YORK HAVEN PLANS FOR OLD HOME WEEK

First House Erected. There 100 Years Ago and Big Celebration Is Expected

Special to The Telegraph
York Haven, Pa., March 13.—Citizens of York Haven are planning for a big celebration of Old Home Week the coming year. The borough was incorporated in 1835 and the first house erected here is one hundred years old. The fire companies and the citizens of the community will join in the project, and already it has met with considerable success. Many former residents have signified their intentions of coming home. The dates have not been selected.

Perry County Organizes Supervisors' Association

Special to The Telegraph
New Bloomfield, Pa., March 13.—Yesterday the township supervisors of Perry county met here and the Perry county supervisors' organization was formed. O. H. INJURED BY FALL

Special to The Telegraph
Waynesboro, Pa., March 13.—D. Albert Gilbert met with a serious misadventure yesterday at his home. He was standing on a ladder shoveling snow off a porch roof when the ladder slipped from under him. He fell on his head and a large gash was cut across his scalp, rendering him unconscious.

TRAIN LOADS GO TO HEAR EVANGELIST

More Than 1,500 Persons Journey From Sunbury to Mt. Carmel For Services

Special to The Telegraph
Sunbury, Pa., March 13.—Two special trains over the Reading took more than 1,500 persons to Mount Carmel last night, where they listened to a sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Stough in his tabernacle there. The huge place was crowded and the home people had to leave the place to make room for the visitors, which was done with good grace. Each of the visitors carried a carnation, which was furnished by Charles E. Rossiter, a Sunbury florist. As the huge crowd passed by the evangelist in his pulpit they threw their flowers at and literally covered him with them.

Sunbury is indeed in the grasp of the Stough spell, nearly everybody says. Three of his fire companies have barred alcoholic liquor from their houses and more are expected to follow, and the churches have added more than 2,000 new names to their rolls since he left.

Eleven Violent Deaths in Northumberland County

Special to The Telegraph
Sunbury, Pa., March 13.—Eleven persons met death in a violent manner in Northumberland county last month, according to the report of Dr. Frederick P. Steck, the county coroner, which was filed in the county commissioners' office to-day. But one inquest was held. It was that of Frank Forasie, who was beaten over the head with a poker on February 20 and died as a result of his injuries. Joseph Garancofsky is being held in jail at Sunbury on charge of murder. Both lived at Shamokin.

BUSINESS IMPROVEMENTS

Dallastown Fire Company Will Bring 200 Members

Special to The Telegraph
Dallastown, Pa., March 13.—At a meeting of the Rescue Fire Company, No. 1, last night it was decided to attend the State Firemen's convention at Harrisburg in October, and the invitation extended by the Capital City Firemen was accepted. At the same time they set 200 uniformed men as a mark for their line-up, with the Dallastown Band of twenty-eight pieces. The mark is not a high one as they have considerably more than 200 members and during the past two months almost fifty have been added, principally young men. President Heister says they are working to take the prize for the largest number of uniformed men in line of any company outside of York.

USE "TIZ" IF FEET ACHE, BURN, PUFF UP

Can't beat "TIZ" for sore, tired, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

"Sure I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."
You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.
As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.
Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—Advertisement.

MAN THOUGHT DEAD FOUND ALIVE IN OHIO

Body of Man Killed at West Fairview Was Identified as Charles M. Kling

Special to The Telegraph
Bittersville, Pa., March 13.—With a body interred in the local cemetery under a headstone bearing his name, and his wife weeping woe, the search for the last three years, Charles M. Kling, a cigarmaker, has returned to life. While the family has been mourning his supposed death in a railroad accident in July, 1911, he has been living at Akron, Ohio, where he is employed by the Goodrich Rubber Company.
Mr. Kling, who during the last three years had been regarding his husband as dead, while rejoicing over the news of his being alive, has been affected greatly by the shock. News that the missing man was alive was first learned when Jacob Kling, a brother, of 740 East Clarke alley, York, five weeks ago received a letter from him.
Charles M. Kling left home, as he had done several times before, to go on the road as a traveling cigarmaker, the latter part of June, 1911. Early in July an unknown man was killed in the railroad yards at West Fairview, and buried at Camp Hill. There was a similarity between the published description of this man and Mr. Kling, which attracted the attention of his family.
A number of photographs, including one of Mr. Kling, were shown people at Enola who had seen the man before the accident which caused his death. They all picked the Kling photograph as the man killed. Relying more on this and the description of the unknown man, than they did on their view of the mutilated body, which was unrecognizable, the sons, Monroe and Samuel C. Kling, identified the body as that of their father. The body more than two years ago, was brought here by the sons. Services were held and interment made by a Red Lion undertaker.

Quarryman's Narrow Escape From Death in 35-Foot Fall

Special to The Telegraph
Lebanon, Pa., March 13.—Charles Miller, a quarry operator of near Myerstown, experienced a miraculous escape from death at a stone quarry. While examining a bucket used to lift stone from the quarry to the crusher, he was struck by the wire rope and knocked into the quarry, a distance of thirty-five feet. He was picked up in a paralyzed condition, and it was thought his back was broken, but when he was resuscitated it was found that not even a bone had been broken in the fall, although he suffered much from bruises and shock.

THERMO! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If tongue is coated, breath bad, stomach sour, don't hesitate!

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful to-day often saves a sick child to-morrow.
If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.
Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled.—Advertisement.
