English Beauty Tells Complexion Secrets

"Elixir" in American Home. Through a fortunate meeting with an English lady, noted for her dazzling complexion I recently learned the full meaning of that old adage, "Beauty is but skin deep." She taught me how to remove my muddy old skin, revealing the young and beautiful skin underneath. The process is so simple, harmless and inexpensive, I'm sure you'll be glad to know about it. Just get an ounce of ordinary meringed wax put in a glass jar and apply night and day cold cream for a week or so. Every morning in washing off the wax, tiny particles of worn-out cuticle come off too. The action is so gentle and gradual, there's no discomfort. It's a wonderful treatment, as it not only peels off the faded or discolored skin, but all of its defects, as chaps, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches, black-heads. I am indebted to the same lady for a remarkable wrinkle-removing formula. One ounce powdered saxolite is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Used for a few days this is so effective that just one application causes the finer lines to disappear, and soon even the deepest ones go.—Advertisement.
