COAL TAX BILLS

START NEXT WEEK

Auditor General's Department Will Be Ready to Enforce the Law on Time

Steps for the collection of the anthracite coal tax will be taken by the Auditor General's Department after March 1. The reports recently filed are being gone over and it is not expected that any procedure will be necessary as the operators have come forward with complete information. After next week the computation of the tax will be started.

Meanwhile it is expected that the demurrer of the State to the suit to test the constitutionality of the law will be entered and arrangements made for an early argument of the proposition in the Dauphin county courts.

Observe Holiday.—Capitol Hill observed Washington's birthday to-day by closing most of the departments, although the health, State, police and labor and industry branches were open for necessary business which could not wait. Governor Tener was at his office for a short time before going to Pottsville for the armory ceremonies.

Big Increase in the Building and Loan Association, of Philadelphia, to-day filed notice of increase of its stock from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000.

Cold Cars.—Complaints that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is not keeping its cars warm are being made at the Public Service Commission and the company has been asked to explain. Complaints about the freezing of cars to the navy yard have also been filed.

State Charters.—State charters have been issued as follows: Munster Coal Company, Altoona; Home Coal Company, Monongahela, capital $15,000; Best Engineering and Supply Company, Pittsburgh, capital $25,000; Louis Mills Company, real estate, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Royal C. Leuler Company, Pittsburgh, capital $20,000; W. M. Collear Company, produce, etc., Pittsburgh, capital $25,000; Snyder Engineering Company, Wilkeshburg, capital $5,000; Grossman Trunk and Bag Company, Pittsburgh, capital $25,000; Shaw Motor Company, Uniontown, capital $10,000.

Mistaken Reports.—The Auditor General's Department is evidently being mistaken for a branch of the federal government in regard to the income tax, judging from letters being received at the department. Reports on income are being sent by corporations, and even by banks, to the Philadelphia office of the federal authorities of the proper district. Practically every mail for the last six days has contained such reports.

Meets Tomorrow.—The legislative fire insurance investigating committee will resume its hearings at York tomorrow preparatory to commencing a tour which will include Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Reading and Harrisburg. It is also the intention to hold a hearing at Erie and to visit a number of other cities. The commission will hold hearings until well into the next week.

To Open Bids.—When the State Army Board meets on March 19, it is probable that some definite action will be taken in regard to the construction of an armory to properly house the battalion of the Sixth Infantry in Philadelphia. The matter is now under consideration by a committee. The board will also be asked to consider the construction of a new armory in Greensburg and Wayneburg on March 18.

Water Supply.—The State Water Supply Commission will probably meet on Thursday to consider applications for bridges in the central part of the State and the report on the Coatesville water project, which is being investigated by engineering experts.

Land Damages.—The question of whether damage be claimed from a railroad for cinders falling upon farm land is now being considered by Public Service Commission officials. A complaint has come from Berks county that fields have been damaged by cinders and a demand made that the railroads exercise greater care.

WORTHY LABOR TO #### WORK ON STREETS

County Poor Directors Will Suggest Method of Relief to City Council

City Council will be asked by the Dauphin county Poor Directors to employ on the streets those worthy applicants for county relief orders. In the letter the Poor Directors will call attention to the fact that there have been many applicants for grocery orders by men who had been employed on the street and other contracting jobs and who are now without work because the operations have been shut down. This is particularly true since the heavy falls of snow. These men, the directors point out, are willing and anxious to work, but no employment can be obtained.

The Poor Board's plan is to send these applicants to the Department of Streets and Public Improvements, where they can be given work at clearing the streets of snow. The men to be paid in relief orders from the Poor Board. It is pointed out that the orders have to be given away and that the plan suggested will give the worthy men a chance to earn the relief rather than have them objects of charity. The Poor Board can be recompensed, as is to be suggested in the letter, by having the city pay a portion of the bills for supplies.

Holiday at Courthouse.—Almost, with the exception of the Prothonotary's and the County Controller's offices, all the Courthouse offices were closed to-day in observance of Washington's Birthday. Only City Clerk Miller's office of the municipal department was open, with the exception, of course, of the Departments of Parks, Public Safety and Streets and Public Improvements.

MESSIAH LUTHERANS

TO BUILD NEW CHURCH

tion of a building of a size adequate to accommodate the church. It is the intention of the congregation to have an auditorium with a seating capacity of from 1,200 to 1,500, and a Sunday school room accommodating 1,000 with provisions for class rooms and all the latest equipment in Sunday school work.

Cost of Structure
The church structure alone is to cost $100,000, and the completed plant will be valued at $150,000, the Rev. Mr. Hanson said.

During the Lenten season every cent of money growing out of the individual self-denial of the members of the church will be put into the building fund. At least $4,000 it is expected will be raised by Easter in this way.

A large part of the church membership has joined the Pentecostal Legion in which the members agree to pay a tenth of their income during the Lenten season into the church building fund. Others will set aside fixed amounts each week and supplement any fund will be raised through self-denial offerings, made up of what is usually spent for amusements, unnecessary luxuries or an amount that is equal to such expenditures. Every member of the church will help by one of these methods. The fund will be closed and the total announced on Easter Sunday, April 12.

One of the big influences in the promotion of the plan to raise the needed funds is the class of younger men organized recently with George F. Messinger as president. They are taking an active interest and pushing the movement along.
