

MURPHY IS DROPPED FROM CLUB BECAUSE HE DID NOT PAY DUES

Tammany Hall Leader and Several of His Followers Ousted Last Night

PARTY INTERESTS AT STAKE

Twenty New Members Were Elected to National Democratic Club

By Associated Press
New York, March 11.—The ousting of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and several of his followers, from membership in the National Democratic Club, created a stir in political circles to-day. The ostensible reason given during the heated debate of the matter at the club last night was that Murphy was behind in his dues.

Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer, president of the club, who has been leading the fight against Murphy, introduced a resolution calling for the elimination of the Tammany leader and the others, but this reason was not formally adopted as the point was raised and upheld by the presiding officer that under the rules the men were automatically dropped if they had not paid dues for two months.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, appeared against the ruling and tendered a check for the money due. When the check was refused he asked for a vote. Seventeen members of the board of governors were present and they decided against the appeal 10 to 7.

In the course of the debate, Smith said the men named would not submit to such humiliation.

May Be Restored
"The names were picked out for an obvious purpose," he said, "and we will have them restored to the rolls."

Judge O'Dwyer replied that he could give a very good reason for the club's action.

"They were dropped," he said, "for the best interests of the club and the Democratic party."

Besides Murphy, James E. Gaffney, Thomas F. Foley, Thomas H. Darlington and George W. Plunkitt were dropped. Twenty new members were elected to the club, including Governor Glynn, Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, and Thomas Tumulty, brother of the secretary to President Wilson.

WEST ENDERS GIVE ENDORSEMENT TO BIG CANDIDATES

Senator Penrose Receives Strong Support by the Up-town Republican Club

KUNKEL FOR HIGHEST BENCH

Brumbaugh, Houck and Kreider Endorsed in Ringing Resolutions Last Night

The West End Republican Club last night gave the Republican campaign a mighty boost at one of the largest meetings held by the organization in years and not only were arrangements made for a couple of notable gatherings, but ringing endorsements were given to Senator Boies Penrose for re-nomination and re-election to the United States Senate and a splendid tribute paid to President Judge George Kunkel as the best fitted man for the Supreme Court nomination.

The endorsements were given after an address by William M. Hargest, Deputy Attorney General, on the coming campaign in which he put forward the candidacy of Judge Kunkel. Resolutions were then presented by Karl Steward and C. G. Sellers, endorsing the Senator and the Judge and carried with cheers. Endorsements were also given to Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh for the nomination for Governor, to Secretary Henry Houck, for re-nomination for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and to Congressman Aaron S. Kreider for another term. The Congressman's work for the district was lauded in the resolutions and Dr. Brumbaugh's splendid qualifications were referred to by several speakers.

The club arranged for its sixth annual banquet on Tuesday, March 23, at which many prominent men will be speakers and named a committee to work for the success of the proposed Republican meeting here on April 17.

RIVERTON COMPANY FAILS TO DIG UP CAMP HILL STREETS

Chief of Police Fox on Lookout For Violations of Borough Ordinances

PRESIDENT RUSS IS SORRY

Superintendent Saunders to Proceed Notwithstanding Permits Are Refused

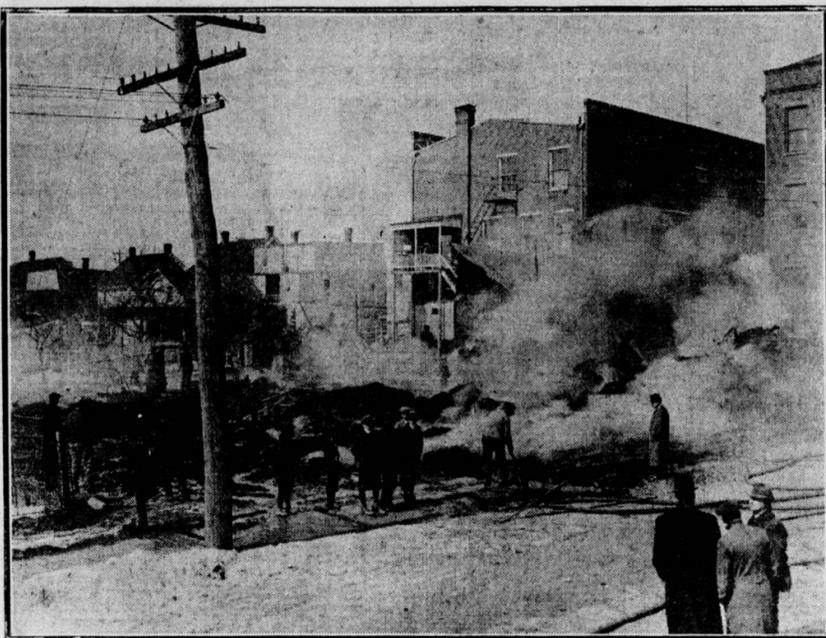

Special to The Telegraph
Camp Hill, Pa., March 11.—The Riverton Consolidated Water Company failed to make further attempts to open the streets of this borough today for the purpose of shutting off the water supply of residents of the town who have failed to pay the company the increased rates. Superintendent Charles Saunders stated this morning that because of the condition of the ground nothing would be attempted to-day. Residents of the borough, however, are inclined to believe that the company does not want to face the suits of trespass and charges of violating borough ordinances which would result if the streets are opened without permission.

