

Exceptional Value in Library Tables

HERE is pictured a solid Mahogany Library Table taken from our regular display that will surely commend itself to lovers of fine furniture.

It is 45 inches long with heavy fluted columns. A large blind drawer is a convenient feature.

The simple elegance of this table together with the finely figured Mahogany used in its construction is worthy of most $35 tables.

The Pianola Spells Perfection

There is but one Pianola. Other players-play music; the Pianola interprets it—interprets it as the composer would have it done. Technique and tone production are its attributes. The sonata, the pastoral, the concerto—all represent the Pianola's field. There is nothing in the musical world to which it cannot do perfect justice.

FAVORITE STORIES TOLD AT LIBRARY

Diversity of Tastes Shown in Program of Story Tellers' League

One of the most popular of the meetings of the Story Tellers' League was held last evening in the lower hall of the Public Library, with Miss Annie E. Miller in charge. The topic was "Favorite Stories," and a wide diversity of tastes was shown when the tales were related.

Miss Josephine Lee Meek gave in charming fashion the "Land of the Blue Flower," by Frances Hodgson Burnett; Mrs. Ray Bignall told "How We Came to Have Pink Roses," by Sarah Cullen Bryant; Miss Dolores Segelbaum chose a story from the Atlantic Monthly, "Red Bird—He Can See"; Miss Bertha Motter's favorite was Johnson's "In the Land of Waiting," and Miss Miller closed the program with a "Handful of Clay," by Dr. Henry VanDyke.

The next meeting of the league will be held Tuesday evening, February 24, with Miss Fair, the story teller of the Library, in charge of a program of "Hero Stories."

Successful Food Sale Held by Suffragists

The food sale given Tuesday by the Central Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association was a great success, every cake, pie, roll, loaf of bread and jar of fruit being sold some hours before the time set for closing the rooms. The affair netted the society about $75 and the committee in charge, Mrs. Joseph LeCompte, chairman, desires to thank the many friends who made possible the success of this sale. Among those to whom the committee is especially indebted are M. A. Cunniff, of Steelton, Henry J. Spicer, Mrs. Hawkins, Cleo Studaker, S. S. Pomeroy, Kreider Bros., Miss Brennehan, John A. Rose, W. G. Carl, George Zellers, John T. Ensminger and the daily papers of the city. A handsome lamp shade of pink-flowered silk was presented to Mrs. Keats Peay by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. LeCompte.

Parent-Teacher Meeting at the Penn Building

An interesting meeting of a Parent-Teacher Association was held last evening in the Penn school building, Seventh and Cumberland streets, Miss Maude Gamble, supervisory principal, with a large attendance.

The program included singing by a chorus of school girls and talks by Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones, who told "Story of a Fly," and a "Story of a Grain of Dust." Mrs. Jones presented a picture of Abraham Lincoln to each visitor and spoke of the kindly nature of the great President.

Mrs. Charles J. Wood, Jr., read from the new play, "A Madonna of the Tubs," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, to the delight of her audience. This is the second meeting held in this district.

Plans For Elopement Discovered by Friends

Though they tried so hard to keep their elopement a secret, friends discovered that Miss Mabel L. Ross, of Macley street, and C. Nagle Miller, of 321 South Front street, had arranged to leave on an early train this morning for Philadelphia, to be married.

A wedding trip to New York and Buffalo will follow the ceremony and after March 15, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will be "at home" to their friends in their newly-furnished house in South Eighteenth street.

MUSICAL RECITAL IS MOST UNUSUAL

Large Audience Hears George Sutton Sing Between Victrola and Pianola Numbers

A musical recital was given at the warehouses of C. M. Sigler, 30 North Second street, last evening and a goodly audience gathered to listen to the new kind of music that is now more or less popular, that is music which is ground out by machines, though in this case Mr. Sutton added the charm of his voice to the occasion.

To the newspaper man who strayed in, it was a musical surprise to hear the voice of Caruso emitted from the Victrola, while an accompaniment was played to the singing on a Pianola. Whether "canned" music is to supersede the performance of indomitable remains to be seen, but it will furnish more probable that there will still be human souls fired with the desire to bring forth sweet strains on musical instruments.

There will be no more Carusos to furnish music for occasions like last evening if there are no more hot-house operatic prices to induce people to train themselves; neither will there be any more marches echoing from the Victrola as produced by Sousa's band, if the world will not pay the price to hear the real Sousa's band perform. The recital last evening was a pleasant one and enjoyed by all.

One observer said that, by and by, probably all people would delegate their praising of the Lord to machines and his companion remarked that "in that case, he would choose only the very best instrument procurable."

