FEDERALS HIT HARD BY LEAGUE LEADER

President John K. Tener Handed Out a Few Pertinent Facts Yesterday

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Notice was again served on all outlaw and other organizations now fighting organized baseball by Governor John K. Tener, head of the National League, that any further attempt and all attempts to break down the standard of the game would be fought in the courts.

His principal reference was to the Federal League and called attention to the fact that the attacks from the Federals have been confined to two points, one that the reserve clause was invalid and the other that the parties to the national agreement are members of a trust. President Tener voiced his opinion that neither charge could be considered seriously. The statement follows:

"Baseball to-day owes its popularity and very existence to organization. Such organization alone has developed and will preserve and perpetuate the game to and for the American people. Nevertheless, organized baseball is being attacked to-day by those and those only who desire to reap commercial benefits thereby.

"Baseball well organized more completely and thoroughly organized than ever, and therefore better able to withstand and combat the attacks that are being made upon it. The Federal League does not base its attacks upon an allegation that the public has not been given good, clean, high-class baseball or that the players have not been fairly treated or paid commensurate salaries, but it is endeavoring to induce players to break their contracts and seeks to excuse points, namely, the alleged illegality of the reserve clause in the players' contracts and the general statement that organized baseball constitutes a trust. I mean by this that the Federal League has officially announced that it will test the reserve clause in the courts and, failing to justify its contention of illegality, it will then seek to have organized baseball investigated and dissolved as a trust.

"But such a threatened war on organized baseball, begun by promoters simply for financial gain, and based upon broken contracts of players, takes no heed or account of the sportswoman, or the real welfare of our national game; and I believe the disapproval of such a war at the bar of public opinion will count far more against this movement, and its promoters than any technical decisions in the courts, even though such courts should again uphold the legality and equity of the reserve clause.

"In points of fact it is well known that the legality of the league and players was attacked, but its validity in law and equity was sustained by the Supreme Court in Pennsylvania in the Lajoie case.

Penn-State Team Dropped by Quakers

Philadelphia, Jan. 8.—For the first time since 1890 Pennsylvania State College will not play football with the University of Pennsylvania next Friday but it is quite possible that the two teams will meet once more in 1915. A desire to give Penn's gridiron warriors an easier schedule than was encountered last season is at the bottom of the change.

George Washington Heckert May Quit the Tri-State Game

Has Been Doublecrossed in the Reading Deal, According to Reports Received in Harrisburg Today

Unless two more cities are landed for the Tri-State League an old-timer, George Washington Heckert, may be missed. The one hope of Manager Heckert was to land the Reading franchise, but according to reports this morning the York leader has been given the "double cross."

It was conceded that Atlantic City had to be dropped but no one ever dreamed of John H. Myers going to Reading. That is what is going to happen, the announcement having been made last night that the Atlantic City owner preferred Reading to his own town. This has started the fans at Lancaster and there may be a strenuous effort made to get a team there in spite of John H. Myers. This will make it necessary for another town to come in, and Easton is a strong bidder. If Manager Heckert can land a new town he is all right, providing the circuit is increased to eight clubs. If not he is out.

No-License Campaign For Cumberland County Is Started at Mechanicsburg

Special to The Telegraph Mechanicsburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—A no-license campaign for Cumberland county was urged by Professor Hutchinson, head master of Conaway Hall, Carlisle, in an address on "Temperance," Wednesday evening at the joint meeting, a series of which are being held this week in the Church of God. A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the speaker and listened attentively throughout an interesting and forceful lecture. The county president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Alice S. Hauck, presented the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

"Resolved, That we heartily endorse the movement for national constitutional prohibition embodied in the United States Congress by Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, proposing an amendment to the Constitution forever prohibiting the sale, importation or exportation for sale of beverages or foods containing alcohol."

The foregoing is in reference to the joint resolution introduced in the House of Representatives December 4, 1911, reintroduced August 5, 1913, by Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, and will be offered for adoption in all the churches, young people's societies, club and other organizations in the town.

Many of the counties throughout the State are publishing the names of the signers of liquor license petitions, and it is rumored that Cumberland county will be in line. The originist of the evening was Raymond M. Swartz, and a solo was sung by Dr. J. S. D. Eisenhower.

This City Doesn't Know When It Began

At last we are set down in the midst of Damascus, a city that can claim life without a break from its founding back in the dim dawn of the world's history. When Abram crossed the desert from Haran four thousand years ago, this city was standing (See Gen. 14: 15 and 16: 2). She dates back to the time of the Pharaohs in Egypt; in fact, she was old when Greece and Rome were stripplings in years. Rome may be termed the "Eternal City," but Damascus is twice as old, and though her streets have run red with blood of battle and rapine many times, she has not been overthrown.

"Babylon is a heap in the desert and Tyre a ruin on the shore," but Damascus remains. Was there ever such a place to see the nations of the earth parading together? Here in the marketplace are motley crowds of Persians, Moors, Africans, Indians, Egyptians, Sudanese, Jews, Bedouins, Druses, Turks, Europeans. The streets—so crooked, so narrow, so dirty, so full of life, with that strange spell of the desert upon them! The residences as seen from the street are ugly and disappointing enough, yet like old barns and tumble-down mills at home, are fascinating and picturesque.—The Christian Herald.

GOOD ROADS FOLK TO GET TOGETHER

Have Meeting at the Commonwealth Hotel to Discuss Legislative Plans

People interested in good roads in Pennsylvania, representing various political parties and organizations, met at the Commonwealth Hotel this afternoon in an effort to see if it is possible for the advocates of improved highways to reach an agreement on a common plan for submission to the Legislature of 1915. It was the first meeting of the kind ever held and among the organizations represented were the State Grange, the State Federation of Labor, the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association and the National Highway Association with men active in the State committees of political parties and representatives of State governmental departments.

Numerous plans and suggestions for financing the road improvement were talked over and it is probable that a further conference will be held for discussion of the subject.

Among those present were William F. Creasy, master of the State Grange; State Treasurer R. K. Young, James H. Maurer, president of the State Federation of Labor; Vance C. McCormick, Harrisburg; ex-Senator John S. Fisher, Indiana, president of the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association; A. L. Martin, deputy secretary of agriculture; Joseph W. Hunter, deputy State highway commissioner; James B. Hammond, Bolivar; W. A. Ailsdorf, National Highway Association, and Frank Bell, secretary of the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association.