Chief of Police Charles E. Fox had a watchful eye in all parts of the borough to-day and said he was ready to arrest the first water company employee who would sink a pick into the streets for the purpose of digging a ditch which would permit the water to be turned off.

Wolfe Refuses Permit

American Buildings Destroyed by Flames During Attack Today

By Associated Press
Peking, March 11.—Brigands to-day sacked and burned the city of Lao Ho-Kow, killed Dr. T. Froyland, a Norwegian missionary, and wounded several other foreigners, including the Rev. O. M. Sama, another Norwegian.

A force of 500 brigands obtained entrance to the city by means of treachery from within. They immediately plied torch and sword around. They burned down the Asiatic Petroleum and the Singer buildings, and looted the British and American Tobacco Company's premises.

Afterward they proceeded to the arsenal, where they secured 700 rifles, several field guns and much ammunition.

Two thousand coolies were impressed by the brigands to carry off their loot.

Lao Ho-Kow, which is a river port on the Han Kiang, is an important mission station in the province of He-Peh.

Three missionary societies have representatives there. One of them is the Norwegian Lutheran China Mission Association, with headquarters in Norway, which had a staff of three men, two of them with their wives, and three other women. Dr. T. Froyland, who was killed by the brigands, and the Rev. O. M. Sama, who was wounded, represented this society.

Another society is the China Inland Mission, whose headquarters are in London, England, and which has a staff in Lao Ho-Kow of one missionary and his wife, and three other women.

The third society is also British—"Christians in the East," which has a staff in Lao Ho-Kow of two missionaries and their wives.

ADVERTISING DOES NOT INCREASE SALES COST, SAYS MAHIN

Celebrated Expert Talks Today at Noon-day Luncheon of Chamber of Commerce

That advertising not only does not increase the cost of sales, but on the other hand, renders more efficient the sales force and increases the business and profits of any firm properly employing it, was the substance of a remarkably forceful, entertaining and instructive talk delivered at the second noon-day luncheon of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce to-day by John Lee Mahin, of Chicago, one of the most celebrated advertising men in the country.

Mr. Mahin came here as the personal guest of Charles F. Watt, head of the Elliott-Fisher Typewriter Company, and upon his earnest solicitation. His speech was heard by considerably more than a hundred of the city's most prominent business men, including the sales forces and publicity managers of many of the large industries of Harrisburg and Steelton. His talk made a distinct impression and he was tendered a vote of thanks and an informal reception at its close.

Mr. Mahin laid particular stress on the value of local advertising. During the course of his remarks he said: "I do not know your situation in Harrisburg, but I am ready to stand by the assertion that each family reached by one of your daily newspapers I can buy twenty-four pages of reading matter for five cents. That nickel, so spent, I believe would be equal in service to twenty calls by any salesman, and I would like to hire the man who can make twenty calls for the expenditure of so small a sum."

Prosperity and Salesmanship
Mr. Mahin said he believed that salesmanship is the greatest constructive force in the country to-day and that upon the shoulders of the sales people who realize that salesmanship and service go hand in hand, who are able to create legitimate markets and widen the scope of selling, depends to a large extent the future of the nation.

Miss Marie Dressler was born in Camden in 1869. She is, therefore, 45 years old.

Traded Old Blind Horse For Chickens Negroes Tell Judge

Trio of Harrisburg Colored Men Later Confess That They Nabbed the Pullets Near Campbelltown

Special to The Telegraph
Lebanon, Pa., March 11.—William Lebon and John Green, and Robert Calloway, a trio of Harrisburg colored men, who were arrested in this city last week with a wagonload of chickens, at a hearing before Alderman Siegrist confessed to having stolen the fowls. The men all along persisted in the story that they were on a begging expedition to gather funds for artificial limbs for John Green, who lost his limbs several years ago in an accident. They said that they had traded an old blind horse for the chickens.

The State Police, who made the arrest, were entirely without any evidence against the men, as the owners of the chickens could not be located, but at the hearing the questioning was so skillful and sharp that the prisoners finally admitted that they had secured the birds at a farm near Campbelltown, and they volunteered to go before the court and confess their guilt. They will be sentenced next Monday.

The Public Is Quick to Learn

A traveling man, discussing a certain brand name made by a rival of his concern, said: "It is really remarkable, but it is a fact that nine people out of ten who go into a store and pick up a piece of this ware ask if it is such and such."

The name he mentioned was that of his own concern — one that has been made known by advertising for 100 years.

The advertising of his concern's ware has been backed up with unusual merit.

The ware is as good as it is well known.

Yet others are making ware which is probably as meritorious — but which the public is chary about buying. Purchasers have to be convinced of its merits.

Advertising has made the other ware the standard of its kind — the public has come to think of the trademark in connection with the name.

The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, wants to help general advertisers to use newspaper advertising to better advantage. Correspondence is solicited.
