday

Subscription of $1,600 at the dedication of the Green Street Church of God yesterday cleared the church of debt. Announcement was made at the opening services in the morning that this amount was needed and before the day was closed, the last dollar against the church was subscribed for by some member or friend.

Many people attended the services during the day, although the weather was bad. The morning service was in charge of the Rev. J. C. Forncrook, pastor of the Maclay Street Church of God, with the afternoon the Rev. W. N. Yates, of the Fourth Street Church of God, and the Rev. Harry Nelson Bussler, of the Second Reformed Church.

Special music was given by the choir and Miss Gray, of Findley College, sang solos. A fellowship service at which all the local pastors of the denomination will be present will be held to-night. There will be services every night this week at the new church.

Keshet Israel Synagogue was crowded, after services when Dr. R. Kornblitz and Rabbi L. Silver told of the work being done for Jewish immigrants by the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society.

Eighteen stones, forming the coping of a part of Westminster Presbyterian Church, fell from the roof on Saturday afternoon, when the rain and storm freed them from their fastenings. Two of the stones crashed through the roof into the Sunday school room a few minutes after the latest rain. The damage amounts to about $100.

Zion Lutheran Church yesterday observed the anniversary of the coming of the present pastor, the Rev. S. Winfield Herman, who came to this city by the train in January, 1912, as the assistant to the Rev. D. M. Gilbert. In this capacity he served until the late pastor, Dr. Gilbert, was elected pastor of the church.

Evangelistic services at the Maclay Street Church of God have been postponed till Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

CHURCH CLUBS, BOY SCOUTS AND MOVIES

[Continued From First Page]

tions in the country and the spider-like lines that divided many of them. Dr. Swallow spoke in favor of a federation of churches when possible, but did not favor such a merging that would convert the invigorating, fruiting streams into one dead sea.

Dr. Swallow, speaking of reaching the masses, said, in part: "To attract church members from the poolroom, the billiard hall, the bowling alley, the neighborhood, the vaudeville, the theater and the saloon have become burning questions in most churches, and alas! has found an answer in a disposition to compete with these worldly attractions by means of church clubs, and church ball games, and church theatricals, and church moving picture shows, and Boy Scouts, and Boy Brigades, bearing guns, swords and spears to help on the world's peace under the Prince of Peace."

In Scotland church circles during the present week: "A Week of Prayer" will be observed, also union services will be held each evening in one of the borough churches. These services will be held under the auspices of the Steelton Ministerial Association and a different minister will have charge of each evening.

The services will be as follows: This evening, Central Baptist Church, the Rev. M. P. Hooker; tomorrow evening, St. Mark's Lutheran Church, the Rev. J. M. Waggoner; Wednesday evening, the Grace United Evangelical Church, the Rev. William E. Smith; Friday evening, the First Reformed Church, the Rev. J. M. Shoop.

Throughout the entire "Week of Prayer" a series of men's meetings will be held in the Centenary United Brethren Church. The services will be of interest to men and only men and boys over 14 years of age will be admitted.

The company paraded on Memorial Day, along with Company D and the Governor's Troop.

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

Company I's First Camp

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

Company I's First Camp

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

Company I's First Camp

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

Company I's First Camp

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

Company I's First Camp

From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health.

City's Prisoners Will Be Ordered to Bathe by Mayor

Force Will Be Used on Those Gentlemen Who, Like the Cat, Despise All Water

Believing that cleanliness is next to godliness, commitments signed by Mayor Royal in the near future will be amended so as to specify a ten to thirty day jail sentence, will specify, "an immediate bath," "a daily bath for a week," or "a bath once a week."

"For sometime hoboes and others have appeared before Mayor Royal in a filthy condition, some of the unfortunates not having had a bath for a long time. Mayor Royal studied a long time as to what course to pursue, and finally received a cue from the mayor of Denver who orders a bath for every hobo. If it is refused, then the prisoner is given a bath by force."

"Laziness may be responsible for their refusal to work," said the Mayor, "but if they must serve time in Dauphin county jail, they must keep clean. If there is no law to make them work out their existence in jail, I can at least compel them to keep clean," he added.

WANTS POSSESSION OF HER YOUNG SON

Mrs. Josephine Kelley Obtains Habeas Corpus Writ; Father Has Child

The question of whether Marshall Kelley, aged four and a half, shall be given into his mother's charge or whether he will be allowed to remain with his father, William H. Kelley, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Kelley, 609 Harris street, will be for the Dauphin County Court to decide at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, January 9.

