INDIANS TO HOLD BIG BOOM COUNCIL

400 Pale Faces Will Be Adopted Into Order Tomorrow Night

CHARLES E. PASS
 Great Junior Sagamore, Who Will Preside Over Indian Boom Council Tomorrow Night

Fires will be lighted for the second annual Boom Council of the Red Men tribes of Harrisburg, at the City Grays' Armory to-morrow night, at 7:30 o'clock, with Charles E. Pass, great junior Sagamore, presiding. Joining with the members of the various tribes in Harrisburg will be great chiefs and members of the order from every town in the Cumberland Valley, from Philadelphia, Reading, Lebanon, Sunbury and Lewistown. The Lebanon braves will come to Harrisburg by special train over the Reading.

The principal feature of the Boom Council will be the adoption of 400 pale-faces into the order. A total attendance of at least 1,200 is expected. The degrees will be exemplified by teams of braves from the Cornplanter, Octorora and Warrior Eagle tribes. The costumes to be worn by the Octorora and Warrior Eagle tribes will be seen for the first time. They are the most costly costumes in the State. Among those prominent in the order who will be present are: Past Great Sachem Dr. Walter R. Rodgers, Philadelphia; Great Junior Sagamore Samuel E. Walker and Great Prophet Charles T. L. Davis, Reading.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Mayor James J. Curley, of Boston, resigned his seat in Congress, taking the step as a result of the resolution introduced by Republican Leader Mann, which proposed that Mr. Curley's seat in the House be declared vacant.

Henry George, Jr. member of Congress from New York City, paid tribute to the memory of Joseph Pils, who died in Philadelphia last Sunday, and said his death was a heavy loss to the single tax cause.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield addressed the Greater Dayton Association at Dayton, Ohio, and predicted an industrial awakening that would revolutionize the nation's business. He cited vocational education as a reason for the new era.

The Court of Appeals of the State of New York handed down a decision granting a new trial to ex-Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, in the death-house at Sing Sing for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a gambler. The Court confirmed the verdict of the four "gunmen" convicted for the same crime. They will await their death next month.

Attorneys for the United States Steel Corporation filed a brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission in which it was asked that the commission reopen the "matter of allowance to short line of railroads serving industries."

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, addressing the Kansas City Bar Association, expressed the opinion that the simplification of court procedure and the creation of a general popular conference of the judiciary must come largely through the American people. The Supreme Court of the United States handed down a decision restricting the conditions under which prosecuting officials may seize papers belonging to persons accused of crime; it may seize the "privileges" of letters against Frank M. Ryan and other bridge union officials.

About 7,000 women cast their first vote in Chicago for candidates for City Council.

Alexander Moffatt, a star Princeton halfback of the 90s, died of pneumonia in a New York hospital.

Phyllis, an English militant suffragette, was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment. She was charged with having set fire to the residence of Lady White, at Englefield Green, Surrey.

Boer Law, in a speech in the British House of Commons, warned Premier Asquith that the passage of the Irish Home Rule bill would be construed by Ulster as a declaration of war.

Minister Mosen, of Huerta's Cabinet, announced that a Mexico would nationalize the country's oil lands. It was reported that the properties thus obtained subsequently would be sold to Lord Cowdray for $50,000,000.

The House naval committee voted to report favorably on the construction of two dreadnoughts, six torpedo destroyers and as many submarines, and recommended an appropriation of $200,000 for building shipways at the League Island Navy Yard.

Senator Norris charged that $200,000 had been stolen from stockholders of the New Haven Railroad. A hot debate was precipitated on his resolution requiring the Attorney General to furnish the Senate with facts of the proposed divorce of the Boston and Maine.

Newspaper Publisher Commits Suicide When He Is Indicted For Libel

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 25.—Albertus G. Fuss, brother of J. Allen Fuss, West Main street jeweler, committed suicide at the home of his mother, Mrs. Fuss, Kemp's Mill, near Williamsport, Md., yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, by firing a bullet into his head.

Mr. Fuss was 42 years old and survived by his mother, sister and two brothers, Henry and Allen. He was a graduate of Gettysburg College. He had been a sufferer for several years from heart trouble and nervousness.

Recently Mrs. Fuss had been indicted for criminal libel of Judges M. L. Keedy and Robert R. Henderson in a paper, The Spirit of Justice, which he had had printed and circulated. In this he alleged, among other things, that $50,000 had been stolen by the judges and that they were guilty of theft, corruption and venality.

The trial of Mr. Fuss was ordered removed from Washington to Frederick county and March 2 was set as the date for it.
