Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist
"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer.

Special Coal Mixtures

A special feature of the Kelley Coal Service is the special mixing of coal. If you want a special mixture of hard or soft sizes your order will be filled to your satisfaction.

Mixed and the coal will be thoroughly mixed. The one kind will not be on the top and the other on the bottom.

Homekeepers who require special mixtures are urged to try Kelley's mixed fuel. The cost is no more, and the results are far better.

PRESIDENT PLAYING POLITICS CLEVERLY

Trying to Insure Continued Success by Accepting Aid From Divided Opposition

IS USING HIS INFLUENCE

Northern and Western States Crucial Centers in Which Persuasion Must Be Used

Washington, Feb. 12.—President Wilson realizes that the Democratic party is a minority party, and if it is to retain its present apparent supremacy in the affairs of the nation, it must not only hold what it has, but must recruit its forces from the opposition.

Since the day of his nomination the President has made it clear that he is not to be regarded as "a deadhead in this enterprise," that his election would mean that he is not only President, but that he is, besides and particularly, the head of his party—not altogether infallible, perhaps, but by virtue of his office the acknowledged chief of his political clan.

In every presidential election in the last seven years, with the exception of 1912, New York has been carried by the Republicans. Since 1894 the Republicans have elected seven Governors of New York and the Democrats have elected two—Dix and Sul-

At the last election the Democratic candidate for President received 655,475 votes in New York State and the opposition candidates—Republican, Progressive and Socialist—908,830 votes.

Uses His Influence
It appears, however, that the President is inclined somewhat to use his influence for what is called "clean politics." In the recent mayoralty election in New York city he was heard and soul for Mitchell, and Mitchell won a great victory.

In the election for Governor of New Jersey, he backed Fiebler to the limit, and Fiebler triumphed.

In the late congressional election in West Virginia his influence was exerted for the Democratic candidate.

In Pennsylvania, A. Mitchell Palmer has entered the race for United States Senator as the President's candidate, and Vance McCormick is the Administration favorite for Governor. It has not been determined yet whether or not the President will "take the stump" in any of the States; but if he thought it necessary to the success of the plans he has in view, he would not hesitate two minutes as to the course he should take, and he would fairly blaze with enthusiasm for his cause. He has an old-fashioned idea that "faith without works is dead."

"WHERE THE TRAIL DIVIDES"

Every one who saw Robert Edson in "Strongheart" will want to see "Where the Trail Divides," a new Indian play which comes to the Majestic Theater to-day, matinee and night, for an engagement of three days.

MRS. FISKE

Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan company come to the Majestic Theater, Thursday, February 19, presenting Harry James' comedy, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," which has grown to be such a standard success with her that she does not hesitate to repeat it after a season in some much heavier play. In the title role Mrs. Fiske's best comedy talents are brought into play, and there are several others that are almost as original as her own.

"SNOOZER"

Nearly every week finds one act at the Orpheum that receives more discussion about town than any other feature of that same bill. This comment does not always mean that they would single out that particular attraction and call it the best of the offering, but it does indicate that it is certainly the best novelty of the bill. This week these particular honors go to "Snoozer," the educated bull dog in "Snoozer" is the greatest educated dog seen at the Orpheum Theater at any time. Not because he does acrobatics, but because he can do one of them. But "Snoozer" does arithmetic, he knows colors and he apparently understands the English language as good as any human being does. He's a great dog and he's worth seeing. The Orpheum's bill throughout is clever and diversified.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL

New things vaudevilian burst on our view at the Colonial to-day. The Four Readings, in a rattling athletic act, will lead the offering, supported by Howard and Denny, a comedy singing and talking duo, and Theo. Bamberg, presenting novelty shadowgraphs. "The Silent Death," a fine Selig feature film in two parts, will be a special attraction to-day in the way of "movies."—Advertisement.

VICTORIA THEATER

A feature will be shown to-day of the life of a young lady who is on a sight-seeing party to India. She is shown the place called the harem and gets separated from her guide and is made a prisoner in the harem. The way she escapes is miraculous. "The Forest of Arife" is a beautiful two reel picture showing to-day. "Making a Living" is a Keystone picture which is very funny.—Advertisement.

WILSON TALKS OF RESTORING AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE

Washington, D.