To-day Mrs. Josephine Kelley, the court clerk, asked for a writ of habeas corpus, claiming that the youngster was being kept from her and for no reasonable cause. The boy's father, the petitioner set forth, is now under $500 bail on charges of assault and battery, desertion and nonsupport. President Judge Kunkel fixed the time of hearing.

Action on Furniture Postponed.—No definite action was taken to-day on the award of the contract for filing cases and other metal furniture for the offices of County Controller H. W. Gough, the County Commissioners deciding to lay the matter over until next Wednesday. The Commissioners on Friday awarded the contract to the Jamestown Metal Construction Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., a bidder by $143 than W. S. Tunis, this city. The latter protested at the award and threatened to carry the matter into court. The Commissioners to-day decided to give both parties a view to the Jamestown firm's representative a hearing and postponed action accordingly.

Judge Kunkel Gets Busy.—Within a few minutes after he was sworn in as President Judge for another ten-year term, Judge Kunkel heard a dozen or more pleas of guilty. The charges were for a number of crimes, including larceny, assault and battery, etc., and two or three desertion cases.

Realty Transactions in City and County.—Saturday's realty transfers in city and county included the following: John A. Romberger to W. R. Snyder, Edinboro, $1,500; C. Gaupp to J. A. Romberger, Elizabethtown, $300; Samuel A. Pottelcher to C. C. Pottelcher, Wayne township, $620; A. E. Brough to Thomas S. Garland, 1847 Market street, $10; George W. Kerler to George W. Snively, Cumberland street, $1; J. W. Rodenhaver to Curtis Fry, 1114 Market street, $3,850; Harry A. Sherb to Hugh S. Boyd, 1625 North street, $1; Hugh S. Boyd to Harry A. Sherb, 47 North Seventeenth street, $1; Elias E. Fry to P. Vanderloo, Derry near Twenty-first, $1,000; John E. Dore to Ed. R. Henrich, 1821 Briggs street, $3,500; C. F. Leonard to Laura E. Wagner, Twenty-first and Brookwood, $1; B. G. Bopser to John Toran, $300; Leslie A. Bishop to Joseph Panken, $150; both Steelton; J. Stuzenhafer to A. Howard, Swatara township, $700.

Property owners abutting on Howard alley, from Camp to Emerald, and in Holly from Seventeenth to Eighteenth streets, will be heard by Engineer M. B. Cowden at his offices from 9 to 12 o'clock noon, Thursday, January 15.

Dr. Raunick Will Be Retained, Says Bowman

Official announcement of the retention of Dr. J. M. J. Raunick as city health officer or "director" of the Bureau of Health and Sanitation, as his title hereafter may be, was made this morning by Commissioner of Public Safety H. F. Bowman.

Commissioner Bowman said he does not know whether an ordinance will be necessary to effect the change of title, but that this matter will be settled after a conference with City Solicitor D. S. Seltz.

The Commissioner, Dr. Raunick, Plumbing Inspector P. J. Bradley and Plumbing Examiners James H. Lutz and Curtis Fisher, visited the pipeline plant of the Water Department in Cambridge street to a view to selecting permanent quarters for the Plumbing Inspector and a place for conducting plumbing examinations.

BRIDGE CO. ELECTS OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Harrisburg Bridge Company held this afternoon in the Board of Trade the following officers were elected for the year: President, Robert McCormick; secretary and treasurer, Joseph B. Hutchison; directors, J. D. Cameron, J. M. Cameron, Henry B. McCormick, Vance C. McCormick, Henry McCormick, Jr., W. L. Gorgas, George W. Rely, James M. Lamberton, H. C. Hildeman, Chas. E. Bergner, George E. Loyd, Joseph B. Hutchison.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE STORE

To reduce the cost of living by cutting out the second and third man's profit, is the aim of the co-operative store company formed in the West End on Saturday night. A constitution was framed, and preparations made to apply for a charter. The following officers were elected: President, C. M. Elder; vice-president, Thomas Yost; secretary, Alvin Upp; treasurer, J. J. Bretz; directors, G. W. Balthasar, S. W. Smith, E. Harrison, G. G. Keyes, Harry Milligan and Calvin Upp.

THE CHICKERING, HARDMAN AND KIMBALL PIANOS

Have been making a final choice the week over for nearly a century. See them at our warehouses. Prices $350 up. J. H. Troup Music House, 15 South Market Square.—Advertisement.

PENN BUILDING CLOSED

The Penn building was closed this morning to enable the plumber to repair the heating plant of the school.

