

How Individuals Are To Make Returns Required By New United States Income Tax Law Shown By Forms Received in Harrisburg To-day: Will Require Very Careful Study

Every Citizen of the United States and All Foreigners Residing Here With Incomes of $3,000 Affected

HEAVY PENALTIES FOR VIOLATING PROVISIONS

Filled in Forms Must Be Filed Not Later Than Thirty Days After March 1 of This Year

The first forms for the collection of income tax under the new law, as it affects the individual, were received in Harrisburg to-day.

1. This return shall be made by every citizen of the United States, whether residing at home or abroad, and by every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, having a net income of $3,000 or over for the taxable year, and also by every nonresident alien deriving income from property owned and business, trade, or profession carried on in the United States by him.

2. When an individual by reason of minority, sickness or other disability, is unable to make his own return, it may be made for him by his duly authorized agent.

3. The normal tax of 1 per cent shall be assessed on the total net income over the specific exemption of $2,000 or $4,000 as the case may be. (For the year 1913, the specific exemption allowable is that of $2,000, as the case may be.) If, however, the normal tax has been deducted and withheld on any part of the income at the source, or if any part of the income is received as dividends upon the stock or from the net earnings of any corporation, etc., which is taxable upon its net income, such income shall be deducted from the individual's total net income for the purpose of calculating the amount of income on which the individual is liable for the normal tax of 1 per cent, by virtue of this return. (See page 1, line 7.)

4. This return shall be filed with the collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the individual resides if he has no other place of business, otherwise in the district in which he has his principal place of business; or in case the person resides in a foreign country, in the district in which his principal business is carried on in the United States.

5. This return shall be filed on or before the first day of March succeeding the close of the calendar year for which the return is made.

6. The penalty for failure to file the return within the time specified by law is $25 to $100, in addition to the neglect to render the return within the required time (except in cases of sickness or absence), or to file the return on or before the first day of March succeeding the close of the calendar year for which the return is made.

7. The penalty for failure to file the return within the time specified by law is $25 to $100, in addition to the neglect to render the return within the required time (except in cases of sickness or absence), or to file the return on or before the first day of March succeeding the close of the calendar year for which the return is made.

8. This return properly filled out must be made under oath or affirmation. Affidavits may be made before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths. If before a justice of the peace, a notary public, or a minister of the gospel, the return must be sworn to before the officer.

9. Expense for medical attendance, store accounts, family supplies, wages of domestic servants, cost of heating, room or house rent for family or personal use, are not expenses that can be deducted from the net income. In case an individual owns his own residence he can not deduct the estimated value of his rent, neither shall he be required to include such estimated rental of his home as income.

10. The net income from the sale of the net income from his farm for his annual return, shall include all moneys received for the sale of animals, wool, and for the wool and hides of animals slaughtered, provided such wool and hides are sold or otherwise disposed of from the sums actually paid as purchase money for the animals sold or slaughtered.

11. When animals were raised by the owner and are sold or slaughtered he shall not deduct the value as expenses or loss. He may deduct the amount of money actually paid as expense for producing any animal, such as stock, etc. In deducting expenses for repairs on farm property the amount deducted must not exceed the amount actually expended for such repairs during the year for which the return is made. (See Instructions, item 6.)

12. In calculating losses, only such losses as have been actually sustained and the amount of which has been definitely ascertained during the year covered by the return can be deducted.

13. Persons receiving fees or emoluments for professional or other services, as in the case of lawyers or accountants, should include all actual receipts for services rendered in the year.

14. The system becomes rundown, blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, does not dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver medicine, as everything in it is named on every package, and if it does not give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Knoxville, Tenn. Miss Carrie King says: "For three years I was all run-down, weak, had no appetite and after all that time I am glad to say Vinol has brought back my health and strength."

Try a bottle of Vinol, on our guarantee. George A. Gargas, Druggist, Harrisburg, Penna. Vinol is sold in Steelton by T. Frowell.

"HIWATHA" AT THE STAR

The Star Theater, 410 Market street, announces for to-morrow, Thursday, January 8, the presentation of "Hiwatha," a motion picture masque in four parts. One hundred scenes and 150 Indians are employed in staging the performance. This attraction is the most elaborate that the management have yet provided for their patrons and is brought here at considerable expense and after no little difficulty, as the film is much in demand everywhere. The management have put special effort into securing the performance through the personal request of some of the public school teachers of this city, who desire having their pupils see a life portrayal of the poem, which is now being studied in some of the local schools. While the picture has always been shown heretofore at 10 cents, the management of the Star Theater have decided to show the entire production at their regular price of 5 cents.—Advertisement.

