Subcommittee Files Its Report on Strike

Washington, D. C., March 9.—The report of the Senate subcommittee which investigated the West Virginia coal strike was filed in the Senate today by Senator Swanson, of Virginia, chairman of the committee. His report, while characterizing conditions in the strike field as "most deplorable," makes no recommendation, the committee explaining that the resolution authorizing the investigation conferred on it no power to recommend legislation.

In summing up the conclusion of the committee, Senator Swanson said: "The conditions existing in this district for many months were most deplorable. The hostility became so intense, the conflict so fierce, that there existed in this district for some time well-armed forces fighting for supremacy. Separate companies, organized, armed and guarded, were established. There was much violence and some murder. Fought battles were fought by the contending parties. Law and order disappeared and life was insecure for both sides. Operation and business practically ceased."

INDIAN GIRLS MEMBERS OF WASHINGTON OFFICIAL SOCIETY

When Gabe E. Parker came to Washington, a few months ago, to enter upon his new duties as one of the wampum chiefs of the Government and as Register of the Treasury to sign all of Uncle Sam's paper money, he brought with him, not only his wife and family, but two very attractive Indian girls as well. These young ladies, whose pictures appear above, and their brother, are part Choctaw Indians and trace their ancestry with a great deal of pride back to the leaders of the tribe when it was sovereign in that part of the United States which is now Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. The girls are both pretty and are fast becoming popular members of official society at the capital.

REGAINS MEMORY AFTER EIGHT YEARS

Prof. Mark Walrod Harrington Develops Musical Sense He Did Not Formerly Possess

Philadelphia, March 9.—After a complete loss of memory eight years ago, Professor Mark Walrod Harrington, formerly director of the United States Weather Bureau and an astronomer of note, is at last recovering his intellect. Mrs. Harrington yesterday said he was competent to conduct his business affairs and had in many respects become normal. A strange feature of the case is Mr. Harrington's newly discovered love of music. Although in his former life he knew nothing of it, he is now, at the age of 66, devoting all his energies to the study of the piano, harmony and allied subjects. It is thought that the parts of his brain which were developed most fully received the severest setback at the time of his accident, and the subject of which he knew least therefore was the one most susceptible of development. Prior to his accident he had taught almost every scientific course in college curriculum.

The regular morning hour of First Day services of the Society of Friends at the rooms, in North Second street, was yesterday changed to 2:30 p. m. for the convenience of several out-of-town visitors. Following a period of devotion and prayer was offered by Mrs. Bishop, a member of the Baltimore Friends' Society. He is a firm believer in the Quaker form of worship, having been a member of the Society for many years. He spoke of his country and its conditions at the men's gatherings in Lenny's Theater later in the day. His mission in America at present is with the United States Government on behalf of General Wang, who is anxious to visit here. Mr. Tong is a member of the Revolutionary party in China, and he claims that six-tenths of the Chinese army are Christians. He has a brother-in-law a refugee in Japan for being the loser in the recent Presidential fight for the Presidency of the new Chinese Republic.

A testimonial on the power of the Friends' form of religion was given by Dr. McLoney, of the medical schools of Peking. Senator Borah and G. W. Perkins in Political Controversy

SENATOR BORAH GEORGE W. PERKINS

Senator Borah, of Idaho, who, it seemed at one time, would walk out of the Republican party with Colonel Roosevelt, and George W. Perkins, the steel millionaire, who did go out, have engaged in a biting controversy on the merits of their parties. Mr. Perkins, answering a statement of Senator Borah about the International Harvester Trust, defended that organization and the Senator went back at him. Senator Borah has told Mr. Perkins that he is now trying to distribute to the public some of the benefits and profits of the harvester trust, which should never have been created. Mr. Perkins is one of the chief backers of Colonel Roosevelt and was very prominent in the Bull Moose ranks in the last campaign.
