

RUN-DOWN WOMEN

Find Health in a Simple Tonic

How many women do you know who are perfectly well, strong and healthy as a woman should be? They may not be sick enough to lie in bed—but they are run-down, thin, nervous, tired and demoralized.

Women are so active nowadays, and so much is expected of them, that they constantly overdo and suffer from headache, backache, nervousness and kindred ills.

Such women need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Mrs. Walter Price, Biloxi, Miss., says: "I was in a run-down condition for months. I had taken several medicines but they seemed to do me no good. Finally Vinol was recommended, and from the first bottle I began to improve until I am strong and well as ever."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

George A. Gorman, Drugist, Harrisburg, Pa., says: "I have sold Vinol in Steelton by T. Prowell.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Grandma's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur darkens so naturally that nobody can tell.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advertisement.

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends stomach misery, Indigestion in 5 minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

DAUPHIN COUNTY OFFICERS TO MEET

Arrangements Made For Convention of the Supervisors the Last Week in the Month

WORK IS WELL ORGANIZED State Officials Taking Advantage of the Township Road Bureau Act of 1913

With permanent organizations formed in more than half of the counties of the State, the Bureau of Township Highways of the State Highway Department is perfecting the formation of associations of township supervisors in Dauphin and the remaining counties with view to having each county in the State organized by the end of the second week in April.

These organizations are being formed under the provisions of the legislative acts under which the Bureau of Township Highways is working, that of July 22, 1913, and that of May 8, 1913, the latter of which authorizes the formation in each county of an association of officials in charge of the construction and maintenance of public roads.

Some few of the counties have such associations of township supervisors already in existence and in these counties the meetings are being held this year for the first time under the provisions of the act establishing the Bureau of Township Highways. Such a meeting will be held in Butler at the Courthouse at 10 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, March 25, by the Butler County Association of Supervisors. During that week in March seven other meetings have been called by the Bureau of Township Highways for county organization. On Friday, March 27, the Bedford county organization will meet in the Courthouse at Harrisburg at 10 o'clock in the morning. The meeting will be addressed by Joseph W. Hunter, First Deputy State Highway Commissioner in charge of the Bureau of Township Highways, who will outline the procedure necessary to perfect the formation of boards of supervisors. On Tuesday, March 24, the Bedford county organization will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Courthouse at Bedford at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be addressed by Mr. Hunter. On the same day the York county organization will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Courthouse at York at 10 o'clock in the morning. On Wednesday, March 25, the York county organization will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Courthouse at York at 10 o'clock in the morning. On Thursday, March 26, the Huntingdon county organization will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Courthouse at Huntingdon at 10 o'clock in the morning. On the same day Mr. Hunter will attend the meeting to be held at Danville when the Montour county supervisors will meet in the Courthouse at 10 o'clock in the morning.

C. W. Hardt, assistant engineer of the State Highway Department in charge of the district of which Dauphin county is a part, will attend the meeting, as will also C. P. Walter, county superintendent of Dauphin county.

New York City Plans Novel Bureau For the Unemployed

City Formulating Plans to Solve Problems of Getting Man and Job Together

New York, March 14.—Plans are under way for the formation of a City Labor Bureau in New York, for the purpose of solving the problem of unemployment. This bureau will be conducted under the auspices of the administration officials of the city. It is planned that the employment agencies of the city be linked up with a central employment exchange, and if this plan is approved, the bureau will unofficially advise the Commissioner of Licenses to establish and supervise the central exchange. This official will communicate twice daily with all the employment agencies co-operating with the bureau. Tomorrow the commissioner will publish a letter, which will set forth the number of vacancies, the character of employment offered, the number of the signs which the vacancies exist, and the number and class of men seeking work. These letters will be printed in the expeditious manner in which stock quotations are published every afternoon.

The bureau will be located in the city hall, and will be open to every police station and to every neighborhood settlement, and will also be available to applicants at the central exchange. The proposed central exchange is not expected to interfere with the operation of employment agencies, as they will be able to collect their regular fee just the same. A recent report on employment exchange showed that only 40 per cent of the applicants for work sent to employers secured positions. This has been accepted as indicating that the right man and the job did not come together and with a sort of clearing house for vacancies and for the unemployed, better results are anticipated.

If the plans which are now being formulated are carried out, New York will have its first "Aerial Ferry" in operation about the first of July. The machines which will fly between the Battery and Coney Island will be constructed by the city, and will be operated by the city. The general construction will be the flying boat type. It is planned to maintain a special service in September while the American Cup regatta is in progress. For night flying the "boats" will carry a powerful searchlight, while the landing floats will be coated with a luminous paint. It is expected that this ferry service will prove a boon to many of the pleasure seekers who flock to the crowded street car and elevated services which exist during the summer months between New York and Coney Island. As is the rule of the several aerial ferry companies in the United States, it is expected that the New York company will also charge an extra fare for all passengers weighing over two hundred pounds.

