NEW MORTGAGE FAVOR

consequence of legislative enactments and regulations, dealing with every phase of railroad operation. The result, he said, is higher maintenance operating charges. The railroads as a whole have not been spending enough for maintenance, he added. Continuing, Mr. Rea said: "No serious public consideration is at present being given to the investors who have furnished the capital for all the railroads, and thereby provided the most substantial foundations for the past and present progress of the country, and the prosperity of the railroads the country cannot prosper. "If large numbers of railroadmen and other depending on railroads for every character of supplies and work are out of employment, and a general loss of confidence exists, and suspicion has been engendered, no attempt must be made to place this responsibility upon the railroad management. They have issued warnings and made petitions for fair dealing but without effect. The time has come when all fair-minded men in investment should individually and collectively impress upon their State and Federal Senators, representatives and government that they are a part of the nation entitled to a consideration.

Prevent Calamity "This statement is not made to predict calamity, but it is made to prevent calamity, and because heretofore we have made our efforts to induce investors from asserting their rights, but we will no longer occupy that position while every other interest in this country petitions for their own protection, and while the benefits of legislative protection."

Mr. Rea called attention to the "full crew" laws in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, adding that appeals have been made to the Legislature of New York and New Jersey