NEW EXPRESS RATES IN EFFECT FEB. 1

Will Not Have Much Effect on the Parcel Post Business

New rates of the express companies which got into effect on February 1 indicate that the parcel post will not have a keener competition. The new rates are in very few instances below those of the post office service. In the rural deliveries and in the first zone there is no chance that the express companies can win away the business for the parcel post. They offer for no rural service, and the rates to nearby places is higher than the parcel post. For heavy packages to long distances there is a slight difference in favor of the express rates.

Domestic Injured in Fall Down Stairs

Mrs. Mary Spain, for forty years a domestic in the service of the Lambertson family, fell down a flight of steps in the home of Mrs. R. A. Lambertson, 111 North Front street, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and fractured her left leg at the hip.

Mrs. Spain is 75 years old. She is cook in the Lambertson home.

BEGIN EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

The Rev. R. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, members of the Minges Evangelistic Company, will begin services this evening at the Fourth Street Church of Christ. They come here from Port Arthur, Texas, and will be here all week.

At the Grand Canyon of Arizona you can hit the trail

Pretty Italian Miss Learns to Write So She Can Sign the License

When pretty Nannina Merini, an arrival from Naples, came to this city ten days ago, she was told that she would have to sign her own name to the application for a marriage license, she pouted and declared her friends were just teasing her because she hadn't mastered the language of the American vernacular.

When Antonio Puccarella, her fiancé, took her aside one evening and explained the custom of the land of their adoption, she grew very serious and decided to study how to write.

She made her first attempt to-day when she appeared with Antonio for the license and amusingly and proudly signed her name.

Nannina is 22; her husband-to-be is 24. He is a divorcee, having been legally separated from his first wife by the Allegheny county courts in 1911.

ELECT OFFICERS

The Mount Vernon Council, No. 333, Order of Independent Americans, has elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: Curry H. Smith, counselor; A. B. Book, vice-counselor; H. Whitmoyer, assistant recording secretary; H. Bongardner, conductor; W. Wenrich, warden; T. E. Kepler, inside sentinel; L. A. Watts, outside sentinel; J. S. Bowers, delegate to F. B. A. Association; F. F. Lutz, alternate.

ATE MORPHINE FOR CANDY

Four-year-old David Wollenstein, of 403 Walnut street, was saved from death by poison last night by physicians here at Harrisburg hospital. The lad had obtained some morphine tablets from the bathroom in his home. Thinking they were candy he ate some. His mother found him unconscious a short time later, and seeing the box of poison nearby called for the ambulance. After the poison was pumped from his body and he was given stimulants he was sent home.

STATE FIRE CLERK ILL

Moses R. Allen, of 411 Cumberland street, a clerk in the office of the State Fire Marshal, was taken to the Harrisburg hospital last night suffering from a stroke of apoplexy. He fell over in the street within a square of his home. His condition is serious.

MRS. KATIE MICALICK

Mrs. Katie Micalick, 26 years old, of 1211 North Seventh street, died last night at the Harrisburg Hospital of a complication of diseases. She was admitted to the hospital at 1:30 yesterday afternoon and died at 8:30 last evening.

MOTOR CLUB TO NOMINATE

At the regular monthly meeting of the Motor Club of Harrisburg to be held in the headquarters of the club in the Patriot Building, Market Square, to-morrow night, officers will be nominated for the year.

HIT BY STREET CAR

J. W. Motter, of 1943 Moltke street, was run down by a trolley car at Fourth and Calder streets on Saturday night. He has a lacerated scalp and many bruises. He was admitted to a ward in the Harrisburg hospital.

HORSE DISEASE KILLS MAN

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 5.—Glanders, a disease peculiar to horses, caused the death last night of Andrew M. Jansen, aged 26, an assistant in the bacteriological department of Ohio State University.

Advertisement for 'FIRST CITY ZOUAVES and CITY GRAYS'. It features a decorative border and text: 'HISTORY OF HARRISBURG'S LEADING MILITARY ORGANIZATION 1861-1913 Series of Sketches Covering Fifty-Two Years of Service in Peace and War. Compiled by Lieut. Charles P. Mack. MEMBER OF CITY GRAYS SEVENTH SECTION CO. I, EIGHTH REGT., N. G. P. [Continued.]' There are small illustrations of soldiers in uniform.

