GROUND BROKEN FOR STEEL CO. PLANT

Laying Out Yards and Railroad Tracks to Take Place of West Side Homes

Ground was broken early this morning in preparation for the big improvements of the Pennsylvania Steel Company.

Armed with picks and shovels a big force of men was put to work in the West Side, digging the pits in which will be built the solid concrete foundations for the big yard cranes which will operate in the section now occupied by residences.

At the same time that work was started on the excavations, another force of men began to grade the way and lay ties for the railroad that will be built through the big section to be wiped out.

The tracks to be laid in this section will occupy space to within five feet of the eastern side of Main street. A number of officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company were here yesterday looking over the ground.

The siding running from the Pennsylvania Railroad to the John Hofer Flouring Mills will have to be removed to make room for the new improvements. It is understood that a new place for handling the shipments from this mill will be made.

While preparations are being made here to rush the improvements as fast as possible, just as soon as word to go ahead is received from the Philadelphia office, large quantities of machinery are busy at Staten Island, N. Y., dismantling the mills of the Milliken Steel Company, in preparation to removing them here.

"SHOOTS UP" BIRTHDAY PARTY

At the hour when the gaiety was at its height during a birthday celebration at 918 South Second street, last night, twelve Austrians together with several women and small children had a narrow escape from being shot when Juro Dokic, an Austrian, of 814 South Second street, entered the house, drew a revolver from his hip pocket and began shooting.

Protest Against Highway Laws Made by Threshermen

Special to The Telegraph. Carlisle, Pa., March 12.—More than fifty threshermen from Cumberland county district met at the courthouse here last evening, with the object of protesting against Pennsylvania highway laws lately passed, restricting the rights of the threshermen as compared with other vehicles and loads on the State roads.

James Winters spoke of the necessity of farmers standing up for their rights with regard to threshing outfits on the roads. Ira L. Hart, of Shepherdstown, presided, and addresses were made by George De Chant, D. M. Good and others and a permanent organization formed, to be known as the Cumberland County Local of the State Threshermen and Farmers' Protective Association, with P. M. Spangler, Plainfield, president; Norris Moore, South Middleton, vice-president; Ira Harts, Shepherdstown, secretary, and H. M. Hoover, Monroe, treasurer.

TWO MILL REDUCTION IN TAXES PLANNED

Council Has Saved Money and New Budget System Shows Good Condition

A reduction of the borough tax rate from 8 mills to 6 1/2 or 6 mills is contemplated by the Middletown Borough Council.

At Monday evening's meeting of Council the borough's best interest was approved. This form of making the appropriations for all municipal needs Chairman C. E. Erisman, of the finance committee, at the suggestion of the Borough Solicitor.

By making all appropriations in this new form and by "careful housekeeping" Councilman Erisman believes that he can save enough money to cut about two mills from the tax rate. More than $600 now remains in the borough treasury and the town doesn't owe a bill. In addition to this the town's share of the license money is due from the county, and will be paid in a few weeks, and a large sum is still due on the 1913 tax duplicate. Whether the rate has been fixed for the present year, it is likely that the next year's millage will be reduced.

At Monday night's meeting of Council the ordinance creating a park board was passed on second reading. The appropriation of $400 to the present park commission was pared to $150 on the suggestion of Councilman Albright. The money that has been requested is needed to build a porch around the pavilion at the borough park. This improvement has been demanded by many patrons of the park for the past year. Councilman Erisman championed the appropriation.

STOVE PLANT ENLARGED

A number of improvements have been made to the plant of the Wincroft Iron Works and new machinery added to enable the company to handle a wider line of commercial work. In the past this company has done very little commercial work, but is now equipped to do refinishing in nickle, black nickle, brass and bronze plating and electrical work.

Old Guard Term Ably Defended

There is strong and increasing resentment among what is known as the "Old Guard" of Pennsylvania against the "reorganization" faction, led by Palmer. Here is a sample protest from a correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger.

I deplore factionalism within the Democratic Party of Pennsylvania. Please permit a kindly proffered and apparently deliberate and offensive insult to the supporters of "Old Guard," applied to the gubernatorial nomination, when it is known that the party is worthy of the name of "Old Guard" and see it, whom I use the word "reactionary," applied to Mr. Ryan and his associates. It is sufficient answer to such calumny; an answer strong and conclusive, because backed by the life and record of Ryan the man.

The "Old Guard" is a highly honorable name. In the days of Israel it was the "saving remnant." At Waterloo it would die, but not to surrender. In Pennsylvania it kept the faith through years of derision. The "Old Guard" will have its call before me. Its marshal is a brave man. Its immediate supporters are Theodore F. Jenkens, Joseph Veale, Otto Wolf, William Eisenbrenner, George W. Moore, Joseph P. McCullen and others.—Joseph P. McCullen.

Michael J. Ryan felt honored by their call. He is known by his friends. An "Old Guard" known by his friends.

Teachers to Meet in High School Tonight

The final meeting in a series of general teachers' meetings will be held in the high school auditorium this evening. The principal speaker will be Professor George P. Dunkleberger, supervising principal of the Swatara Township schools. L. W. Troth, 350 North Eighteenth street, Philadelphia, wants to know if there is any reason why the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company should not post in its cars a notice to passengers stating the transfer points, which a free transfer is issued.

Hickson, Oliver Building, Pittsburgh, tells the commission that the local trains on the Fort Wayne route of the Pennsylvania Railroad are not provided with drinking water.

Thomson, of Lehigh, complains that the tolls assessed by the McKeesport and Duquesne Bridge Company for transportation over the bridge connecting McKeesport at Riverton street, over the Monongahela, are excessive.

William P. Brenz, who operates quarries at Foxcroft, claims $574.71 from the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company for discrimination and loss of his contracts under freight rates.

State Money Here.—The published statement of the deposits of the State shows that outside of the active depositories, Harrisburg banking institutions have $265,000 of the $7,336,459.93 in the general fund. The active depositories here have these sums: Harrisburg Trust Company, $243,530.06 and Commonwealth Trust Company $339,292.70. The remainder of the general fund deposits in this city are as follows: Central Trust, $50,000; Citizens, $10,000; Commercial, $35,000; Dauphin Deposit, $35,000; First National, $60,000; Harrisburg National, $50,000; Merchants' National, $50,000; Security, $10,000; Sixth Street, $15,000; Union Trust, $50,000. Foust a Speaker.—Dairy and Pood Commissioner James Foust was the chief speaker at the banquet of the Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware Wholesale Grocers' Association in Philadelphia last night. He spoke on the development of the business and of the part played by the middleman in handling foods.

State Loses.—The State lost the first round in a fight being made for $75,000 collateral inheritance tax by the Auditor General's Department in Match Chunk, Mrs. J. R. Marshall, who died recently in New York, was a resident of Lehigh Gap and the Auditor General's Department secured William Wilhelm, of Pottsville, to press its claim for the tax on the ground that she was a resident of this State and not of New York. The battle will be renewed.

Argument Changed.—From the office of the Public Service Commission it is announced that the date for the argument in the matter of the complaint against the Philadelphia and Reading and Pennsylvania Railroads to the cost of transporting anthracite coal from the mines to Philadelphia, which was fixed for March 30 has been postponed until April 13. The postponement is necessary for the reason that some of the attorneys interested in the case have made prior engagements to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the 30th.

Went to South.—Governor Tener and Secretary Galter left this afternoon for North Carolina, where they will spend the week end.
