DIXON PRAISED BY TRAVELERS

Commissioner's Clean Towel Order Meets With General Approval in State

State Commissioner Samuel G. Dixon has received scores of letters from organizations of commercial travelers and men who travel much commending him for the order issued last month requiring individual towels. It was expected on Capitol Hill that there would be a great outcry over the clean towel order, but instead of objections the State authorities have received compliments.

Formal resolutions commending the commissioner have just been received from the Harrisburg Council of the United Commercial Travelers of America, as follows: Hon. Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health, Harrisburg, Pa.

At the last regular meeting of Harrisburg Council, No. 358, United Commercial Travelers of America, your recent order bearing on the sanitary condition of hotels, restaurants and all public places serving the public, was brought up for discussion, and it was unanimously resolved to commend you and your department in the highest terms, for the strong stand taken in the interests of public health and sanitation.

The 160 members of this council, all commercial men, and subject to all the discomforts of traveling, and living largely at hotels and on railroad trains, appreciate the improvements already observable, from the effects of your ruling on these matters.

SMALL BOY DROWNED; MOTHER NEAR DEATH

Just two days ago a son was born to Mrs. Buela, and when she learned of her son Tony's death yesterday she swooned away into unconsciousness and it is exceedingly doubtful whether she will ever recover from the shock.

How Drowning Occurred Tony Buela was drowned while sliding upon the smooth, thin ice bordering the river's edge at the foot of Washington street. The lad, together with a half-dozen of his playmates, was having the time of his life when suddenly the ice broke beneath him and another boy, George Deskins, of 514 Brown street, who was leaning over the surface into five feet of water.

Deskins managed to save himself by crawling out on a patch of strong ice. Once out of the cold water, the shivering boy never stopped running until he reached the Harrisburg Hospital, where he was wrapped in good warm blankets.

When Tony Buela failed to come to the foot of the other boys who saw the accident rushed to the river bank to give the alarm. News of the drowning quickly spread throughout the southern end of the city and soon Edward Primrose, of 116 Ann alley, and William Drabenstadt, 813 South Front street, started a search for the boy's body.

Marine records show that the British schooner Mayflower left Perth Amboy, N. J., on December 30, for Boothbay, Maine, and touched at St. John, N. B., on January 10. She could not possibly have been in the position indicated by the Lusitania to-day. No other Mayflower of the schooner type is recorded.

Very Little Expense and Very Little Quaker Extract Create a Seemingly Miraculous Yet Entire Cure in the Case of Mrs. Frederick Wigfield, of No. 271 S. 2nd St., Steelton. Investigate, Any Way or Every Way

The Quaker Teacher has made his headquarters at the drug store to learn what his wonderful Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm is doing, has done and will do for sufferers of rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles, and worms. What Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm have done you know, if you have been reading your local papers. If not, here is another case, which the Health Teacher dares you to investigate, and if you find it not true he will give $100.00 to any local charitable institution, and the money is on deposit at the drug store. Mrs. Frederick Wigfield lives at No.

271 South Second street, Steelton. According to her own admission, in the presence of her husband, she told that she had suffered about two years with various stomach complaints, caused, as she learned, by the ravages of a tapeworm. She tried many remedies without success and doctors also failed to relieve her of the worm. She called on the Health Teacher. After proving to his satisfaction that she was afflicted with a tapeworm he gave her the Quaker Extract to remove it. She took this remedy only one day, or even less, and it caused the entire monster, complete with head, to be expelled. This is what the Health Teacher says: If you doubt it, call or write Mrs. Wigfield at No. 271

South Second street, Steelton. These are plain words, easily understood by all who may read them. Now, are you convinced of the power of the Quaker remedies?

Also bear in mind that Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm are intended for sufferers of rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles, worms, indigestion, constipations, etc., but not for lung, heart or throat troubles or for contagious or feverish diseases. Bear these facts in mind before calling. For such people who cannot conveniently call he wishes to remind them that the genuine Quaker remedies are now also on sale at W. H. Kennedy's, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.