ASKS PAPERS TO BAR "QUACK" ADS

Medical Society Urges Press to Refuse All Matter Relative to Social Diseases

County newspapers were petitioned to cleanse their columns of the advertising of medical "quacks," who profit from the public ignorance on the social diseases, in a resolution adopted by the Dauphin County Medical Society at the annual meeting last night.

Dr. Hugh Hamilton presented the resolution and told of the war waged in Chicago by the newspapers which had resulted in driving out the quacks.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2. The plan to place the city's chemical and bacteriological work under one head was approved in a resolution passed by the society and Commissioner of Safety Bowman was requested to appoint a competent and qualified physician as city bacteriologist.

Dr. John B. McAllister was designated as the society's choice for State president. It was the annual meeting and these officers were elected.

President, Dr. J. F. Culp; vice-president, Dr. George L. Brown, Lucknow; secretary-treasurer, Dr. F. D. Kilgore; trustee, Dr. W. C. James; censor, George B. Kunkel; reporter, Dr. H. H. Regional Bank Hearing Continues in New York

New York, Jan. 7.—Despite the persistent opposition of Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury Department, and Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, to the proposal of New York bankers for establishment here of a regional reserve bank of overshadowing size, the witnesses who appeared at to-day's hearing of the Federal reserve organization committee insisted almost unanimously that such a bank was necessary.

From the long list of New York's leading financiers who have appeared before the committee one conspicuous name was missing. It was that of George F. Baker, who was perhaps the closest associate of the elder J. P. Morgan, and who is a director of more important corporations than any other man in the country. Mr. Baker's public appearances have been rare, and instead of coming before the committee in person, he was represented to-day by his son, George F. Baker, Jr., vice-president of the First National Bank, of which his father is the head.

Mr. Baker sided emphatically with the majority of his predecessors before the committee.

PROMINENT FIREMEN AT HOPE BANQUET

Alarm of Fire Turned in While Company Was on Way to Auditorium

Prominent firemen, city officials and citizens joined with the members of the Hope Fire Company last night in celebrating the centennial anniversary of the company at a banquet held in Chestnut Street Auditorium.

With the Commonwealth band leading the procession the members of the Hope company escorted the guests from the Hope engine house to Chestnut street. En route red fire was burned and as an added sensation the alarm of fire from Box No. 42, Second and Mulberry street came in just at the time the procession was turning into Market street at Market Square.

The procession moved close to the curb and as the fire apparatus passed there was a desire on the part of many to get busy, too, but the three taps came in shortly and ended the excitement as each guest marched into the hall he was handed a card on which to write his name. These cards were collected later and will be put into a souvenir book and placed among the archives at the Hope engine house.

Following a prayer by the chaplain, the Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler, the guests got under the feast. Maurice Russ was the caterer. During the banquet the band, under the leadership of Fred C. Weber, gave a delightful concert. The toastmaster, A. H. Kreidler, president of the company, read letters of regret from George S. Kroll, of York, president of the State Firemen's Association, and others.

Then came speeches by the chaplain, the Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler, Mayor John K. Royal, Irvin A. Hahne, Philadelphia, financial secretary of the State association, ex-Mayor Meals and others.

Making Up the Budget

The procedure for making up the budget this year will differ from that of previous years. Heretofore the city clerk issued a call to the various departmental heads for the estimates on the amounts necessary to conduct their work for the year. This was after the general appropriation ordinance had been offered in skeleton form and turned over to the subfinance committee. The estimates were then pared according to the amount of money that would have been available.

Under the form of government of the Councilmen who are the heads of the departments will submit their own estimates and thrust out the general appropriation ordinance themselves. Then the mill rate will be fixed, with reference to the revenues and the expenditures.

City Commissioner Bowman's salary has already practically been saved by the dismissal of the superintendent of the department and in other ways. In fact he has saved considerably more than this in his own department. And following the usual custom it is probable that his salary will be paid from the departmental revenues.

The Budgets

In addition to his salary, the budget for the department of public safety will include the water, health with the plumbing inspection, building inspection, telephone service, city electrician and street and office lighting