Advertisement for 'Transformation of Co. I, Eighth Regiment, N. G. P., From Co. H, Eleventh Regt. Command That Took Place of Co. D, Eighth Infantry, During Spanish War, Becomes Part of Regiment in Reorganization of National Guard'. It includes a large portrait of Captain Frank E. Ziegler and text: 'CAPTAIN FRANK E. ZIEGLER, Present Commander of Company I. Priv. Co. D Eighth Regt., April 20, 1886, to May 12, 1898. Priv. Co. H, Eleventh Regt. July 22, 1898; Sergt., Aug. 1898; (made Co. I, Eighth Regt., July 21, 1899); First Sergt., March 9, 1900. Second Lieutenant, Co. I, Eighth Regt., Jan. 13, 1905. First Lieutenant, Co. I, Eighth Regt., Nov. 29, 1907. Captain, Co. I, Eighth Regt., Sept. 21, 1908; re-elected Sept. 22, 1913.'

Advertisement for 'Eleventh Regiment Infantry, National Guard of Pennsylvania—Company H, Harrisburg, Pa.; organized July 22, 1892; detached and assigned as Company I, Eighth Regiment Infantry, June 21, 1899. General Orders No. 27, A. G. O.' It features a large portrait of Lieut. Robert D. Jenkins and text: 'The above order transferred bodily the command organized during the Spanish War to take the place of Company D, of the Eighth Regiment, N. G. P., while absent from the State in service in the United States Volunteer Army. The company was officered by Captain Maurice E. Finney, First Lieutenant Nicholas Tack and Second Lieutenant Harry C. Houz, all of whom had served in Company D prior to the breaking out of the Spanish War. A fair percentage of the enlisted men had served in the same company and had returned home from Camp Hastings, Mt. Gretna, in May, 1898, for various reasons. As Company H, Eleventh Regiment, the command had performed every duty assigned to it in a most efficient manner while part of the Provisional National Guard of Pennsylvania, and when that body was disbanded owing to the reinstatement of the old companies, regiments and brigades, the company was one of the few to be retained in service. Company I, Eighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, of Wheelsville, having failed to reorganize after muster-out of the regiment at Camp Mackenzie, Georgia, in 1899, the State officials immediately accepted the entire Harrisburg company for the reorganized Eighth Regiment in its place. The Wrightsville company had been in the State Guard for many years and for a long time was under the command of Captain Frank J. Magee, afterward colonel of the Eighth and brigadier general of the Third Brigade. The return of the organizations of the National Guard that had entered the United States service in the Spanish War, and their reinstatement in the National Guard, rendered necessary some disposition of the organizations that were recruited for the State service during their absence. It was deemed wise to reorganize the National Guard of Pennsylvania on the same lines as to regimental organization as that of the United States Army, and which provided for twelve companies and three battalions of four companies each to each regiment of infantry. Some of the old company organizations failed to reinstate themselves in the National Guard, and this, together with the additional companies that would be required, permitted the transfer of some of the companies of the new regiments. Many of these companies were very efficient organizations, and assignment and transfer of new companies to old regiments was made. Under this arrangement Company I was transferred entire to the Eighth Regiment. The reorganization of the regiment was made under orders dated April 21, 1899, and the transfer of Company I took place under order of June 21, 1899. Under Captain Finney's control and instruction the company soon took a high position among the older companies in the regiment and in a short time became known throughout the Guard for its efficiency, as shown by the reports of inspecting officers of both the National Guard of Pennsylvania and of the United States Army. The names of the officers and enlisted men on the rolls of the company at the time of transfer were practically the same as contained in the roster of Company H, Eleventh Regiment, and remained so for some time. The first change in officers was made when Second Lieutenant Harry C. Houz was appointed adjutant in the Eighth Regiment and Sergeant Edwin H. Ridgway was elected second lieutenant. Work of the Company During its year's existence as Company H, Eleventh Regiment, the command took part in everything of a military nature occurring during those busy times, including the inauguration of Governor William A. Stone in January, 1899, and the unveiling of the equestrian statue of Major General John F. Hartranft in Capitol Park facing West State street, May 12 of that year. On August 3 the company took part in the parade and reception of Jesse J. B. Wall, Frank L. Wall, Charles Delaney and Charles Pastor, four Harrisburg boys who had served in the Philippine Islands with the Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, on their return home after muster-out of the regiment. February 22, 1900, Company I took part in the reception of a cannon captured in Cuba by United States soldiers and presented the city of Harrisburg by the government. It was placed in Capitol Park in front of the Executive Building. The company paraded on Memorial Day, along with Company D and the Governor's Troop. From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to 11, 1900, Company I went to its first encampment at Mt. Gretna. This was a division camp and was held during an exceedingly hot and dry spell of weather. The work was particularly hard on the men, but they all stood the ordeal very well and kept in good health. Company I's First Camp From August 4 to