Three Hostesses For Large Valentine Dance

Festoons of smilax, strings of scarlet hearts, Cupids, bows and arrows mingled with pennants and flags in the decoration of Hanshaw's Hall for the Valentine dance given last evening by the Misses Helen Tettemer, Laura Nicholas and Elizabeth Killinger.

Supper was served at 11 o'clock to Miss Hazel Fraim, Miss Sylvia Wildie, Miss Ruth M. Long, Miss Anna Lash, Miss Gamber, Miss Margaret Crownshield, Miss Elizabeth Killinger, Miss A. MISSIONARY MEETING IN HISTORIC HOUSE

Executive Committee Woman's Synodical Society of Home Missions in Session

The executive committee of the Woman's Synodical Society of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Pennsylvania held a midwinter session this morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Elder Bailey, Front and South streets.

The president of the historic home of William Macla, one of the first United States Senators, and son-in-law of John Harris, the founder of Harrisburg, has been recently enlarged and remodeled by the Baileys, who took great pleasure in having the meeting here, because of the interest in missions taken by their mother, the late Mrs. Charles L. Bailey, who was not only president of the Synodical society for several years, but one of its organizers in this State.

Mrs. William Edgar Gell, of Doylestown, the president, presided this morning, and the committee made an adjustment of apportionments for the State, coming from the Woman's Board of Home Missions in New York City. The revision of the constitution was considered and plans for the Bailey memorial were discussed. This memorial to Mrs. Charles L. Bailey, of this city, the beloved president of the society, will be made in the form of permanent competitive scholarship funds secured in Pennsylvania, one for Freedman and several for Home Mission fields in various parts of the country.

The committee talked over the work of the society in general and planned for the annual meeting in October, to be held in Pittsburgh.

A buffet luncheon was served at 1 o'clock with Mrs. William Elder Bailey, hostess. Spring flowers decorated the small tables, jonquils and snapdragons prevailing.

The guests included: Mrs. Gell, of Doylestown; Mrs. S. P. Harbison, of Allegheny; Mrs. William B. Holmes, of Honesdale; Mrs. Joshua W. Sharpe, of Chambersburg; Mrs. William W. Fiske, of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. Everett Ransaw, of Swarthmore; Mrs. D. F. Dieffenderfer, of Erie; Miss Letitia W. Murdaugh, of Oxford; Mrs. William T. Scheffer, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Charles T. Evans, of Pottstown; Mrs. Robert H. Kirk, of McKeesport; Mrs. Samuel W. Fleming, Mrs. Edward Bailey, Mrs. Gilbert M. McCauley, Mrs. J. Ritchie Smith, Mrs. Henry McCormick and Mrs. A. J. Herr.

Working at Hard Labor Though Death Threatened Him

Mr. Jacob Karr, of Linden street, has lived in Harrisburg many years and scores of people know him as a hard working man, but few people knew that while he was toiling, death in a horrible manner threatened him. Often he would spend some of his hard-earned, meager savings for a remedy which should help him, but anything and everything failed. Often, when working in the broiling sun, he would be overcome by dizzy attacks, but he would fight them, overcome them and continue to work. Often the condition of his stomach was such that it was almost by superhuman efforts that he was able to earn his bread. What made things even more pitiful was the fact that Mr. Karr knew the cause of his sufferings; no diagnosis was necessary. He knew, positively knew, that a monster worm was thriving in his system; knew that this worm was gradually, but surely, weakening him and realized that a terrible death would soon be his lot unless this worm was removed. But what could he do? Where could he go for help? Years and a small fortune he spent in his endeavor to find a cure, but he only grew worse. Discouraged, indeed, was he when he called at Kennedy's drug store. He explained conditions, and as the Health Teacher claimed Quaker Extract would remove tapeworms, here was indeed an opportunity to prove it. Mr. Karr obtained the medicine Saturday night last. He took it according to directions only a few times, and he expelled the worm. Oh, my, what a monster! It is nearly eighty feet long, complete, with head. Then Mr. Karr's happiness knew no bounds. He knew he was cured—restored to perfect health. He joyfully placed the worms in a fruit jar and himself carried it to the drug store. It was, indeed, a scene never to be forgotten when he expressed his gratefulness. While the Health Teacher appreciated this manifestation of thanks, he merely said: "I congratulate you on your narrow escape from death, but it is only another proof of the wonderful powers of Quaker Extract which I introduced to the people of Harrisburg." Sufferers from rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach or blood troubles or worms should call at H. C. Kennedy's, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.
