4 FOOD INSPECTORS NEEDED UNDER PLAN

vided for without an additional outlay of money by the city. Nominal license fees could be required, and the salaries of the inspectors could easily be paid from this fund.

"Two dollars a year could be charged without working anything like a hardship on the proprietors," said Dr. Raunick, "and the proceeds from the business places of this character in Harrisburg would net a fund of close to $4,000 a year."

"What salaries should be paid inspectors in your opinion? Seventy-five dollars a month?" "Why it wouldn't be necessary to pay that much. Men could be had I believe, for six dollars a month, and the health officer. And on that basis you can readily see that four inspectors could be provided for."

"Sounding really should be done in this matter and done soon," continued Dr. Raunick. "Here we are facing the State law relative to the individual towel, the individual drinking cup, and the requirements as to the washing and handling of dishes."

"To keep within the law's requirements one's glass, whether it be for water or beer, must have been cleaned in hot water before one can be served with it; no longer can the glass be sluiced around in a trough in the same water that has served for scores of other glasses. Then there is the requirement that the glass must be cleaned before they are used."

Staff of Men Required "All this, you see," continued the health officer, "require a staff of men to be right on to their jobs all the time. The food in the division of food inspection would naturally bring this phase of the public health regulation under the food inspection department."

Will Ask Council to Raise Amount Demanded of Steelton Vendors A meeting of the executive committee of the Steelton Merchants Association will be held this evening in White Street's stationery store, North Front street. The meeting is called for the purpose of appointing a committee of the association to confer with council in favor of a higher license or league relative to securing the enforcement of the Sunday "Blue Law."

In an interview this morning President E. F. McNear said: "It is not the object of the Merchants' Association to agitate unfairly an increase in the license fee for street vendors. We merely want to appear before council and try to show them that we ought to have a higher license fee in the spirit of fair play because we are prevented from soliciting business in the surrounding towns by a prohibitive license fee. We do not want to suggest to council as to what amount they are to place the license fee. We leave that up to them. We know they will treat us right and fairly."

she better get out of the game. Her answer, though unprintable, was effective in showing her viewpoint.

Quiet of the Graveyard In the two segregated districts where everything had been so open Mr. Funk found the quiet of the graveyard. In the South street district, which lies between Cherry street from Third street to the railroad and in Dewberry street from Chestnut to the railroad, there were twenty-five open houses before the exposure. There are now three quiet houses running here, houses which have always been different from the others in that they were little known.

Although Mr. Funk says the girls he saw told him many of the details of the underworld have fled to Lancaster, Altoona and other nearby cities and towns, he believes a great number are keeping under cover in respectable lodgingshouses, "waiting for the storm to blow over."

A WOMAN'S HEALTH

Every woman's health is peculiarly dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headache, pain in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, a constant feeling of weariness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, pallor and nervousness? Do you have any of the symptoms, do not despair of getting better but begin now, to-day, to build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. See how the nervous energy of the body is restored as the blood becomes pure and red and the entire system is strengthened to meet every demand upon it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for all women but they are particularly valuable in girls of school age who show symptoms of going into a decline, who become pale, nervous and languid. These pills aid in securing perfect development and health by strengthening the system and purifying and building up the blood. Thin blood during the growing years of a girl's life usually means a flat-chested and hollow-cheeked womanhood. There can be neither health nor beauty without red blood which gives brightness to the eyes and color to cheeks and lips.

Five Calves Help Tie Legal Knot Now Being Untangled in Court

Five youthful calves had much to do with the sitting to-day of a jury of twelve of Dauphin county's good men and true.

The five were the property of William Peters, and Mrs. Catherine Cooper alleged that she looked after the quintet, cared for them, and all that, and received no pay for the trouble; furthermore, the care and attention to the calves wasn't included in the contract she and her husband, Abraham, made with Mr. and Mrs. Peters when they began working as hired help on the latter's farm. In course of time the Coopers had quit because the work got to be too much for them, and they had finished it, they contend, so they asked for the money which they said was due them. A difference as to the figure arose, and the case drifted into January Common Pleas Court. It was one of the cases heard to-day by President Judge Kunkel.

In No. 2 room Judge Henry continued with the trial of the trespass suit of Mrs. Agnes Ledy against the Harrisburg Railway Company. She received a difference as to the figure slipped from a trolley car.