According to the annual report issued by New York city's police commissioner, homicides were by far more frequent last year in the first and third districts than in any other part of the city. The districts include the lower section of the city and the section between Fourteenth and Forty-second streets. The same two districts also led in the number of assault and robbery complaints. The fourth district which takes in the upper West Side of the city, reported the minimum number of homicides for Manhattan in the number of homicides in the borough of Manhattan totaled 254, of this number the first district had 52 and the third district 53. The total for the entire city for the year was 480 resulting in 205 arrests. In the department's report on the burglary cases cleared up the most. The total number of burglaries reported was 3,183, of which 1,225 were cleared up. The property stolen amounted in value to $1,668,347 and the amount recovered $950,015. During 1913 there were arrested and summoned 181,533 persons of whom 46,424 were acquitted, 129,942 convicted, with 5,217 cases still pending. The West Forty-seventh street police station, near the heart of the "Tenderloin" led in the number of arrests and summonses for the year, the total being 8,418. Of the 3,324 persons reported missing, 786 were not accounted for, of which 209 were girls or women. The report shows that 4,444 were arrested for felonious assault, 66 for the reason of being "big game." Fourteen hundred and forty-four children, foundlings or lost children for whom parents never called were turned over to the Children's Society.

"Nighthawks" are not the only birds for which the lights of New York's great white way have an attraction. The recent cold spell caused many species of birds to take refuge on the electric signs along Broadway, the great number of bulbs making the air appreciably warmer. The birds were discovered by the employees of the electric light companies who were sent to investigate the reason for the dimness of many of the signs. They found that the birds had clustered all about the lights. On many bulbs birds clustered peacefully, and in some cases the nesting of the signs was made almost illegible. Most of the birds which sought to warm themselves on the bulbs were sparrows and pigeons. A porter from one of the leading Broadway hotels discovered four sea gulls nesting in the sign above the hotel. The electric light men estimate that the heat from the bulbs though small in amount has been sufficient to save the lives of thousands of birds.

The lives of 41,000 babies have been saved in New York city in the last seven years by co-operating public and private welfare agencies according to a report issued recently by the New York Milk Commission. During that time 950,000 babies have been born in New York city. If the infant death rate during the five years previous to the beginning of this work had prevailed there would have been 150,000 infant deaths instead of 109,000 which actually occurred. On the other hand, if New York's low death rate of 1913, one hundred and two per 1,000 births, had prevailed throughout the seven year period only 86,000 babies would have died of the 950,000 born. To prove that this record is not due to favorable weather conditions or other general accidental causes the committee publishes comparative figures showing that while New York had fewer deaths last year than in 1912, the previous low record year, the number of deaths increased in Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Buffalo, New Orleans and Toledo.

It is safe to say that "Old Smiles," a rhinoceros, which is now the guest of the city of New York, will never get another chance to look on the whiskey when it is amber. All the animals in the Central Park Zoo are being treated to the white ribbon hereafter. The head keeper promised this several days ago after the thrilling encounter with the rhino, in which he came as near losing his life as he ever did in his venturesome career. "Old Smiles" took cold and the keeper surrendered her to forget her forty years of temperance and swallow a pint or two of whiskey. The following morning when the keeper entered her cage and tried to remove a couple of blankets with which he had swathed her as an extra precaution against the cold, "Old Smiles" made a drive at him and sent him sprawling around the enclosure at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The keeper yelled for help. Another keeper heard him and came on the run. By dint of shouting and causing a diversion, the second keeper induced the rhino to stop in her mad rush. The interruption gave the frightened keeper time enough to climb a ladder and reach a beam across the top of the cage.

of considerable reputation, are said to make this screeching comedy, written by Everett Shinn, a laugh ringer of the first water. The humor is a laugh-ling hit in all the leading theaters along the Keith circuit and will undoubtedly stir the risibles of amusement seekers in Harrisburg this week. Another splendid feature of this offering will be the appearance of "Buster" the dog with the human brain. "Buster" is declared to be the most wonderful dog appearing before the public and he comes here almost direct from an engagement at the New York Palace Theatre, where he scored a pronounced success. Comedy pieces are spirit-ed and original, will be offered by a trio known as Kline, Abe and Nicholson. The trio, who are said to offer a bright sight of songs, patter and comedy surprises called "Traveling." Prince Lee Non Kim, the much discussed Chinese baritone, appears on this offering also; and other meritorious features will be offered by the Peers, comedy thrillers, and Hal and Frances, mixed duo, in a fifty song, dance and patter skit.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL Santa Mari, the Grecian beauty, famed for her charms and grace, will offer the classic beauty of the past in the feature attraction of the new bill that will be inaugurated for the first half of the season at the Colonial. On the same offering Albert, who is said to be offering Albert, will offer a rattling comedy turn sprinkled with good singing and dancing and Joe, who is said to be offering Albert, will offer a rattling comedy skit with musical interpolations.—Advertisement.
